Dyspeptics cannot be long lived because to live requires nourishment Food is not nourishing until it is digested. A disordered stomach cannot digest food, it must have assistance. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests all kinds of food without aid from the stomach, allowing it to rest and regain its natural functions. Its elements are exactly the same as the natural digestive fluids and it simply can't help but do you good. Clarke & Falk's P. O. Pharmacy.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Out in the Antelope country they are dipping horses for the mange.

Attorney John Gavin has been appointed a notary public by Governor Geer.

Wanted—Cherry-pickers at the Columbia Commission Co., corner Third and Washington.

Judge G. C. Blakeley and wife, of this city, were registered at the Astor House, New York, on the 18th.

Three carloads of hogs in transit from Island City to Portland, were fed at the Company's stock yards this morning.

William Staats, of Dufur, is hauling baled timothy hay of last year's crop to the Wasco warehouse, for which he gets $11 a ton.

The local Odd Fellows had work in the second degree last night, and the lodge work was followed by a generous reception of strawberries and cream.

Yakima Indians brought across the river this morning 350 head of canyuses, which were taken to the O. R. & N. stock yards and shipped to the Linnton cannery.

Pease & Mays will put on sale Saturday their line of celebrated Geisha waists. The prices made are astonishingly low and will be a grand opportunity to secure some of the finest goods on the market.

The Dalles Scouring Mills have for weeks been running to their full capacity night and day. They have already handled in the neighborhood of 2,000,000 pounds of wool, counting what is on hand not yet scoured.

Bill Guyton and another man from Sherman county shipped to Portland on the Dalles City this morning fifty-two head of range horses, which they expect to dispose of in that market. They were a mixed lot of all sorts.

The mid-summer party to be given tomorrow evening at the M. E. church will be an enjoyable affair. A program is being arranged, besides a game and refreshments, in which all can share. Watch for program tomorrow.

In some parts of the Willamette valley strawberries are selling at eight boxes for a quarter. The lowest price yet reached in The Dalles is three boxes for a quarter, and there is an impression that that is about as low as they will get.

All those who have contributed to the Good Intent "wheel" will receive a complimentary ticket to the mid-summer party Friday evening. During the evening the amount raised by the "wheel" will be announced. General admission 25 cents.

A basket social was given Friday, June 14th, in school district No. 64, one of the Mosier districts, for the benefit of the school library. The proceeds amounted to $12.50, a very liberal contribution in the light of a total enrollment of only ten pupils.

The monthly drill of the fire department will take place this evening. Business men will bear in mind that the board of fire delegates request that all members of the department in their employ be excused at 6:30 p. m., as the drill will take place promptly at 7.

Married, at 8:30 o'clock last evening, June 19th, at the residence of S. B. Adams, Rev. Robert Warner officiating, Mr. Ashford Ferguson and Miss Effie L. Adams, both of this city. The bridegroom is the son of A. P. Ferguson, and the bride the granddaughter of S. B. Adams.

A copy of the Topeka, Kansas, State Journal, of July 14th, came to Recorder Gates this morning under the address of "City Clerk," with the announcement written in pencil on the margin that Sells & Grey's circus, one of the largest in the world, will be in The Dalles soon. Copies similarly marked came to the sheriff and the Umatilla House.

Owners of summer cottages on the north beach will be pleased to learn that the beach from North Head to Leabitter's Point has been declared by the Washington legislature to be a public highway, to remain such for all time. The attempts of private parties to get control of the beach have been frustrated, but it took some hard work to do it.

Articles of incorporation were filed today in the office of the county clerk of the Hood River Commercial Company. The business of the corporation is to conduct a general merchandise store; to buy and sell cattle, hogs, sheep, poultry and other stock, and to conduct a meat market. The principal office is at Hood River; the capital stock is $6,000, and the incorporators are Donald Ross, Edward Mayes and Joseph Mayes.

Mayor E. B. Dufur yesterday sold to Ed Williams his house and several lots in Dufur's Grand View Addition, reserving to himself a lot and a half of the vacant property east of Rev. D. V. Poling's residence. Mr. Dufur will leave here in the near future to take up his residence near his mining interests in Jackson county, or, possibly, he may conclude to open a law office in Portland and move his family there.

