ANIMAL CIRCUS A SUCCESS.

Tents Too Small For Dog and Pony Show Crowds.

The Spokane Review says: "The big exhibition tent of the J. L. Whitney dog and pony show was packed from the entrance to the ringside last evening and many were turned away. The afternoon performance was also well attended, but if the enthusiasm manifested by the children last evening is taken as the verdict as to the excellence of the performance, those desiring to see the last two performances today at 2 and 8 p. m., will have to go early if they wish to get seats or even admittance to the tent."

"The troupe of dogs trained by Professor Bailey evidenced remarkable proficiency, docility and sagacity in their numerous tricks, jumping through hoops of fire, walking ropes, climbing ladders, leaping in midair and doing many other wonderful things."

"Professor Hunt's educated monkey, 'Master McGinty,' was accorded an ovation, his antics creating shrieks of laughter. The troupe of ponies trained by Harry Heikes, won applause. Then there was the rope walking feat and equestrian performance of the goat 'Billy,' which delighted the little folk."

"The juggling feats of the funny clown George Zaroni, were well received, and Turner Bros. in their acrobatic performances. Little Eddie Clark on the slack wire elicited much favorable comment. The finale, in which both troupes of trained dogs, the troupe of trained ponies, the goats and the monkeys all take part in an exciting fire scene, sent the little ones home delighted."

This dog and pony show will exhibit in The Dalles Thursday night, Aug. 1st.

DIED.

Strohn, of Los Angeles, Mrs. Katie V. Roche and Miss Leese Gates, of this city, and one son, Attorney Ned H. Gates, also of The Dalles. O. D. DOANE, Sec.

Geo. O. Gray, a former resident of The Dalles but of late years a resident of Heppner, died at St. Vincent's hospital Sunday, July 28th, shortly after 6 o'clock p. m., aged about 47 years. Deceased was a brother of Jack and Tom Gray, residents of this vicinity, and of Mrs. George Noble, of Heppner. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and a respected and honored citizen. He died of an abscess in the ear, which brought on paralysis and finally brain trouble. He was insensible for five days before his death. He will be buried here at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening. The funeral will be conducted by the brethren of the local lodge of Masons and will take place from their hall.

The Albany Democrat, of the 20th, says: "Dr. Geisendorfer and wife, of The Dalles, arrived in Albany last evening on a visit with relatives and friends. Dr. Geisendorfer enjoys one of the best practices in Eastern Oregon."

Joe Brennan, a stranger in these parts was fined $2 in Recorder Doherty's court this morning on a charge of drunkenness. Brennan paid fifty cents, all the money he had, and served out the balance of the time in the city bastille.

The district fair must be provided for as well as the street fair, else we shall never get over the disgrace of asking the fair to come here and then fail to provide for it. A little extra liberality now and the fair will be provided for for years to come; and we shall besides have a place for baseball and football contests, where those who enjoy watching the sport can be made pay for their fun.

The Corvallis Times says: "Tom Merry, of Los Angeles, a pioneer Californian, and well known in Oregon, passed through the valley this week, with his estimable wife, on the way to British Columbia, where they will stop a couple of weeks, and then leave for Europe by way of New York. The captain is an entertaining writer and was engaged in the newspaper business in this state for several years."

To assure the hatching of canary birds' eggs more nearly at one time the first eggs are sometimes taken away by the fanciers and replaced by artificial ones, all being put back in the nest when the bird ceases to lay. While she is sitting the prospective father lives up to his responsibilities, and devotes his time to seeing that his mate does her duty, and when she leaves her nest, if she shows an inclination to dally, sharp pecks drive her back.—August Ladies' Home Journal.

The Roseburg Plaindealer gets off the following good one on a valley editor: "Last week the editor of the Eugene Register took a drive to the country and in a field adjacent to Eugene saw a hay-bailer at work. He returned to town and reported through his paper that threshing machines had started up in that vicinity, and now the farmers have the laugh on him. It was probably Editor Gilstrap, who last spring on seeing a rolling clod crusher passing town, was informed the farmer was going to roll his oat field with the machine, whereupon the editor remarked, 'I've often wondered how they made rolled oats.'"

The George family seem to have been on a general "bust" yesterday. Roy of that ilk was arraigned in Recorder Doherty's court this morning on the charge of "drunk and disorderly and resisting an officer in the discharge of his duty." He was arrested last night by Officer Panleen. His jamboree cost him $7 which he paid. Joe George, a brother of Roy, paid a fine of $3 for having gone on a simple toot, without the disorderly accompaniment; and L. George, still another brother, was fined $7 for being drunk and disorderly and for resisting an officer in the charge of his duty. The last mentioned was dead broke, but his father came to his rescue and settled the score.

The Omaha Bee, speaking of the intense heat in that city a week ago, says: "Having heard of instances of heat which permitted the frying of eggs upon the pavements, some children at the Bachelor's hotel concluded to try the experiment and are sceptics no longer. One minute after the egg had been broken upon the pavement it was in condition to vie with the best production of the culinary artist whose patrons call for it 'turned over.' A druggist at Twenty-Fourth and Farnam also tried the same experiment in front of his store and succeeded in turning out beautiful omelets in less than five minutes, which to all appearances were as good as though made on a chafing dish."

The state board of agriculture are making some wonderful improvements at the state fair grounds, and old-timers will hardly recognize the place when they attend Oregon's greatest fair this fall. The old pavilion is being enlarged to double its size, and after the best exhibits ever seen in the state are arranged there will be ample room left for an auditorium, a thing that has been needed for a long time. A brand new, up-to-date creamery building is being erected; also where the best dairy display ever made in the state will be seen. The machinery hall is being enlarged, new cattle sheds, sheep pens, hog stys, and horse stables are being built. A cozy farm cottage, hay barn and new sidewalks are also on the list of improvements, and nothing will be left undone to accommodate the exhibitor and entertain the visitor at the state fair this fall.
