If you had a dozen pairs of extra pants you would have none too many. Therefore, go where your money will do double duty. Big sale at A. M. Williams & Co.'s tomorrow.

The Stadelman Commission Company have sold their business to the Columbia Commission Company, with the exception of the coal and ice department. The business will still be conducted at the corner of Third and Washington streets.

When it's men's fine trousers worth from $3.50 to $6 for $2.95, we say it's time to investigate. A. M. Williams & Co. will give you that chance tomorrow. Get there early!

Fred W. Harris was brought here last night from Hood River by Deputy Constable W. A. Isenberg, under arrest for selling whiskey to Indians. He was arraigned this morning before United States Commissioner T. A. Hudson and bound over to the United States grand jury in the sum of $200.

A mass meeting has been called for tonight at the court house to nominate a candidate for mayor, city treasurer and one water commissioner at large, and to determine where meetings shall be held for nominating councilmen and water commissioners for the several wards. The meeting is fixed for 8:30 o'clock.

If you lived in Zululand you could afford to neglect this opportunity, but every civilized man within reach of A. M. Williams & Co.'s store should attend tomorrow. Men's trousers at great reductions are the attraction.

G. W. Fender, of company L, U. S. volunteers, returned to The Dalles yesterday after an absence of two years in the Philippine islands. Mr. Fender, like many other volunteers, believes that the islands are immensely rich in natural resources and only needs American enterprise to make them one of the richest heritages of the world.

The M. E. church people on Saturday last sent off the money to make the last payment on the mortgage on their church. When the papers come back the church will have a bee and burn the mortgage. Rev. Frank Spaulding, during his pastorate, has raised $743 towards paying for the building. Besides this, a furnace has been placed under the church that cost about $140.—Hood River Glacier.

The mass meeting of citizens, which is to be held tonight, will nominate a candidate for mayor, treasurer and water commissioner at large. There have been several names mentioned in connection with the mayoralty. The friends of W. A. Johnston, who has served several terms in the city council, will present his name for that office this evening. The name of G. J. Farley has also been mentioned. C. J. Crandall for treasurer and J. P. McInerney for water commissioner at large are spoken of as candidates.

The bulk of the strawberry crop has been shipped, says the Glacier. Shipments for the season reached high water mark Monday, June 10th, when about 3,000 crates went out. The season has been favorable for the crop, and probably finer berries, taken as a whole, were never sent from Hood River. There has been some complaint of rust and blight in places, but where the patches were well cared for the crop generally is all right. The output will be greater than last year. Prices have kept up well, and at this date berries are worth $1.75 to $1.90 in Hood River. The largest picking in one day, except in the Davidson Fruit Co.'s big patches, was made by G. D. Efinger, last Monday, when he brought in 150 crates.

At St. Mary's Academy.

The yearly exercises at St. Mary's Academy have always been of a high order and very entertaining; but in our opinion the program of last evening far outshone all previous ones. The arrangement of the numbers gave a pleasing result never before attained. We desire to congratulate the management upon the delightful manner in which the program was rendered throughout.

The first number, entitled "Parade Review," was a piano selection played in a charming manner by nine young ladies. A patriotic selection, "The Banner of the Sea," was well sung by the boys of St. Joseph's school. The boys displayed much vigor in this song. St. Mary's orchestra rendered the third number in a more than pleasing style and finish, after which the crowning feature of the evening came in "The Magic Bell," a fairy drama in three acts. The young ladies who took part in this number did credit to themselves and their instructors. The whole action of the play went with a snap and energy seldom excelled by the professional people we have seen.

Between each act a splendid musical number was given. The number on the program entitled "Our Darling's Drill" was just what the name implied, a drill and song by the little girls, which was one of the best features of the evening. The Cecilia Club, which is entirely composed of boys, rendered "The Young Aristocrat" in a very creditable manner. Their work was doubly appreciated in view of the fact that these boys have only been studying in this branch during the past term of school.

After a selection by six young ladies on pianos, the laughable sketch "Caught in His Own Trap" was well given by five boys. A good moral was pointed out in this number.

A sacred tableau by the young ladies and little girls brought the entertainment to a close. That most impressive of all songs, "O Sweetly Solemn Thought," was the theme, the solo being well sung by Miss Genevieve Fish.

Remember the Game.

The original Boston Bloomers, ladies' champion base ball club, who are making an extensive tour of this country, traveling in their own special private car, will play the most novel, interesting and exciting game of ball with The Dalles team that has ever been witnessed in this town. This club of lady ball players has caused thousands to applaud and marvel at their wonderful playing. The Boston Bloomer Girls are without doubt the greatest club of lady base ball players ever organized, and are in no way connected with any other so-called Bloomer club. The Boston Bloomers, under the management of W. P. Needham, has been successful for the past six seasons touring the northern and western countries. Their remarkable success during the short time they have been in this part of the country is only a continuation of the former success they have met with everywhere they have visited. Ladies can attend this game without any fear of being offended, as nothing will be said or done that would shock the most fastidious.

The game will take place at 2:30 p. m. at the old fair grounds and will be enclosed with a large canvas fence, including plenty of seats. Admission to grounds, adults, 50 cents; children 25 cents.

Hood River Strawberry Carnival.

About 150 persons went from here to Hood River last night to attend the strawberry carnival, leaving at 8:30 and returning at about 4 o'clock this morning. The trip would have been very much more pleasant to a large majority of the excursionists if about a score of The Dalles young bloods had stayed at home. The main unpleasant feature of the excursion was the presence of a number of young fellows who went aboard half shot and got completely paralyzed on Hood River whiskey. It has just come to this that if any future excursions of a similar nature are to be made enjoyable for self-respecting people, these young hoodlums, who are well-known and could easily be named, must be left at home.

The Hood River people did all in their power to make the visit of the excursionists a pleasant one. The strawberry carnival, which gave occasion to the excursion, was gotten up by the Christian Endeavor of the Congregational church and was arranged to last two nights. The proceeds were to be devoted to the improvements of the grounds surrounding the church edifice. The receipts of the first night netted about $50, and those of last night were probably more.

Hood River misses and matrons served ice cream and Hood River strawberries under the shade of oak trees that would make Longfellow's Village Blacksmith's chestnut tree ashamed of itself.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the long-established and practiced custom, and at the request of citizens, a mass meeting of citizens of Dalles City will be held in the county court house in Dalles City at 8:30 o'clock p. m., June 14, 1901, for the purpose of nominating a mayor, treasurer, a water commissioner at large of Dalles City, and for the purpose of arranging for meetings in the different wards to nominate councilmen and water commissioners the night following.
