WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Fruit packers wanted by the Columbia Commission Co. aug27-31

Forecast—Tonight fair, warmer; Friday, increasing cloudiness.

J. F. Root is seriously ill with appendicitis at his home in this city.

Saturday afternoon the ladies of the Lutheran church will have on sale at I. C. Nickelsen's store, cakes and rye bread, also cut flowers.

The sheriff was busy this afternoon selling property for delinquent taxes. Some choice parcels elicited lively bidding, and brought fair prices.

Owing to circumstances the mid-weekly prayer meeting of the Congregational church will be omitted this evening. Regular services will be held next Sunday.

The case of A. Brooks for larceny from the I. N. L. restaurant came up before Judge Bradshaw yesterday, and Brooks was committed to the county jail for thirty days.

Wonder if they have your size left? We refer to that calf-lined, winter-weight, tan calf-skin $5.50 men's shoes at A. M. Williams & Co's. The "Lincoln" price is only $3.50.

We understand eleven race horses are quartered in one livery stable and four in another, the building of the stables at the track being delayed on account of the lumber failing to arrive. It is expected some of it will be here tomorrow, when work will be begun.

The Dalles will soon be noted for the number of blooded horses owned by her citizens. The latest to be added to the list is a handsome 3-year-old pacer, sired by the famous guideless pacer, Del Norte, and which was purchased by W. E. Simonton a few days ago.

No one could imagine a more delightful evening for a moonlight excursion on the Columbia than last night. The weather was just right, the moon just right, the band just right and the crowd just right as far as it went; but we cannot understand why our people should not have been delighted with an opportunity to have an excursion on such a night, and patronized it better, there being but about a hundred on board. Leaving the dock at 8:30, returning the Dalles City landed its passengers at 11. It was certainly a beautiful trip.

Deputy Sheriff Wood arrested a man by the euphonious nomenclature of Julius Andrews, for selling liquor to Indians. He was examined before U. S. Commissioner Huntington this morning, and bound over to answer the charge before the U. S. district court.

Just to top off gradually, the weather clerk is giving us another little spell of the heat we so "enjoyed" a week or two ago, and this afternoon the thermometer stands at 92. There's nothing selfish about us; let our friends just returning from the beach have a taste of what we had so much of.

The report comes from Whitney of a startling find of gold in the town that has set that burg wild with enthusiasm. Whitney is the terminus of the extension of the Sumpter valley railway recently completed, and is the center of a rich mining and timber country to the southwest of the Bonanza mine.

REGULATOR LINE.

On Saturday, Aug. 31st, the Regulator will leave for Portland one hour ahead of time, or 2 P. M. instead of 3 P. M.

W. C. ALLAWAY, Gen. Agt.

H. W. French came in from his sheep ranch at Wapinitia today and will remain until about the 15th of next month, when he will again take up the duties of a stockman, which Hal says he likes very much. Mrs. French, who is now in Portland, will probably arrive in a day or two and remain during his stay.

Opportunity sports a nice long lock in front, but the back of its head is as bare as a china egg. If man means to profit by his opportunities, a quick, sure grab at that front lock the minute it is within reaching distance, will prove his only salvation. In other words,—if you need shoes, get them at the "Lincoln sale" at Williams & Co's.

S. L. Brooks returned yesterday from a short trip to Portland, where he made arrangements for his Eastern trip. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks will leave Tuesday night over the Great Northern visiting relatives in Chicago, St. Paul and Ohio, beside taking in other Eastern cities. They will also see the Pan-American exposition before returning, being absent about two months.

A short time since M. Dichtenmuller, of Mosier, sold his farm at Mosier to Robert Friend, and he is in The Dalles today trying to find a house, when he and Mrs. Dichtenmuller will make this their home. Having lived in Mosier for the past sixteen years, it was with reluctance they gave up their farm, but on account of trouble with his eyes Mr. Dichtenmuller is unable to attend to the duties of the place.

Some of the eastern papers are again printing an old problem which might serve the CHRONICLE readers food for reflection. It is the problem of the man with 75 cents in his pocket who was compelled to raise $1. He pawned his 75 cents for 50 cents and then sold his pawn ticket for 50 cents, thus securing the dollar needed. Who lost money by the transaction?

Fruitmen have now a splendid opportunity to display their fruits where such a display will count. The American Pomological Society will meet at Buffalo September 12th and 13th, and fruitgrowers are urged to send exhibits. E. L. Smith, of Hood River, expects to be in attendance and accompanied by his daughter, will leave in company with Mr. and Mrs. Brooks on the 3d.

