The Fossil Journal says: Hon. R. E. Miener returned this week to Mitchell from Klondike, much richer in experience, than when he went up there a few months ago.

The weekly crop bulletin says the Hood River apple crop will lack a good deal of being a full one, as many young apples have dropped from the trees during the last few weeks.

Yesterday's Chronicle inadvertently omitted to mention that Miss Catherine Sargent accompanied Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Sargent and Miss Rachel Morgan, on their trip to the Pan-American exposition and Toronto.

Classical work will be given on the screen at the Baldwin tonight at the entertainment by the Woodmen of the World. The life of Christ will be given in pictures on screen, lifelike in reproduction, and splendid music may be enjoyed. Admission 15 cents.

While the birth of a girl is not mourned over in France, as in certain Oriental countries, still it certainly does not call forth the triumphant joy caused by the advent of a boy. The tiny outfit has been tied up with blue ribbons in expectation of the hoped-for boy; should a girl be born these are changed for pink.—July Ladies' Home Journal.

Representative Nesbitt, of Klickitat county, while in Tacoma a short time ago got a promise from Nelson Bennett, a prominent railroad man of that place, to come to Klickitat county in the near future with some capitalists to look over the railroad situation in that county, with special reference to the building of a railroad from Goldendale to Lyle.

Jamestown, Virginia, where the English gained their first foothold in the New World in 1607, was burned in 1676. Today nobody lives there. Little remains to mark the site except a crumbling church tower, dilapidated grave-stones, and remnants of the foundations of a few houses.—July Ladies' Home Journal.

Grant Mays, having concluded a horse round-up through northern Crook and southern Wasco has gone to Portland to make arrangements for shipping a train load to Kansas City. Ben Allen and Taylor Hill of Prineville, will help make up the train, which will probably start from Shaniko about the 5th of July.

Girl Wanted.
A thoroughly competent girl to do general housework; good cook. The best of wages paid. Call at this office.

Mr. Levin is arranging for the presentation of "My Partner," shortly after the Fourth. This is in the nature of a farewell, as he will leave for Chicago early in August, where he expects to join the Hopkin Stock Company in that city. "My Partner," by Bartley Campbell, is different in style from any other play Mr. Levin has produced, being a romantic comedy drama of life under the shadows of Mt. Shasta, during the gold excitement of '49. The cast will be announced in a few days.

Mr. D. J. Cooper has just received a letter from his daughter, Miss Ruth, who is teaching school at Genoa, Nebraska, announcing that she has been appointed by the government to a position as teacher in the government schools at Manila, P. I., at a salary of a thousand dollars a year. She expects to soon sail for her new field of labor, the government paying her passage and her salary commencing from the time she sets sail. Miss Cooper has a host of Dalles friends who will rejoice in her good fortune.

The city jail has four runaway lads who were captured yesterday afternoon by Marshal Driver and who are kept here until their relations are heard from with instructions what to do with them. The boys say they are from Vancouver and that their names are Joseph M. Dugan, Henry J. Doherty, Robert E. Anderson and James Levan. Their ages are from 15 to 19. The marshal found them camped beneath some willows about a mile west of town and not far from the bank of the Columbia. They had some blankets and were cooking a morsel of rice in an old lard pail; these being the only food and utensils in their possession. The lads claimed they were on their way to the harvest fields of Eastern Oregon and were trying to make an honest living.

The following "testimonial" appears in the Detroit paper. Sirs: We fed our baby on modified cow's milk the first six months, but the milkman did not understand how to modify his cows properly, and in consequence the child lost flesh until he weighed but one pound. I now procure some of your celebrated Infant's Food. This the baby managed to trade off to the dog for some dog biscuit, which he ate, and is now well and hearty. The dog died, but dogs are cheap. We are grateful to you, in fact. You may use my name if you like. John Jones.

