

Greatest of All

Every one in San Antonio, Texas, says that Arke's English Remedy is the greatest thing ever put up for coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, a cold, consumption, &c., and it is now being used all over the country.

years for all forms of throat and lung troubles, and have yet to come across a case where it failed. We have four little ones in our family, and nothing my wife nor I have ever lost sight of because of throat or breathing difficulties, and the children are now as strong as any. Arke's English Remedy is just as effective for grown-up people as for the young. It seems to go straight to the part where the trouble lies in the throat and bronchial tubes and lungs. It softens and loosens the irritated tissues, lessening the spasms and relaxes the nerves, invigorating the constitution and stops the coughing. My advice to parents is to always keep a bottle of this remedy. It will be a constant safeguard against sickness. —Signed,

PERSONAL MENTION.

Judge Bradshaw returned home today from a short trip to the Willamette Valley.

Dr. Marc P. Johnson, of Spokane, is spending a month in hospital work at The Dalles.

County Clerk Lake and Frank Conner of The Dalles City Hall are making a day-trip in the neighborhood of Columbia Landing.

L. H. Hickman, advance agent of the Seals & Caves circus, was in town yesterday making arrangements for the circus to show here Saturday week, the 20th instant, in the afternoon and evening.

F. C. Tyler, who went to St. Martin's sprang a little over a week ago after suffering a long siege of rheumatism, remained home on Saturday night & boat sufficiently recovered to go to work in Mr. Evans' carpenter shop this morning.

Colonel and Mrs. Nye, of Prineville spent last night in the Umatilla Hotel on their way home from Portland, where the Colonel, twenty-three days ago, underwent an operation for cataract in one of his eyes. The operation was fairly successful and the colonel goes home remarkably hearty for a man of his years.

What mystery the exploration of the fossil beds of the John Day valley this summer may solve is a question says the Astorian. Certainly it is that the result of these explorations will be awaited with interest by geologists, anthropologists and scientific men in general all over the world. Upon the pages of these fossil beds there is written history that has an important bearing upon many theories that now obtain relative to the earliest types of animals and the primitive man of Eastern Oregon. This fossil country this year to be opened and perused by no less eminent scientists than Dr. John C. Merriam, of the University of California, and Professor T. H. Knowlton, of the United States geological survey. Dr. Merriam arrived in Portland yesterday and left at once for The Dalles, where he expects to be joined by Professor Knowlton tomorrow, and from there proceed, without delay, for the John Day country. This will be Professor Knowlton's first trip to this section. Dr. Merriam has visited the John Day fossil beds before, and his interest in them is growing. While Professor Knowlton is especially interested in the leaves of fossil plants in which he is an enthusiast, Dr. Merriam will look for larger game. Dr. Merriam expects to find early forms of the horse and mastodon, deer, camel, elephant, cattle, bear and man. The exploration party will be in the John Day country about six weeks.
