WOOL PRICES.

The price of Indiana wool is just Chas Bradley. what it was in July, 1897, the price having fallen from 201 cents in Jan- Lee Blanton uary, 1900, to 201 cents in May of the present year. The same movement is shown in all wools .- Indianapolis News.

Exactly so, answers the Boston M J Finlayson. Commercial Bulletin. The price of Indiana wool is just where it was in July, 1897, when the enactment of John Kotler, the Dingley tariff saved the farmers win Methen of Indiana from the legislation so W M Murphy loved by the indianapolis News, Ed Naton, Incidentally it may be remarked that It H Palmer the price, 294 cents, received for GW Robertson. Indiana wool in 1899 is the highest Jos Raben ... on record.

The price secured for Indiana wool C P Saunders by the tariff advocated by Mr. Bryan Jas L. Smith and the News in the happy summer John Wickstrom ... of 1896 was 14) cents. As South Frank Wait American quarter-blood, shrinking less than Indiana, can now be landed Court of Wasco County, Oregon. in bond at 10 cents a pound, the adoption of the tariff policy of the News would mean that Indiana wool would be selling for just half the price it brings in Boston today.

Prices on wool are low as comand its allies.

still goes on. Weekly presents continue as last month, but before announcing presents to be given away August 3rd I desire to correct an error. The impression prevails that because I do not keep a poor brute standing at my door 16 hours a day to do 2 or 3 hours work that I do not deliver goods. The fact is I deliver goods in my line to more people every day than all other dealers in the same line combined, and any person who feels inclined to secure some of the bargains I offer can rest assured that the order will be attended to carefully and promptly delivered by some one of the numerous expressmen who pay a license for delivering goods in the city and deserve to be patronized.
