WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Forecast—Tonight, fair and warmer; tomorrow fair.

After four weeks' illness of typhoid fever, Miss Bessie Lang was again able to be on the streets yesterday.

A warrant was issued this morning for the arrest of Malcolm Southwell for the larceny of a colt from George H. Riddell.

A decree of divorce was granted by Judge Bradshaw, in chambers, in the suit of Laura Manley vs. Joseph B. Manley.

This morning Dr. D. Siddall let the contract for the building of four cottages on his property on the corner of Fourth and Federal to Contractor A. Anderson, and work will be begun at once.

The Seventh Regiment U. S. Infantry band will make a round trip Sunday, August 25th, on the steamer Bailey Gatzert, and while the boat is laying at the Dalles they will favor the citizens with the finest music.

We'll leave it to our readers if our prognostication of frost last week wasn't about as sensible as that of the observer for yesterday when he said "probably fair." Any body could prognosticate in that fashion.

T. A. Hudson, who will leave the first of September for Portland, has rented his residence on West Second street, to Joel Koonitz, of Five-Mile, who comes into town this winter for the purpose of schooling his children.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Roberts came upon the noon train today with a U. S. prisoner, who was sentenced to 60 days punishment in the county jail and $100 fine. The prisoner's name is John Smith and he was sentenced in Judge Bellinger's court in Portland.

It is the intention of its members to have the Y. M. C. A., organized some time since in The Dalles, well on its feet by fall. It was the desire of those interested that the free reading rooms should be in shape for the use of the young men who are hauling wheat into the city; but it will be impossible to so arrange for this year, though it would no doubt have been appreciated by them.

Yes, you're right, we're about to have another spell of "right smart" weather from all indications. But don't tell everybody you meet; it may be they won't find it out if you don't mention it. The CHRONICLE only informs its readers on the quiet that the thermometer, as we write, indicates 99 degrees.

The newest venture in the newspaper field in Oregon is the Whitney Record, a neat little four-page weekly edited by J. L. Huffman. From the appearance of its advertising columns, Mr. Huffman made no mistake in choosing Whitney as a newspaper town, and the people of that little mining town are fortunate in having such a lively sheet visit them weekly.

How about that sidewalk around your lot? Will it be full of holes in wait for the pedal extremities of our visitors to the fair? If we can do nothing toward that fete, we can at least not be responsible for the fate which certainly will befall the feet of any one who happens to step into the numerous pitfalls in many of our sidewalks. By all means hammer down the nails and put in new boards where old ones exist.

The gentlemanly burglar, who visited the residence of A. B. Hammond in San Francisco, July 5th, and relieved Mrs. Hammond of $23 in cash, has been caught by the police and has been identified by Mrs. Hammond and her maid. The prisoner admits his guilt and also acknowledges having committed other burglaries reported to the police. He gave his name as Robert Stone and afterwards said that it was not his right name.

Prof. J. H. Ackerman, superintendent of public instruction, left Salem Tuesday night to attend teachers' institute in Wallawa and Union counties. The Wasco county institute which will be held in The Dalles September 4th, 5th and 6th, will be favored with his presence on the 5th. He will also attend the school officers meeting on the 6th. Beside our local educators, President Hawley, of Willamette University, President Campbell, of Monmouth Normal, and Professor French, of Monmouth, will also be in attendance.

Misses Emma Creighton and Bessie Snipes have returned from a journey around Mt. Adams. The young ladies left Goldendale August 2d in company with a party from that place. The party traveled on horseback and were well prepared for all the adventures they met. Rough paths, dense forests, treacherous streams, wild animals and falling timber did not cause them to lose their courage, but only made the trip more interesting. They made the complete circuit of Mt. Adams traveling about 275 miles and keeping some distance from the mountain most of the time. There was only one day that they traveled on the snow line. They visited the lava beds, soda springs, Steamboat, Fish and Trout

THE FAIR IS ON.

Well Begun—Committees Appointed and Ready For Work.

Preliminary arrangements for The Dalles Street Carnival and Thirteenth Annual Second Eastern Oregon District Agricultural Society (or words to that effect) were completed at the meeting of the executive committee last night, and everything is now in good working order. If the members of committees given below do their duty, as it is expected they will, there cannot fail to be such a lively time as The Dalles has never seen.

After discussion as to the advisability of holding the street fair on Third or Fourth streets, it was decided in favor of the former, probably taking in more ground than last year. That there will be a noticeable improvement over the grounds of last year, may be seen from the fact that it will require 130,000 feet of lumber for the fencing, buildings, etc.; the arch will also be more elaborate and will be fringed with electric lights.

It is the intention to have at least two bands—our own band and one from abroad. The committee is now in communication with various attractions, which will outrival the time-worn Midway of last year.

The ladies, who were out yesterday interviewing young ladies who had been mentioned to enter the contest for queen, report good success, a number signifying their willingness to serve. It has, we believe, been decided to present the ruling sovereign with a handsome diamond ring.

It is to be hoped that our people (as well as our neighbors in the country) will assist the committee's by beginning to arrange for making exhibits.