The teachers of this section seem to appreciate the opportunity which is offered them at Newport this summer, and a large number are planning to go. No doubt this is the chance of a life time to spend a summer at the sea coast so pleasantly and profitably at so little cost. In mentioning the summer school in Tuesday's issue through a mistake we published the regular course as the lecture course. The best instructors and speakers have been engaged for the lecture course, which in itself will be worth the price of the entire trip.

A dispatch from Shaniko announces the sale at that place yesterday of 870,000 pounds of wool belonging to the Baldwin Sheep & Land Company at 12 1/2 cents a pound. Sealed bids were taken and the highest bidder was E. W. Brigham, representing the firm of Whitman, Farnsworth & Thayer of Boston. A number of other clips, aggregating 490,000 pounds, were sold at prices ranging from 11 1/2 to 12 1/2 cents a pound. The above is taken from the Oregonian, but the buyers who returned to The Dalles this morning from Shaniko decline to confirm any 12 1/2 cent sale.

Articles of incorporation of the McIntyre Lumber Company were filed today in the office of the county clerk. The business of the corporation is to buy and sell logs, timber and timber lands, and deal in logs and general log products and carry on a general logging business; to operate either as lessees or owners or otherwise sawmills and planer mills, and carry on a general sawmilling business. The incorporators are D. D. McIntyre, Clyde T. Bonney and Howell Metcalf. The principal office of the corporation is at Hood River, and the capital stock is $25,000, in shares of $100 each.

There will be 684,000,000 bushels of wheat in the crop of 1901, according to the figures of the statistician of the New York Produce Exchange, based upon the acreage and the condition as set forth by the department of agriculture. This, of course, will break all the records if it comes. The largest wheat crop ever harvested thus far was that of 1898, which was 675,000,000 bushels, and none has come near that previously since 1891, when the yield was 613,000,000 bushels. The 684,000,000 crop for 1901 would please the country exceedingly. Europe's yield is apparently going to be considerably short of the earlier expectations, and there will be a market on the other side of the Atlantic for all the wheat which the United States will have to spare.

Deputy Sheriff E. B. Wood this noon arrested a man giving his name as William Anderson, of Portland, for selling whiskey to Indians. The arrest was made in the old stone building near the southeast corner of First and Washington. Mr. Wood suspected what was going on, and, following Anderson and two Indians into the vacant building, arrested the former just as he had handed a bottle of whiskey to one of the Indians known as Scar-Faced Charley of Celilo. Anderson and Charley were both taken to the lock-up, the Indian as a witness. Later "Anderson" said his true name was Henry Green, and as such pleaded guilty to the charge against him and was bound over by U. S. Commissioner T. A. Hudson to the grand jury in the sum of $200.

George Swarthout, a lad of 15 years, was brought here today on the No. 2 passenger train, suffering from an injury received this morning from a passing freight train near Rowena. According to the lad's own story he was driven from his home at La Camas, Wash., by the cruelty of his father. He had been to Hood River and was on his way to The Dalles, when he became tired and sleepy and foolishly lay down on the track to take a nap. A passing freight train struck him in the back, but fortunately did not kill him. On his arrival here he was examined by the company's physician, Dr. Logan, who pronounced the injuries as not necessarily fatal. The boy was then placed in The Dalles Hospital, where his injuries are being attended to by Drs. Ferguson, at the expense of the county.

The O. R. & N. and Columbia Southern railroad companies put into effect on June 8th a joint tariff from The Dalles to Columbia Southern points, whereby the merchants of The Dalles are enabled to ship goods of all kinds from The Dalles to Columbia Southern points and compete with Portland for that trade. Heretofore the rates from The Dalles to Columbia Southern points have been the same as from Portland to these points; but under the new tariff the difference between the rates from The Dalles to Columbia Southern points and Portland is the local tariff from Portland to The Dalles. For instance, heretofore the first class rate from Portland to Columbia Southern points was sixty cents, and the same rate applied from The Dalles to these points. Under the new tariff, where the rate from Portland to Columbia Southern points is sixty cents, the rate from The Dalles on the same class of goods will be 35 cents, being a difference of the local rate from Portland to The Dalles. These concessions are very gratifying to The Dalles merchants, who considered that they were unjustly discriminated against under the old rates. They were made as far as the O. R. & N. Co. is concerned, under the expectation that in future The Dalles merchants would make their eastern shipments by way of the O. R. & N. to Portland.