An old gentleman wishing to retire from active life is desirous of selling his farm of 160 acres, with fair four-roomed house; small barn and other outbuildings, well fenced, 30 acres of summer fallow, some timber. Six miles from Dufur, twenty miles from town, will sell on easy terms. For further particulars call or write Hudson & Brownhill, The Dalles, Oregon. aug29-30

Do you want to secure a nice home in the most desirable part of the city? If you do, we can suit you. We have a splendid six-room modern cottage on Fourth street equipped with all the latest improvements, and will be sold for a good deal less than its duplicate can be built for. If you are looking for a bargain do not fail to see this. For further particulars write or call on Hudson & Brownhill, The Dalles, Or. a29-30

The general assembly of Congregational churches and ministers of Oregon will meet in The Dalles on September 24th and 25th. It is expected that one hundred delegates will be in attendance. This body is not legislative, but purely advisory. Among Oregon Congregationalists are found some of the strongest men of the coast and the program, which will be published later, bids fair to be one of great merit.

Many have made inquiries concerning the progress of the committee on queen of the carnival. On account of so many young ladies who have been considered in that connection being absent from the city, little could be done by the committee. A meeting will be held next Monday night when definite action will be taken as to whom the candidates will be, and their names will be given in due season.

Last night the Artisans gave a farewell party to two of their members, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hudson, who leave us in a short time for Portland. A very pleasant program was rendered, a splendid lunch served, and then it seemed as if Time turned backward in its flight and made one and all children again, for they joined with the greatest zest in the old-fashioned games and thoroughly enjoyed them. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson are leading members of the order and will be greatly missed.

Mr. A. A. Bonney tells us that we were misinformed as to his losing any wood at Wyeth last week. He says the most and almost only danger is from passing locomotive, and as the land lying between his wood and the railroad was burned over last year, there is not much left to take fire. There are also flumes of water near that would be available in case of a fire getting near. We somewhat doubted the immensity of the amount said to have been burned, but could not question the veracity of our informant as to the fire. However, we'll take Mr. Bonney's word for it.

Invitations have been received in The Dalles to the wedding of Alvah W. Patterson and Miss Anna Brown in Boston on September 15th. After the wedding they will live in Washington, D. C. Mr. Patterson is a brother of Register Patterson of the land office and has many friends in The Dalles. He has been in Washington for several years and has graduated from Columbia university law department, having also taken post-graduate work leading up to the degree of doctor of laws. He is now connected with the census bureau. Miss Brown, who was formerly a resident of Heppner, has been at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston for several years, and has attained wonderful success in her vocal training, and is accounted one of the most engaging singers ever graduated from the New England conservatory.

"My kingdom for a horse" from all indications will be the cry this fall. In spite of the fact that a number of houses will be built, real estate dealers are already besieged with the demand, not only from people who are desirous of coming into town to school their children, but for the most part from newcomers to the West. Another difficulty regarding this question arises from the fact that those who are desirous of building are confronted with the scarcity of carpenters, which is the case throughout Eastern Oregon. Then too, building this year is not what it was even a year ago, as regards the expense incurred, and he who would a builder be must needs pay the price. However, in spite of difficulties, our citizens seem more than ever determined to supply the demand, and will allow no one who comes to our city to say he "hath not where to lay his head."

Song Birds of Oregon.

The book "Song Birds of Oregon and Washington," published in Portland this summer by William Rogers Lord, has awakened an interest in many minds in regard to our feathered songsters. Bird music is, to the writer of this, the sweetest music in the world, and every songbird should be protected ever, as life is always made better by music, and when we stop to listen to the burst of melody from among the tree tops, we are listening to that which is sweet innocence, and not anything degrading, but rather ennobling. I am glad that we have in Oregon an hundred varieties of song birds, and that this spring a new one came to our town that sings the sweetest songs; and even in the night his songs are heard as he drowsily sits on his perch in the trees. Children should be taught to love the birds, and to place seed cups and bath dishes in protected places so that our bird friends may find a welcome and come near us.

The other evening an owl, a common owl, was sitting in a tree near camp, when he called to his mate, "loo-loo!" And she answered from away in the distance "oo oo!" There is something plaintively sweet in even the notes of an owl if you will only stop to listen to it a moment. There is no bird that does more harm than good, not even hawks, the enemy of the poultry yard, for he does more good in destroying big insects and mice than he does harm to the poultry population.

William Rogers Lord has written the writer of this that he expects to return to Oregon within a few months and would be pleased to visit the schools of The Dalles and give a lecture on "Birds" to the school children and to as many adults as would care to attend. A new bird to Oregon and Washington has been reported to Mr. Lord. It has been seen near Gilmore's pond, at Rockland, Wash., and it is the yellow-headed blackbird, common enough to Californians. He is a beautiful bird with his glossy, black plumage and his yellow head and neck. Mr. Lord will soon put out the second and more advanced edition of his book on birds.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion and biliousness. Doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's prize almanac. Clarke & Falk's.

In cases of cough or croup give the little one One Minute Cough Cure. Then rest easy and have no fear. The child will be all right in a little while. It never fails. Pleasant to take, always safe and almost instantaneous in effect. Clarke & Falk's P. O. Pharmacy.
