still goes on. Weekly presents continue as last month, but before announcing presents to be given away August 3rd I desire to correct an error. The impression prevails that because I do not keep a poor brute standing at my door 16 hours a day to do 2 or 3 hours work that I do not deliver goods. The fact is I deliver goods in my line to more people every day than all other dealers in the same line combined, and any person who teels inclined to secure some of the bargains I offer can rest assured that the order will be attended to carefully and promptly delivered by some one of the numerous expressmen who pay a license for delivering goods in the city and deserve to be patronized.
