M. M. Morris and son, of Victor, brought to town yesterday 24 head of very fine fat hogs which they sold to the Columbia Packing Company.

E. Y. Judd, of Pendleton, started at 8 o'clock this morning from Hood River on an automobile bound for Clond Inn, expecting to make the trip of 27 miles in six hours.

At the Wasco warehouse Monday, 100,000 pounds of Prineville was sold on sealed bids at 11 1/2 cents per pound and 50,000 pounds of John Day wool was sold at private sale at 11 1/2 and 12 cents.

The White Collar line has leased for one year office accommodations in the Baldwin Opera House building.

The receipts from sundry fees at the county clerk's office during the month of June amounted to $251. During two days this morning, from 8 to 10 o'clock, seven instruments were placed on file, the receipts from which were $18.75.

The county commissioners court met this morning with Commissioners' Mans and Harriman in attendance, Judge Blakeley being absent on a trip out. The court will adjourn over tomorrow and may not meet again till next week.

Deputy Sheriff E. B. Wood returned from Portland whither he took two prisoners whom he and Special Officer Alisky arrested on a night train at this place, in response to a telephone message from the Portland chief of police. The men were accused of the larceny of $140.

At the annual conference of the United Brethren church which met at Hopewell, Or., on the 1st inst., the following ministerial appointments were made for Wasco county: Hood River, C. C. Schaffer; Tygh, H. L. Bell; The Dalles, L. Harter; Dufur, W. N. Hodgett; Hood River mission to be supplied.

The Regulator this morning brought from Portland a flock of 100 Angora goats which H. C. Martin recently bought in the Willamette valley to place on his ranch seven miles southeast of The Dalles. This purchase can hardly be called an experiment, as Mr. Martin has experimented with a few on his place already and is well satisfied with the result.

While Jake Binns was screwing the lid on a glass jar of preserves yesterday he was putting up for County Surveyor Coit, the jar broke and the glass cut a severe gash in his arm that required several stitches of a surgeon's needle to close up. To make matters worse the glass severed an artery and before the surgeon was reached Binns had lost a large quantity of blood.

Tommy and Johnny were playing patient and doctor. Johnny was the patient. He was supposed to be suffering from some deep seated and mysterious malady. Dr. Tommy felt his pulse, took his temperature by means of the kitchen thermometer, thumped his chest and noted his respiration. "What you need my dear sir," he said, "is to go and wash your feet. Five dollars, please." Chicago Record-Herald.

Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, of Fossil, while riding in the vicinity of Jennie's Peak, recently discovered a swarm of bees settled on the ground near the trail. Gathering them up in her apron, she transferred them to a flour sack and brought them home on horseback, a distance of twenty miles, and put them in a hive. At last accounts the bees were well settled and doing good work in their new quarters.—Fossil Journal.

John Fender, of this city, brought to THE CHRONICLE office this morning a head of lettuce that weighed over 2 1/2

PEASE & MAYS.

It was grown on his lot up near the garrison in white pine land that twenty years ago was not thought fit to produce anything. No degrees of productiveness of Wasco county soil any longer surprise any body in these parts.

Orin Dunbar, of Goldendale, passed through town today on his way home from St. Martin's Springs where he spent the past two weeks. When Mr. Dunbar went to the springs he was almost as helpless as a child, from inflammatory rheumatism.

The Kansas City Journal tells this story: "Frank Anderson was for many years a well known commercial traveler who made Galena. He was passionately fond of honey, and the proprietor of the Galena hotel, at which he always stopped, always had some on hand for him.

The Fossil Journal says President Lytle, of the Columbia Southern, and Vice-President W. H. Moore were in that town last week conferring with the business men of the place over the matter of building a branch line from a point on the Columbia Southern near Guthrie to the mouth of Thirty-Mile on the John Day, a distance of thirteen miles.

A live business was done across the river last week says the Albany Democrat, by a young girl, who undoubtedly has an accomplice, in the sale of silverware. This was the way she did it. Dressed rather poorly she told of having just arrived with her parents from the East, getting here without any money, and as it was necessary for them to have some to live on she wished to borrow a little on some silverware, which she had with her and offered for inspection. Her folks needed $6 badly and this would be returned in a few days as soon as they could hear from the East. Five different men are known to have given her the $6 and taken the silverware as security.

Will Inspect the Upper Columbia.

Representative Moody informs THE CHRONICLE, that although he was most anxious to have the congressional rivers and harbors committee visit the Upper Columbia at the time of their visit to Portland a much more satisfactory arrangement has been made and one that will give the committee all the time necessary to inspect all the river obstructions in which the people of the Inland Empire are especially interested.

The intention is, if possible, to make the whole trip from Lewiston to Celilo by boat and to have the Idaho delegation accompany the committee all of this distance. At Celilo a train will be in readiness to bring the committee on to The Dalles, where they will be entertained by the city. Here the committee will be met by their lady friends, who will be brought here by boat from Portland.

The steamer Baily Gatzert will leave The Dalles at 3:30 p. m. on July 4th making a through run without stops, arriving in Portland at 9 p. m., in time for the excursionists to view the fireworks. Music by the Columbia String Quintet.

The Geer-Plumber Note.

Under date of July 1st the following dispatch appears in the Pendleton East Oregonian, and is dated from Portland: Recent editorials in the East Oregonian relative to Governor Geer and the alleged $1000 note involving Plumber, ex sheriff of Polk county, have stirred up the story of the penitentiary deal and it is being discussed from one end of the state to the other.

While this note story gained considerable publicity last year, it practically died out until the East Oregonian asked a few pertinent queries about the matter. Within the past few weeks, however, the subject has again appeared and is being referred to among the country press.

Will the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union please attend the meeting Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the Congregational church.
