premium list for the races and exhibits will be out as soon as possible, and the program will no doubt be ready this week. Parties having special attractions will reach the city tomorrow and interview the committee. More definite particulars will be given in tomorrow's issue.

A large number of the Best People on Earth are now supposed to be in Tacoma, but Dr. Siddall informs us that he discovered the prince of best fellows when on his way to the Greenhorn, in the person of Henry Rattjen, a Good Samaritan who has his cabin located at the forks of Vincent and Poker creeks, at the foot of the Greenhorn mountains, where he has lived for sixteen years and where the traveler always finds the latch string out and a hearty welcome awaiting him. The doctor was royally entertained during his three-days stay, and is loud in his praises of the old man and his partner, John Keiner. Our Dalles miners would do well to call at the cabin on their way to that section.

PERSONAL MENTION.

C. J. Stubling went to Bingen this morning.

Dr. Chas. Adams came in from Tygh this morning.

G. Barnett is registered at the Umatilla from Wasco.

J. H. Worsley is in Astoria visiting his brother, Ben Worsley.

Mrs. F. M. Thompson came into the city yesterday from Dufur.

Wm. Menefee left on the afternoon train on a business trip to Portland.

Mrs. R. M. Stone and children are visitors in The Dalles from Glenwood.

Wm. Birgfeld and family have returned from a two-months outing at Trout Lake.

Miss Bertha Williams was a passenger on the Dalles City this morning for Collins Landing.

J. A. Henderson, who has spent the past few days in the city, returned to Bingen today.

Miss Edith Mans, who spent several weeks with relatives in Spokane, has returned to her home in this city.

Miss Lucy McFarland, of Grass Valley who has been the guest of Miss Ida Ward, left for Collins on the morning boat.

Miss Alice Bunker arrived here Saturday evening from Portland and will remain some time with her brother, C. O. Bunker, and family.

Mrs. Wm. Michell went down on the Regulator to Stevenson this morning, where she will remain for two weeks with the family of Phillip Michell.

Mrs. W. H. Moody, and daughter, Drucilla, left last night for Wardner, Idaho, on a visit to Mrs. James Phelan, formerly Miss Flora Mulligan, of this city.

J. W. French joined his family at Long Beach, Saturday and found his brother, D. M. French, still improving in health, being far better than when he left home.

B. W. Dennis, who travels for Marshall Wells Hardware Company, of Duluth, with his wife has been in the Dalles for the past few days, and returned to Portland this afternoon.

Miss Cora Joles, manager of the Oregon Telephone Company in this city, left this afternoon for Portland where she will spend a portion of her vacation, visiting Tacoma before her return.

Roscoe Oaks, who about two months ago had his leg broken and has since been compelled to remain in Portland, is now making his first trip out for the company he represents and arrived in The Dalles last night. While still a little lame he is able to rustle business as lively as ever and will soon be up to his old cake walk.

Dalles Young Man Will Soon Marry.

While it has been whispered about our city recently that one of The Dalles most popular young men was to take unto himself a life partner, yet THE CHRONICLE, not having authority from headquarters, had no thought of giving it publicity, as in many instances such reports have no foundation in fact; and so the Spokesman Review has the honor of making the announcement. However, we can at least voice the sentiment of The Dalles people and say that no young man in our city is more worthy of such a young lady as the Review represents Miss Purcell, than is Mr. Sinnott, who has been an example in all that pertains to nobility of character and application to the profession which he has chosen.

Miss Purcell was an assistant in the musical department of St. Mary's Academy last year, at which time Mr. Sinnott met her. She also made many friends while here. The Spokane paper says:

Rev. Thomas J. Purcell, of Rathdrum, has issued invitations to the marriage ceremony of his niece, Miss Isadore Irene Purcell, to Nicholas John Sinnott. The marriage will take place at the church of St. Stanislaus Kostka at Rathdrum, Idaho, on Wednesday, September 4th, at 8 o'clock a. m.

Miss Purcell is the daughter of Michael Purcell, of Roseland, B. C. She was one of the first graduates from the Academy of Holy Names of this city, is an accomplished musician and has a host of friends in this city and Rathdrum.

Mr. Sinnott is a prominent young attorney at The Dalles, Oregon.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

The mosquito is the latest to strike oil, and it is said a horse in Portland is "neighing through his hat."

Clark and Falk have just received a full line of fresh Velox papers and developers, the same as used by Mr. Lovick in his recent demonstration at our store.

Wanted—Prune packers. Apply to R. J. Bray in Pease & Mays grocery department, or at his residence, phone 230.

Plans have just been completed at the office of C. J. Crandall for a fine dwelling to be erected by C. A. Borders on his lot on the bluff, opposite Levi Christman's residence.

The price for wheat today is 50 cents, which is good considering the fact that the market is off a cent a bushel at Chicago, a cent per cental at San Francisco, and at Liverpool is weak.

For the past few days Mrs. Isabella Gray has been quite ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Brooks, with whom she resides. Her condition this morning was considered worse.

Passenger train No. 1 is doing somewhat better the last two days, being exactly on time yesterday and but little over an hour off today. Sunday she arrived here at about 8:30, instead of 1:10.

