PEASE & MAYS.

tioned by the noise of shuffling feet outside and by the striking of a match in front of the window. Supposing it was some occupant of the house seeking admission Mr. Williams called out: "What do you want?" when the match-striker, who was evidently there for no good, beat a hasty retreat. Mr. Williams jumped out of bed and without waiting for either pants or shoes, followed the intruder as far as Fourth street where the man disappeared in the alley back of Emile Schanno's residence. Not being able to go farther in his bare feet Mr. Williams returned to the house, donned his pants and shoes, and with his cane in hand, the only weapon of defense in the house, he started out to the place where the man had disappeared and secreting himself in the neighborhood waited his coming out of the alley. In a short time a man sneaked out and started east on Third street. Mr. Williams halted him, but instead of stopping the fellow took to his heels and, as Mr. Williams was gaining on him, he turned around hastily and fired off a pistol in the direction of his pursuer. The contest between a light cane and a six shooter was too unequal for further pursuit and Mr. Williams was obliged to let the fellow go his way. The would-be burglar wore dark clothes and a black slouch hat. He appeared to be in the neighborhood of six feet in height. His tracks this morning showed that he wore bicycle shoes with rubber soles that were new or nearly new, as indicated by the distinct checks they left in the dust. The shoes measured about number sevens.

Bryan and Aguinaldo.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 18.—In a statement for the press today, W. J. Bryan gives his version of the story that Aguinaldo promised him financial assistance in his campaign of a year ago. Mr. Bryan says that while he was in New York two Filipinos sent a request to confer with him. He declined to meet them and sent a friend to explain that he did not think it proper to hold a conference. The Filipinos said that Aguinaldo was willing to issue a proclamation promising to lay down arms in case of Mr. Bryan's election and also willing to contribute to the democratic campaign fund, but Mr. Bryan refused to consider each proposition and did not require them to furnish any evidence of their right to represent Aguinaldo.

city, is dead, is not true. The lady was here a few days ago visiting her brother Jake and according to his story she is now well and hearty.

On August 1st the name of the station on the Columbia Southern railroad now known as Guthrie, Oregon, 53 miles south of Biggs, Oregon, will be changed to Kent. The change is made at the request of the citizens of Kent.

Says the Eugene Register: An Eastern Oregon exchange hits the Salem Journal in a vital spot when it says: "The Salem Journal implores the politicians to give it something that will compel it to be honest. The Salem Journal is a political son-of-a-gun."

There is no loss without some small gain. Owing to the failure of the broom corn crop in Kansas the price has gone up to $125 a ton and it is expected it will reach $250. This will mean a small fortune for those who have the desired article in any considerable quantity.

The oldest specimen of paper money has turned up in China at the age of 534 years. Its face value is $167, and it purports to be redeemable in silver bullion. Its prospects of redemption vanished centuries ago. China had shun-plaster poplites as early as 140 B. C., but the old empire still pins its faith to real money.

The Crook County Journal wants it to be distinctly understood that no county in the state can equal it when it comes to crippling judges. A few days ago Judge Bradshaw was crippled out there; then Judge Calk was disabled, and about the time Judge Wills broke his arm Judge Sumner, of Prineville, laid down and died.

The small boy is happy for tomorrow is show day. Sells & Gray's United Shows will give two performances, afternoon and evening, preceded by a parade in the morning, and the city will doubtless be packed with people, for the show has been widely advertised. No bigger or better tent show will be seen in The Dalles this season.

Messrs. E. B. and Douglas Dufur returned last night from a three days' fishing trip on the head waters of Fifteen-Mile. They report having had a splendid time, but found trout scarce and hard to catch. However the lightness of the catch did not prevent these gentlemen from generously remembering THE CHRONICLE people with a couple of delicious messes.

The other day the Oregonian said: "Dr. I. D. Driver, the theologian, who bested Ingersol in a debate some years ago, is seriously ill at his home near Eugene." The Eugene Guard replies by saying: "Dr. Driver never had a debate with Col. Ingersol, and he is not sick at his home, for we saw him looking splendidly yesterday. He has just completed haying, driving a team daily."

