The best watchword for hot weather is "clean up." Keep the streets and alley ways clean and it will make you feel a degree or two cooler as you pass by them.

Mr. J. J. Miller, of Deschutes who has been an inmate of The Dalles Hospital for a short time, has sufficiently recovered to be able to be upon the streets again.

It is estimated that the emigrants carried westward by the Northern Pacific and Great Northern roads alone aggregate 60,000 permanent settlers during the past year.

G. T. Parr, agent for Eastern Oregon Land Co., and F. McMillan, a mining expert of San Francisco, came through town Friday last, going to Quartzburg.—Prairie City Miner.

Shelburne on Long Beach seems to be the favorite resort for Dalles people. Mr. T. J. Seufert has just purchased a cottage there adjoining those of H. S. Wilson and the Frenches.

The blacksmith shop of L. Richardson, which was situated a short distance beyond the brewery, is slowly moving down Third street and will soon be in position opposite Hansen & Thomsen's mill.

It may be considered dull in town these days, but if any one is banking to see his neighbor busy at work, let him go to the courthouse and watch the clerk and his deputy for awhile. The limit in which taxes may be paid is the 8th and the festive taxpayer is getting a move on himself.

It is seldom that the Oregonian contains a likeness as good as that published in that paper today of Miss Ruth Cooper of this city, who has been appointed to teach in the Philippines, one of only three teachers in the Indian schools who received recognition.

Mr. T. A. Hudson is desirous of renting his residence before leaving for Portland September 1st. This is a good opportunity for any one wanting a beautiful home at a moderate price. A small family can rent four rooms which will more than pay the house rent.

Ever since the removal of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Biggs from this city to Wasco their friends here have had hopes that they might repent and return to The Dalles. However, visitors to that little town tell us that Mr. Biggs is erecting a fine residence there, which no doubt means Wasco is to keep them.

For some years Mrs. Margaret Flynn has been a constant sufferer and during the last few days has been growing much worse, until it seems that her life can be prolonged but a day or so at the most. Her son, Dr. Flynn, of Portland, arrived today. Her grandson, John Flynn, and Dr. Johnson, of Portland have been sent for and will reach here as soon as possible.

Two very dangerous coins are in circulation in Baker City. One is a counterfeit half dollar of 1898, made of lead and glass, which is so perfect as to baffle detection at sight. It has not the true ring of the genuine coin, however, and can be detected by that test. The other is a counterfeit $5 piece, very perfect in appearance, but not nearly so deceiving as the 50-cent piece.

Sunday was the anniversary of Spokane's big fire, the greater portion of that city having gone up in smoke Sunday, August 4, 1889. September 2d will be the anniversary of The Dalles' fire of '91 and it is not likely the majority of our citizens will forget it. However, this is a poor time of the year to speak of fire. Let us rather turn our thoughts to the snow blockade or any other "cold deal."

Certain it is that the dog and pony show, of which L. J. Whitney is proprietor, is attached to The Dalles, as we learn that all of the property excepting the dogs, monkey and goats were attached by Constable Jackson for the employees, the amount for which they are held being $1,200. The horses have been placed in pasture on Three-Mile, while the tents and other paraphernalia are at the D. P. & A. N. dock.

While it would seem to those who have experienced the heat for three consecutive days that there has been little change in temperature, however, yesterday was two degrees cooler than Sunday and today two less than yesterday, the maximum reaching 98 at 1:30. In Portland yesterday the thermometer stood at 91 and the minimum 60, the minimum here being two degrees less. The weather report says thunder storms, and we say send 'em along.

Talk about cauliflower! Well if you want to talk on that subject consult THE CHRONICLE reporter, who yesterday was presented with the finest specimen of that vegetable we have ever seen. Mr. W. J. Harriman, of Eight-Mile, came into the office carrying the prettiest vegetable bouquet measuring ten inches across and as pure and white as any flower. He says this is his first attempt at raising cauliflower and we would just add it should not be the last.

We understand that Miss Mattie Stroud, of the New York Store, is soon to leave The Dalles, having accepted a position with A. C. Gieger, at Heppner. The young lady will leave for that place upon her return from Long Beach, where in company with Misses Edith Randall and Martha Baldwin, she is spending her vacation. Miss Stroud is a most obliging and popular saleslady and Dalles people will be sorry to lose her from one of our leading stores.

If you find very little in the paper nowadays, don't complain. It is generally conceded that newspaper people are built to stand all the heat going in this life and the hereafter; but remember the "newspaper" man is away and we do not claim any of the characteristics of the craft, so are affected by the heat just as other common people. Besides, the lack of news is due to the reader, who if he wants something to read, must do something worth writing about.