The photo-stereoscopic entertainment given by Mr. Hood Camp, W. O. W., last evening was an excellent production and another will be given tonight at the Baldwin. While the one last evening was free, tonight the program will be entirely different, dealing with music and art, in pictures of humor and pathos and of much finer order, and 15 cents admission will be charged. These entertainments are put on by Head Camp, Woodman of the World, and have been seen in city and hamlet. In different places, Portland included, these entertainments have been given as benefits to Sunday schools on second night stands and have been well attended. The program as to be given tonight was given in Taylor street M. E. church, Portland for ten consecutive nights. Admission 15 cents.

Miss Ann Smith, of Hood River, who is visiting with the family of Mr. John Marden, had a letter from home yesterday that gave an account of an appalling accident that one day towards the end of last week befell Mrs. Maggie Reid, who was teaching a term of school in the Mount Hood district, towards the upper end of Hood River valley. Mrs. Reid was returning home from school on horseback when from some cause she fell off and, one foot remaining fast in the stirrup, she was dragged a distance of two miles and a half before the horse was caught and her foot was released. Meanwhile the horse had fallen on her prostrate body three times. When released she was alive, but utterly unconscious, and still remained unconscious at last accounts. These are the meager particulars that have come to hand of a disaster that surely must have proved fatal before this. Mrs. Reid was well known in this city, where she grew up to young womanhood and went to school, as Maggie Roberts, daughter of R. G. Roberts, at one time lessee of the Wasco warehouse.

Martin Spealix, Tamwater Indian, had an experience last night that he would remember as long as he lived were it not that he was too full of alcohol to remember anything. Martin had come across the river from his home at the Indian village and after filling himself full alcohol, started back in his skill. It was late for that kind of exercise, probably 9 or half past nine o'clock, and as the skiff struck the foaming waters of Three Mile rapids the Indian rolled over the gunwale of his little craft into the seething current. Drunk as the Indian was he managed to hold on to the boat and in a short time to crawl back into it. Meanwhile Mr. Rorick of North Dalles, had seen the Indian fall into the river and without a moment's delay had jumped in his own skiff and pushed out toward him, only to find as Mr. Rorick neared the Indian in a much slower boat that the latter let his skiff drift with the current and eventually pulled for the south bank near the foot of Washington street where the Indian landed and was taken to the city jail and booked on a charge of drunkenness. This morning Recorder Gates fined him $5, which he paid. Spelix will be remembered as the Indian who did some ingenious carving of scenery at the booth of Adeox & Co. at the carnival of last year.

W. H. H. Dufur Warmly Indorsed.

EDITOR THE CHRONICLE:
Having seen in the columns of your paper the name of Hon. W. H. H. Dufur in connection with the office of the U. S. marshalship, when the time of the present incumbent expires, also having seen many complimentary articles in different papers throughout the state, of Mr. Dufur, permit me as a friend to add my mite with the many others in saying, "he is the proper man for the place, and no better selection could be made."
I have known W. H. H. Dufur for the last fifteen or twenty years, both in private and public life. In his business circle his word is his bond and when Harrison gives his word no one questions but what it will be kept. As in business so has it been in politics; and he has been the man to champion the cause of his friends, even to his own political detriment.

An honor to his family, an honor to the community in which he lives, an honor to the county from which he is a candidate, should the delegation from Oregon see fit to recommend him for the position of U. S. marshal, he will be an honor to the delegation from Oregon and the McKinley administration of which he has been an earnest and fearless supporter.

AN ADMIRER.

The whole island of New York was originally bought of the Indians for an equivalent of about twenty-five dollars. Today New York has a population of about 3,500,000, which is exceeded by only one other city—London. Its wealth is enormous; its annual expenditures are more than twice those of the Republic of Mexico, and almost one-third as much as those of the German empire with its population of 52,000,000. And it has become the financial center of the world.—July Ladies' Home Journal.

Hong will continue said business and will pay all debts contracted by and that are due from said firm, and collect all money due to said firm.