A most righteous complaint is lodged at this office of certain boys in the neighborhood of Ward & Robertson's stable who makes a practice of killing birds with sling shots. The birds in question are not simply harmless, they are most beneficial and THE CHRONICLE here and now announces that if the practice is not stopped the names of the offenders will be published, and if there is any law to punish them in Oregon that law will be invoked.

A physician, who has recently returned from Persia, says that the natives still believe that human tears are a remedy for certain chronic diseases. At every funeral the bottling of mourners' tears is one of the chief features of the ceremony. Each of the mourners is presented with a sponge with which to mop his face and eyes, and after the burial these sponges are presented to the priest who squeezes the tears into bottles, which he keeps.

A special meeting of the city council will convene tonight to take counsel of one another on the matter of sewers. The meeting is at the call of Mayor Farley, who has some very decided opinions about the legality, under the present city charter, of the council's appropriating money out of the general fund for the repairing of old sewers. At the request of the mayor a number of the city lawyers have promised to be present to assist the council with advice as to what can be legally done in the matter of old sewers or building new ones.

The executive committee of the street fair and carnival spent a good part of the day in the work of soliciting subscriptions, meeting with reasonably fair success with the large majority of the business men of the city. Only one or two absolutely refused to contribute a cent and these were men who, as it happened, made every bean they own in the world right here, and who now refuse to contribute a cent to the upbuilding or progress of the town where they made all they own. Happily citizens of this class are so few as to excite as well as justify these remarks.

Ex-County Judge John C. Sumner died at his home in Prineville, Wednesday, July 17, of heart failure. Judge Sumner was born in Indiana, September 1, 1833. When a boy he moved with his parents to Arkansas. In 1853 he emigrated to Oregon, settling in Lane county. He was a volunteer in the Rogue River Indian war, and was wounded in the battle of Hungry Hill. In 1856 he moved to Linn county and was elected a member of the legislature from that county in 1876. In 1888 he was appointed Judge of Crook county and was elected to that office in 1890 serving until 1894. He leaves a widow and four children.

Mr. Wayne Williams, who occupies the Thornbury residence at the foot of Second street had an interesting experience with a would-be burglar at about 2 o'clock this morning. Mr. Williams sleeps at present in the summer kitchen and last night was its only occupant. He was awakened at the hour men-

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Tomorrow's the last day of shirt waist sale at A. M. Williams & Co's.

Special 10 cent sale on sheet music tomorrow at Menefee & Parkins'.

All shirt waists are greatly reduced in price at A. M. Williams & Co.'s this week.

Shaniko gossips have it that Fen Batty, of the Columbia Southern hotel, is going to put his neck into the matrimonial noose.

Wanted—A competent girl to do general housework for family of three in the country; wages $25 per month. Inquire at Dalles Hospital. jy19-1wk

A recent traveler on the road from Shaniko to The Dalles tells of a swarm of grasshoppers or locusts on the grade south of the Deschutes, that darkened the sun.

Mr. T. A. Hudson, of the firm of Hudson & Brownhill, will move to Portland about the first of August and open a branch house in the real estate and insurance business.

The Eugene Register sarcastically says: "If all the rest of the republican newspaper men of Oregon are going to enter the race for state printer we might as well announce ourselves and make it unanimous."

One of the many attractive bargains in shirt waists shown by A. M. Williams & Co., this week is a waist made in the season's most fashionable style, of a lace-stripe silk gingham reduced from $4 to $1.95.

The Albany Democrat of July 18th says: "Mrs. Elizabeth M. Wilson, of The Dalles, is in the city on a visit. Mrs. Wilson is one of Linn county's school teachers, the wife of one of Oregon's early congressmen."

Wasco News says: Dr. Ray Logan made a trip to The Dalles on Monday. He said two women fainted on the O. R. & N. train from the heat. Tableau: A handsome young doctor on hand to resuscitate the fair ones.
