WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Chataqua, Gladstone Park, July 3d to 13th. One fare for round trip, Regulator line steamers. j27-1wk If you celebrate at home buy your fire works at Menefee & Parkins. If you go abroad buy them before you go. j26 Senfert Bros. are canning their entire crop of cherries this year, instead of shipping them as they did in former years. Found—The Chronicle office has a pair of spectacles and a pair of ladies' kid gloves which the owners can have by paying for this notice. Between two and three hundred thousand pounds of wool changed hands yesterday and the day before at prices ranging from 11 to 12 cents. Fourth of July rates, Regulator line, any point between The Dalles and Cascade Locks, one fare for the round trip. There will be celebrations at Lytle, Hood River and Stevenson. Steamers will leave The Dalles at 7 a. m. and 3 p. m. j27-3d All are cordially invited to attend the basket dinner and special services to be held by the Free Methodistists July 4th, on Three Mile creek, at what is known as Mrs. L. Grove's. Leave least 10:30 a. m.; preaching at 11 a. m. and at 3 p. m. "I have raised grain for over twenty years," said a Five-Mile rancher to THE CHRONICLE today, "and I never in all that time, saw anything to equal the crop prospects of this year." And so say all of the ranchers. Married, yesterday evening, July 26th, at the office of Justice Timothy Brownhill, Mr. Brownhill officiating, D. M. Angus, of Yakima county, Wash., and Miss Grace Brune, daughter of the late Charles Brune of North Dalles. Fifteen Odd Fellows from Grass Valley, six or eight from The Dalles and some from other points left The Dalles this afternoon in two wagonettes for Dufur, where they will organize an encampment of Odd Fellows tonight. It will be an all night job. A few days ago one of the fish wheels of Senfert Bros. caught a 40-pound chinook salmon with the adipose fin missing. This, Mr. Frank Senfert says, is one of the 5000 young salmon, so marked, that were turned loose in the Clackamas river five years ago. It affords confirmation, if confirmation were needed, of the value of salmon hatcheries. A personal in today's Oregonian says: "Senator John H. Mitchell left suddenly on last evening's train for Europe, in response to a cablegram announcing the serious illness of his wife. He expects to return to Oregon at the earliest possible moment. He very much regretted being compelled to leave at this time, as he expected to be present when the river and harbors committee of the house reaches Oregon." William McGrath, who shot Jake Prahl June 10th, at a point in Yakima county some six or eight miles from Glenwood, was arrested and taken to North Yakima where he had a preliminary hearing before a local justice and was bound over to the superior court in the sum of $1000. McGrath's trial is set for the 15th of October. He introduced no evidence in his defense. Prahl and two other witnesses testified against him. THE CHRONICLE is in receipt of a handsomely illustrated booklet entitled, "Health and Pleasure Along the Line of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company." The book contains a number of views of picturesque mountain, river and ocean scenery, and it is all described in an accurate and pleasing style. Persons contemplating an outing this summer should have a copy of this souvenir, as it will enable you to decide where to spend your summer vacation. The book may be procured free from any agent of the O. R. & N. Co., or on receipt

Three of the four runaway boys who were arrested by Marshal Driver last Monday and confined in the city jail until their relatives could be heard from, were placed on the Dalles City this morning and shipped to their homes at Vancouver. Their names were Henry Doherty, Robert Anderson and Joseph Dugan. The fourth lad, whose name was James Lavan, is a homeless tramp. It was he that induced the other boys to leave their homes. The mother of the Dugan boy put up the transportation charges for taking the boys home.

Dad Butts recently sold to Fred Halfpap the house and four lots belonging to Mrs. Lusher, located west of the Union street school house, for $620. He also sold Mr. Halfpap's house and lot west of the old Lutheran church on Ninth street to Martin Weyman for $550. Besides these he sold to Mr. Eunker, of the Diamond Flouring mills, a small house and the lot adjoining Mr. Eunker's home on Alvord Avenue. This last property belonged to W. S. Barzee, of Wasco county. The consideration was $210. These were surely good bargains, all of them, but Dad says he has plenty more just such bargains.

Many of Joseph Jefferson's amusing sayings are quoted by James S. Metcalf in the account in the Ladies' Home Journal for July of a visit paid to the veteran actor in his winter quarters at Palm Beach, Florida. He uses a tricycle for the short journeys possible about that place. Once as he dismounted from it, he remarked: "My horse is like David Harum's; he'll stand without hitching. And he's better than a bicycle because he doesn't have to have anything to lean up against." On another occasion, when caught in a rainstorm and the wind made it difficult for one rain-coat to keep both the actor and his companion dry, Mr. Jefferson said, philosophically, not complainingly, "I don't mind being wet all over, because then you don't notice any one place. But this being wet in spots kind of calls your attention to them."

