Despeptics cannot be long lived because to live requires nourishment. Food is not nourishing until it is digested. A disordered stomach cannot digest food, it must have assistance. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests all kinds of food without aid from the stomach, allowing it to rest and regain its natural functions. Its elements are exactly the same as the natural digestive fluids and it simply can't help but do you good. Clarke & Falk's P. O. Pharmacy.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Mid-summer party tonight at the M. E. church.

Frank Kramer, of this city, was taken ill yesterday of typhoid fever.

Tomorrow, remember, is the last day of A. M. Williams & Co.'s pants sale.

Senator John H. Mitchell will deliver the oration at Demascus, Oregon, on the coming Fourth.

THE CHRONICLE is indebted to the courtesy of C. L. Phillips for a delicious mess of brook trout.

Reinke Jonstra, a subject of the queen of Holland, today declared her intention to become an American citizen.

A 3-year-old child in a family near Carson, Wash., has the varioloid and the family has been quarantined.

A thousand head of sheep belonging to John Little, of Antelope, were taken on the Regulator this morning to Cook's Landing.

A return game between the Hood River and The Dalles baseball nines will be played on the old fair grounds next Sunday at 4 p. m.

The Boston Bloomers played the Hood River nine on Wednesday. The girls played a poor game, and the game stood 7 to 6 in favor of Hood River.

The Moro Observer says that President Lytle, of the Columbia Southern Railway, will start south in a few days, going over surveys made in the interest of the California extension from Skaniko.

Have you a blue serge coat and vest? And do you need a pair of trousers to make the suit complete? If so, call at A. M. Williams & Co.'s and make your purchase. Only $2.95 for $3.50, $4 and $5 blue serge pants tomorrow.

The strawberry crop in the lower valley is about harvested, says the Glacier. In the upper valley shipping has just fairly commenced, and the berries are large and fine. Prices remain good, ranging from $1 to $1.90 in Hood River.

After tomorrow that bargain table at A. M. Williams & Co.'s pants department will cease to be; the pants now selling at $1.50 and $2.95 will go back to their original prices. Take advantage of these bargains while you may.

According to the Oregonian of yesterday (Thursday) the first Oregon new potatoes of the season made their appearance in the Portland market the day before. They were about as large as hen's eggs and sold for 5 cents a pound. We have had Oregon new potatoes in The Dalles market for fully three weeks, and they are now retailing at 3 cents a pound.

The Shaniko Leader says Fen Batty, of the Columbia Southern hotel, had a rather strange guest on the morning of Wednesday week—the day of the snow storm at that place. Upon opening the front door of the hotel, Mr. Batty found a porcupine sitting shivering on the steps and looking as if he wanted accommodations within. Fen is always glad to accommodate a stranger, but he drew the line at the porcupine.

Dad Butts yesterday closed a deal with Walter Hildgen for the purchase of the ranch of Charles Davis, of Kingsley. The farm consists of 447 acres, 300 of which are in cultivation with a growing crop of 150 acres of fall wheat. The price is $5,000. Such a farm in many other less favored places would bring twice five thousand dollars. With a reasonably good price for wheat the growing crop ought to, and probably will, pay half of the purchase price.

Wm. McGrath, who shot Jake Prahl at Greenwood Monday week, was arrested Saturday by Sheriff Tucker, of Yakima county, and taken to North Yakima. McGrath claims that Prahl shot first, hitting the object behind which he had dodged. As there are two witnesses on each side and their stories conflict, the Goldendale Sentinel says it will not be surprised if McGrath is discharged. Prahl, the complaining witness, was taken to Yakima, Monday, overland.

A tramp, who gives his name as John Miller was arrested this afternoon by Deputy Sheriff E. B. Wood in the act of giving a quart bottle of whiskey to an Indian named George from the Yakima reservation. He was immediately taken before the U. S. commissioner and pleaded not guilty, when his examination was set for 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The prisoner arrived here last night on a freight train. He came from La Grande and claims to hail from Scranton, Penn.

Superintendent J. B. Crossen justly complains that many of our "best citizens" persistently ignore the regulations of the water commissioners regarding the hours fixed for irrigating. In point of fact it is the "best citizens" almost alone that persistently ignore the rules. The poor devil of a nobody, when not influenced by a sense of duty, is usually afraid he will be caught and treated without mercy. Mr. Crossen has been lenient to a fault with the transgressors but the time has come when, as a matter of protection to the city, he must insist that the rules be obeyed. There is abundance of water for everybody and all purposes, but it must not be wantonly wasted, as it now is in many cases.

