NO MAN CAN BE EXECUTED

Condition of Affairs Alleged to Exist in Washington — Tacoma Attorneys Declare That in Repealing the Rands Law the Legislature Has Made a Bad Matter Worse.

TACOMA, June 18.—There are leading attorneys of Tacoma who declare that the state is now in a worse condition in the matter of its capital punishment law than it was before the special session of the legislature. They go to the extreme of declaring that no criminal who is guilty of murder during the three months following June 12th, or until the new capital punishment law enacted by the special session becomes operative, can be hanged, and incidentally they assert it will be safe to murder during that period, so far as the state statutes are able to inflict punishment.

In brief, their contention is:

1. The Rands law passed by the regular session of the legislature repealing the capital punishment law.
2. The constitution of the state provides that law shall go into effect ninety days after the date of adjournment of the session at which the law was passed.
3. June 12th, the date of the repeal of the Rands law by the special session, was ninety days after the date of the adjournment of the regular session, March 14, which passed the law.
4. The Rands law became effective at midnight June 11th, replacing the old capital punishment law, and it becoming the capital punishment law, of the state until the afternoon of June 12th, when it was repealed by the special session and a new law passed.
5. The new law provides that the old capital punishment law, which had been eliminated from the statutes of Washington a few hours before by the repealing force of the Rands law, should be the capital punishment law of the state until the new law became operative ninety days after the date of the adjournment of the special session.
6. Criminals cannot be executed under the old law, because it does not exist, and as this is the only recourse mentioned for punishment of murderers and for the murders which may be committed during the three months following the adjournment of the special session, according to the saving clause in the new law, murderers will have immunity from punishment, unless they meet their end at the hands of mob violence.

Black Horn is Dying.

PENDLETON, Or., June 18.—Black Horn is dying from the effects of two wounds received during a chase Saturday night after Chief of Indian Police Brisbow had attempted to arrest him and John Something, and they had attacked Brisbow with murderous intent with knife and pistol.

The two made their escape to the mountains, leaving Brisbow lying unconscious with his head battered into a jelly. Joe Parr and Jack, another policeman, fired upon the desperadoes under orders from Brisbow, the chief. At the time it was thought none of the shots took effect, both Indians getting away on cayuses into the mountains.

The report came yesterday that Black Horn had been shot while resisting arrest by the pursuing band. The fact is Black Horn was found in a canyon wounded unto death, with a bullet hole in his right side and another in the thigh. He is not expected to live through the day.

Partisans of Black Horn and Something, the Yakims, now rush to their defense, and allege that Brisbow was not conducting himself as an officer should; that the shooting was due to his indiscretion in engaging the two Indians by arrogance and insults. If Black Horn dies, the serious question of murder will be raised, and the chief may face a court charge.

DEATH OF PINGREE

Ex-Governor of Michigan Passed Away Last Night—His Son Was at His Bedside.

LONDON, June 18.—Ex-Governor Hazen S. Pingree of Michigan, died here tonight at 11:35. His son was the only one present at the time. The attending doctors left Mr. Pingree's bedside at about 11:15, promising to return shortly. H. S. Pingree, Jr., who had been watching at his father's side for four days, and who has not removed his clothes during the time, noticed a sudden change in his father's condition. He had hardly reached the patient's bedside when his father died peacefully without warning and without speaking a word.

Young Pingree has wired to his mother and his uncle in the United States not to come to London. The body of the late Mr. Pingree will be embalmed and taken to his home.

The diagnosis made by London specialists of the cancerous affection of the intestine, from which Mr. Pingree suffered, left no hope for the patient's recovery. Toward the end of his illness, Mr. Pingree suffered great pain, and weakened rapidly. He was unable to retain nourishment. His mind, however, remained fairly clear. During the whole of Tuesday he was practically kept alive by injections of strychnine and drugs administered to lessen his pain.

Texans Engaged in a Man Hunt.

CHICAGO, June 18.—A special to the Tribune from San Antonio, Tex., says: Five hundred citizens of Southwest Texas are engaged in a man hunt, a party of Mexican outlaws being the quarry. Already there has been a fight between Texans and Mexicans near Belmont, in which one Mexican was shot to death, one was hanged and one wounded. The one was hanged in an effort to make him divulge the whereabouts of the leaders of the band of Mexican outlaws.

The man hunt is the result of three murders within the last few days. The victims were Sheriff Morris, of Kansas county; Sheriff Robert M. Glover, of Gonzales county, and Tony Schnabel, a wealthy ranchman. Large posers of determined men headed by the sheriffs of Travis, Hays, Bee, Falls, Bastrop, Kerr, Kendall, Starr, Atascosa and a number of other counties are out hunting for the murderers. In addition to these numerous sheriffs' posers a number of citizens' posers have been organized and are scouring the country for the fugitives. Mayor Emmett White, of Austin, is also in the field with a large posse. Gov. Sayers today directed a detachment of state rangers to join in the pursuit, and altogether there are over 500 men out searching for the Mexican murderers.

Crew Ill of Scurvy: Scorpions on Deck.

NEW YORK, June 18.—A dispatch from Philadelphia to the Times says that the trans-Atlantic steamship Crown Point, from Philadelphia to London, fell in with the German bark Planet, the decks of which were swarming with scorpions, the captain and crew of which were sick with scurvy, the first officer dead and the second officer too ill to take part in the navigation of the vessel. This was May 14th, in latitude 40 35, longitude 13 30. Second Officer Bryant, of the Crown Point, was put in charge of the stricken bark, and worked her into Queenstown Harbor May 28th. Captain Buskenneth, of the Planet, was stricken May 12th with scurvy. He was unconscious when the Crown Point fell in with the bark. He did not regain consciousness, and died before the bark reached Queenstown. The second officer died 24th.

Patient Out of Danger.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Mrs. Johnston and Rixey held a consultation at the White House this forenoon, at the conclusion of which Dr. Johnston pronounced Mrs. McKinley out of danger and convalescing. He said there may, of course, be a recurrence of her trouble, but for the present the danger is past.

Dr. Johnston said that the blood affection had disappeared entirely. Dr. Rixey, although evidently encouraged by the improvement in Mrs. McKinley's condition, was somewhat more conservative in his statement than Dr. Johnston. He thought it scarcely safe to say that she is entirely out of danger, as her condition is satisfactory, her improvement being steady.

It is expected that the President and Mrs. McKinley will be able to leave for Canton by July 1st.