W. R. Brown, familiarly known as Sewer Brown, has had another row with his wife, in spite of the solemn promise he made last fall when he was in the clutches of the law for stabbing her with a knife. Brown is now working at Hood River, and a few days ago in response to his request his wife visited him. Her story is that he reproached her for not living with him and drawing a knife swore she must take her choice to come back and live with him or die. One of the children that had accompanied Mrs. Brown to Hood River ran between her parents and begged her father not to carry out his threat. Mrs. Brown fearing the worst, promised to agree to his request and they parted without any further trouble and Mrs. Brown returned home. Since her return she has laid the matter before District Attorney

Menefee and the probabilities are that before this appears in type a warrant will be issued for Brown's arrest and he will be compelled to give bonds for his future good behavior. Brown is a hard-working, industrious man and it is a thousand pities that he has not sense enough to leave severely alone a woman that he cannot live with in peace.

Wallace Wilson had an exciting time of it during the seven or eight days he was half proprietor of the New York restaurant. He was scarcely installed in the place when someone started a fire in a closet on the floor overhead. This was happily discovered before it had made much headway. Following this, and on the afternoon of the same day, another fire was started in an unoccupied bed-room which destroyed the bed clothes and ruined the furniture of the room. This, too, was happily discovered before it had got beyond control, but the chemicals used to put out the fire soaked through the ceiling of the restaurant and loosened a piece of the plaster. This was no sooner repaired and made ready for papering than some one opened a water faucet on the floor overhead which flooded the floor so that the water soaked through the ceiling again and loosened the new plaster, causing it to fall off and in the fall to carry some of the old plaster with it. This disaster was timed to a period bordering on the noon hour, when the restaurant was full of customers. Next day, at about the same hour, the flooding act was repeated and down came more plaster. Next day somebody carried off all the bed clothes in the rooms overhead, and then Wallace began to realize that something or somebody was on his trail and he concluded to quit. Mr. Wilson says he has not an idea who could have done the mischief or what motive should have prompted him or them in the premises.

Boston Wool Market.

The American Wool and Cotton Reporter of this date says: The wool market continues to improve slowly but surely. Prices cannot as yet be quoted actually higher, except in one or two isolated cases, where undue depression had previously existed. Prices are firmly held. In the lower grades it is easier to get asked prices than it was two weeks ago.

There is a better feeling all around, and wool merchants generally are talking more encouragingly and hopefully. In the goods market there is a substantial improvement. In the interior high prices continue to be paid for the new wools, and during the past week or ten days quite liberal purchases have been made in the territories and in Oregon by Eastern parties. Some of the new wools bought in Eastern Oregon will cost fully 45 cents clean.

Oregon Fruit at Buffalo.

"It is wonderful how Oregon apples keep," writes Commissioner Dorsch from the Buffalo exposition. "Some of them have been on the table for six weeks, being polished every day, and are yet firm, especially some Newtown pippins from Mr. E. L. Smith, and some Genet apples grown by Mr. William Ehrek, of Hood River, near the snow line, which undoubtedly will get the gold medal, as Professor Van Deman, the judge, told me they were the finest Genets he had ever seen, and he knows. Although our apple exhibit is small—only 100 plates, while such states as Illinois and New York have over 1000 each—it attracts more attention, and it is difficult to convince people that they are not out of wax, on account of their perfect shape and beautiful color and the high polish they take. Often to establish my point for truth I have to cut one to pieces and hand them around to eat, when they exclaim, 'Oh, such fine flavor,' etc. But we are used to that. Compliments have been showered on us so that our heads cannot swell any more.

"The strawberries we distributed and you ought to have heard the praise. I would hand one to a lady and she would take a bite, have her hubby take a bite, and divide the rest among the children. They almost fought to get just one berry, while those berries of Missouri and New York—measly/sour things—remained untouched. We have to stand guard with a club of course, and then every once in a while someone will make a grab for one.

Does it Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles. "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world, and sold by Clarke & Falk. Get Green's prize almanac.

Dyspeptics cannot be long lived because to live requires nourishment Food is not nourishing until it is digested. A disordered stomach cannot digest food, it must have assistance. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests all kinds of food without aid from the stomach, allowing it to rest and regain its natural functions. Its elements are exactly the same as the natural digestive fluids and it simply can't help but do you good. Clarke & Falk's P. O. Pharmacy.