Tommy, a Yakima brave, who came over here yesterday with a band of horses for the Linton cannery, imbibed too much of the white man's fire water last night, and was lodged in the city jail by Officer Paulsen, charged with being drunk and disorderly. Recorder Gates fined him $5 this morning, which the Indian paid. Another Yakima siwash, who goes by the name of Wilbur, passed through a similar experience, but had nothing to pay and is serving out his fine in the city jail.

Mr. and Mrs. Carnaby, of the American market, having no children of their own, recently imported a bright little boy from their former home in Old England. Today, as if to verify the suspicion that good fortune never comes single handed, five children came to their place whose ages ranged from a toddling baby of 15 months to a lusty boy of 4 years. They were strangers in the city and had lost their way. To make matters worse only the eldest boy could speak a little broken English, and from him it was learned that the five little ones were of one family; that they were Hollanders, not long over from Deutschland, and that their family name was Donna. They were lost and could neither tell what part of the city their parents were stopping in nor give such information as would enable others to point them the way home. They are really a nice little flock of handsome, well-bred young ones, and when the CHRONICLE man was at the market this afternoon the youngsters were having free access to the best the market afforded, while the baby was taking a nap on a little improvised bed in the office. They are somebody's darlings, and before this appears in print will doubtless find an owner.

Auction Sale Tonight.

Fisher's collection of oil paintings, now on exhibition in the rooms formerly occupied by W. E. Garretson, the jeweler, will be offered the citizens of The Dalles at auction sale, beginning tonight at 8 o'clock.

These paintings are acknowledged superior in artistic merit to any exhibit ever made north of San Francisco. The collection embraces many local subjects of Columbia river scenery, Mt. Hood, views of the Yosemite valley, Indian reservation scenes, Sierra Nevada mountain views, and moonlight and sunset effects, etc.

This is an opportunity that may never be offered again and will doubtless be taken advantage of by those desirous of beautifying their homes.

If anything ails your hair, go and see Frazer; he's the headquarters for all hair remedies. Remember that he makes a specialty of these goods.

Indian Homesteads Not Taxable.

Attorney J. L. Henderson, of Hood River, yesterday sent to the county clerk for record in his office Jack Coon's Indian homestead certificate for 123 acres of land, near Hood River, that is taxed to the Indian on the roll of 1900. Mr. Henderson, as well as United States Indian Inspector Conser, some time ago advised Coon not to pay the tax, holding that under the provisions of the Indian homestead act of July 4, 1884, the land was not subject to taxation.

THE CHRONICLE consulted the officials of the United States land office at this place, who searched the records of the office and found, as they supposed, that a patent had been issued to Coon that on the face of the mere records seemed to differ in no respects from the regular patent issued to white settlers. THE CHRONICLE, acting on this information, took the ground that the land in question must be subject to taxation and that the advice of Messrs. Henderson and Conser was not well taken.

A letter just received from Mr. Henderson and a reference to the wording of the homestead certificate (for it is not a patent, as the records of the land office would seem to indicate) make it perfectly clear that THE CHRONICLE was mistaken, and not "the Hood River attorney." The certificate reads, in part, as follows:

"Now know ye that the United States of America in consideration of the premises, and in accordance with the provisions of the act of congress of July 4, 1884, hereby declares that it does and will hold the land above described (the land in question) for the period of twenty-five years in trust for the use and benefit of the said Jack Coon, or in case of his decease, of his widow or heirs, according to the laws of the state where such land is located, and at the expiration of said period the United States will convey the same by patent to the said Jack Coon or his widow or heirs aforesaid, in fee, discharged of said trust, and free of all charge or incumbrance whatsoever."

If the United States is to convey the land in question by patent to Jack Coon at the end of twenty-five years from date of the issuance of the homestead certificate "free of all charge or incumbrance whatsoever," there seems no conceivable way by which a tax claim against the land can be enforced. THE CHRONICLE therefore unites with "the Hood River attorney" and advises Jack Coon to keep his money.

Does It Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectation, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world, and sold by Clarke & Falk. Get Green's prize almanac.