A large number of friends attended the funeral of Alfred Felderman at the home of his mother, Mrs. T. Prinz, last evening. Rev. Poling conducted a short service, the male quartet rendering the beautiful selections, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," and "Beautiful Land." The pall bearers were Chas. and George Weigel, Theodore Liebe, Carl Groeller, William Michelbach and Fred Hansen. When the remains had been laid to rest in Sunset cemetery the mound gave no sign of the earth beneath which the departed lay, but looked a veritable bed of flowers, so numerous were the tokens of love contributed by Alfred's friends.

Deputy Sheriff Wood had to deal with one of the craziest of crazy men yesterday at Viento, in the person of A. E. Darling, an old man who for the past few weeks has been living in a shack a few miles from that station. Not until Sunday did he cause the residents any trouble, but on that day he seemed to have an idea that he must eradicate some of his neighbors from the face of the earth. Word was sent to this city, and yesterday Mr. Wood went down and brought him up last night. Upon visiting his cabin he found the old man engaged in mixing up a batch of bread, into which he had put a quantity of carbolic acid. It seems that he imagines he has hydrophobia and that nothing but carbolic acid will effect a cure, and for some time he has lived on bread and potatoes, well seasoned with that drug. Some time ago he came to The Dalles from Butte, Mont., and going up on the beach above town built a scow and started down the river. A short time after his boat was found upside down in the river and it was supposed he was drowned until he was found living at Viento. When Mr. Wood endeavored to bring him up he fought desperately and had to be handcuffed; but once on the train grew quiet. Today he has been beseeching the officers to give him carbolic acid, seeming to be a fiend after that drug. He was examined this afternoon and will be taken to the asylum tomorrow.

CHANGE OF TEXT BOOKS.

To Go Into Effect This Year—A Condensed List.

The change in text books the coming school year has created much interest and not a little complaint among parents who feel the burden of procuring new books more than many of them can bear. However, we have been informed that the expense is to be made as light as possible and on many of the books the price has been greatly reduced. Besides, the exchange price, which allows old books of the same grade to be exchanged (that is, allowing one-half on them) will continue until December 31st, when the retail price will prevail.

The entire change of books, with the exception of Brooks' Mental Arithmetic, must be in use fifteen months from the date of adoption. J. R. Gill & Co., of Portland, represent the various publishing houses concerned, and sub-depositaries are selected in each county. In Wasco county, The Dalles, (at Menefee & Parkins' and I. C. Nickelsen's) Hood River, Dufur, Antelope and Cascade have been designated. So far no books have been received, but it is hoped they will be on hand by the first of September, when it will be a busy time for our book stores.

Circulars giving prices, etc., will be issued in the near future, which will give all necessary information. Below we publish a condensed list, most of which will be used in our schools in The Dalles:

- Cyr's Readers.
- Reed's Word Lessons and Language Series.
- Thomas' Histories of United States.
- Frye's Geographies.
- Wentworth's Arithmetics.
- Brooks' Mental Arithmetics.
- Howell's Health Primer.
- Stowell's "A Healthy Body."
- Dole's "The American Citizen."
- Wheeler's Primer.
- L. S. Thompson's New Short Course in Drawing.
- Newland's Natural System of Vertical Writing.
- Tufts and Holt's Normal Music Course.
- HIGH SCHOOL ADOPTION.
- Carpenter's Composition and Rhetoric.
- Channing's History of United States.
- Tarr's Physical Geography.
- Webb's Academic Arithmetic.
- Colton's Physiology.
- Strong and Schafer's The Gov. of the American People.
- Hall's Bookkeeping.
- Well's Algebra.
- Wentworth's Plane and Solid Geometry.
- Gage's Physics.
- Bailey's Botany.
- Tarr's Geology.
- Bullock's Economics.
- Brooks' English Literature.
- Painter's American Literature.
- Collar and Daniell's First Latin Book.
- Allen and Greenough's Latin Grammar.
- Allen and Greenough's Caesar, Cicero, Virgil.
- Baras' Cornelius Nepos Twenty Lives.
- Botford's Greek and Roman Histories.
- Huss' German Readers.
- Joynes' German Grammar.
- Harris' German Composition.
- Reed and Kellogg's Higher Lessons in English.

Valise Lost.

A few days since a valise, containing valuable government papers, was taken (probably through mistake) from our wagon at the railroad camp on the mission grounds below town. As these papers cannot be replaced without great expense and delay, the party who took them will confer a favor on us by leaving them at THE CHRONICLE office or returning them to us through the post-office. No mistake as to the identity of the papers can be made as the name of W. R. Stewart will be found thereon.