The Goldendale Journal says: "The Grangers of Klickitat county are making arrangements to ship their own wheat to Portland. They will undertake to land 50,000 bushels, each shipment, and accept the highest bid."

If every resident of the city would begin right now to clean up and beautify their homes, and also the vacant lots owned by them (which are in most cases eye sores) how much more attractive The Dalles would be to the many who will visit the city during the carnival. Let's begin now and see what can be done in the matter.

Prunes are beginning to move in earnest in The Dalles, and before the season is over Sayre & Co. alone will ship twenty carloads from this section. Owing to the superiority of our product and that of Union county, for shipping, that firm will refuse valley prunes and secure all that fruit from the two counties. Producers are receiving a fair price.

R. M. Gaston, of Astoria, arrived in the city last night for the purpose of contracting for grain to supply the feed mill recently erected by him in Astoria, the capacity of which is 5000 pounds an hour. The mill will start operations on the first of next month.

The warm weather predicted by the weather bureau for today gave us the "cold shoulder," as our maximum temperature was 75. They tell us it will be fair tonight and tomorrow. A rain storm wouldn't be a bad thing unless it come too copiously. We'd like to have the smoke settled a little.

H. W. French, who for some years past has held the position of book-keeper in A. M. Williams' store, has resigned for the purpose of attending to the duties involved in the sheep business, into which he, with several others, have newly embarked. Hal left this morning for the ranch near Wapinitia, and his Dalles friends wish him the greatest of success in his new field of business.

A force of carpenters under Contractor Chas. Johnson began work on a two-story frame building on the lot adjoining Sexton & Walther's this morning. The building, which is being erected by John Carey, will be 50x70 feet with all modern improvements, the lower story containing four stores, while the upper will be fitted up for offices. This will make a great improvement in the East End.

General Passenger Agent Burley of the Oregon Short Line has announced that the company will shortly adopt a uniform passenger rate of 4 cents per mile on all its lines in Idaho. The present maximum local rate is 5 cents per mile. The time for putting the reduced rate into effect has not been definitely decided upon, but it is announced that the change will be made not later than January 1st.

A strange cause of death was that of Miss Alice Potter, of Portland, who died at Good Samaritan hospital Sunday. She had been in the best of health until after her return from a crawfishing trip, a few days ago. Two days after her return her lip began to swell, and blood poisoning set in. The theory advanced is that some passing insect may have stung her while she was fishing, or that in handling the bait a microbe may have lodged on her finger and afterwards touched the lip.

Jack Lawler, the old-time Dalles boy, who has since become famous for his infamous acts, was again heard from this morning; this time from Dufur near which place he has been working on the new electric line. Word was sent to the sheriff about noon today to arrest him for stealing a $5 blanket from the livery barn of Everett at that place. As Deputy Sheriff Wood came up Second street about two hours later he saw a man who answered Jack's description coming down street on horseback. Stopping him the deputy sheriff asked if his name was Lawler, and being answered in the affirmative arrested him. Lawler said he had the blanket, but had found it on the road. He was taken to the county jail and will be dealt with later.

"You can't keep a good town quiet," and so after a few weeks apparent lull in business, this morning you would never know The Dalles had thought of taking a vacation, everybody was out, and the town is as lively as the busy end of a yellow jacket. Wheat teams are beginning to come in in greater numbers, making not only the warehouses busy, but the merchants as well. Then fruit is on the move now; building is going on, and taken altogether we are assuming our usual activity.

The Salem Statesman aptly remarks: "Mr. Carrie Nation has applied for a divorce from Mrs. Carrie Nation on the ground that she has made a public ridicule of him, neglected her family duties and has abandoned her home. It is a trite saying that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world, but it has been wittily said that the hand which makes a specialty of ruling the world rocks no cradles. Reform, even temperance reform, lies much nearer the cradle than it does the hatchet or police court."

Ben Oppenheimer, a traveling man well known in The Dalles, wanted at Burns, Harney county, for giving checks on banks in which he had no money, was arrested and placed under bonds at Sumpter several days ago, J. H. Robbins, formerly of Pendleton, putting up cash bail of $50 for him. Regaining his freedom, Oppenheimer made himself scarce and his whereabouts are not known, while Mayor Robbins, of Sumpter mourns the loss of his $50 and seeks to discover an existing reason for his Samaritan act.

The steamer Reliance, of The Dalles City Company, which has heretofore been rather unsuccessful, owing to some fault in her machinery, has been hauled out at Supple's yard for a thorough overhauling. She has a new wheel and new valves have been put in her engine, under the supervision of Mr. Cushing, an experienced Lake engineer, and she will be ready to make her trial trip in a day or two. The new valves, it is expected, will check the wastage of steam, which has heretofore caused the trouble, and will make a great improvement in the working of the boat.—Oregonian.

The executive committee of the carnival and street fair are the busiest people in town getting things in shape, and are meeting nightly. Last night a number of committees were appointed; but as the persons chosen have not signified their intention of acting, were not ready for publication. Although THE CHRONICLE in a recent issue added an extra day to September for the benefit of the carnival, the committee thanklessly placed the dates from the 30th (instead of 31st) to the 5th, inclusive, and the district fair from the 1st to the 5th.
