PERSONAL MENTION.

F N Jones came up from Portland last night and left this morning for his ranch.

Judge George H. Williams came up from Portland today and is registered at the Umatilla.

Mrs. J T Peters and family have returned from their outing at Seaside, Clatsop beach.

W C Campbell, who has been in the employ of the D. P. & A. N. Co., arrived yesterday from a short trip to Portland.

Miss Itha Cheadle, one of our public school teachers, returned last night having spent her vacation with relatives in the valley.

Mrs. A R Thompson and children arrived home on the noon train, having spent several months in Portland and at the beach.

Prof and Mrs W C Hawley, of Salem, who are attending the institute, are guests of Mrs Hawley's brother, Dr Geisendorffer.

Emil Schanno and daughter, Mrs. Henry Maier, left at noon today on a visit to Mr. Schanno's daughter, Mrs. J E Ditter, of North Yakima.

Hon. T H McGreer and daughter arrived this morning from Antelope. Miss McGreer is on her way to Portland, and will leave tomorrow for that place.

Mrs. E F Lucas arrived in the city yesterday from Prairie City, on her way to her home at Monmouth, and will remain until tomorrow with her son, J T Lucas.

Miss Hilda Beck, who is employed as stenographer in the Shurtz dry goods store at Arlington, came down from that place yesterday, and will remain home for some time.

Mrs. W E Brock and little son, who have been spending the summer at Newport, are the guests of Mrs. Otis Patterson today, on their return trip to their home at Pendleton.

Nellie and Ella Hostetler, daughters of Ed Hostetler, who have spent their vacation with relatives in Glasco, Kansas, have returned to resume their studies in school here.

In response to a telegram, Will Sechler, who has been employed in the New York store, left Tuesday night for Huntington to accept the position of express messenger for the Short Line.

Miss Haven and Miss Eddings, of the Elite millinery parlors, returned home yesterday from Portland. During her stay Miss Haven attended the millinery openings and visited the wholesale millinery stores.

State Superintendent J H Ackerman arrived this morning from Baker City and attended the morning session of the institute. He left on the noon train to be present at the Albany institute, and will return so as to take part in the school officers' meeting Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L E Crowe, accompanied by little Robert Elmore, arrived home yesterday from Portland. The latter seems satisfied that he has made no mistake in being a member of the Crowe family, but "Billy McKinley" (the pup) is rather inclined to dispute his right.

BORN.

This morning, September 5th, to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lake, a son.

Expression of Sympathy.

The Aid Society of the Congregational church wish to place on record an expression of their profound sympathy with the family and friends of Mrs. Cornelia J. Condon in their recent bereavement. It is many years since Mrs. Condon resided among us, but the older members of the church and society recall as a pleasant memory, the sweet christian character, the dignity that marked every action, the appreciation of the duties that life had brought to her; the way in which its difficulties were met and surmounted, and they deeply sympathize in this passing away of the beloved wife and mother, and we join with him who was once our beloved pastor and with those whom she has left, in saying,

"Through eyes to crown!—And though thy spirit's life
Thou'lt assist with giant strength
Good cheer, good cheer! Thou shalt reign
In peace with Christ at length."

By order of the society.

Fire Boys Are All Right.

The manner in which the members of the fire department assisted me during the burning of my lively stable Tuesday night, not only as firemen but as friends, was a revelation to me of the heroism of the Dalles fire boys and citizens as well. I could not express my gratitude were I to attempt it; but I assure you not an iota of the kindness displayed was unnoticed by me.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

The rain is all right if it don't stay too long.

The famous Warner butter will be on sale hereafter by Mays & Crowe.

New Ecurial Galoon laces, all-over laces and nets, are now on sale at Pease & Mays.

See A. M. Williams & Co.'s boy's clothing window for a list of the new school books.

Hurrah for the carnival, and tell all your neighbors just how much fun we're going to have.

Francis Lake, who has been very ill with tonsillitis, is reported much improved today.

A. M. Williams & Co. publish in their ad a list of the new school books—interesting to all pupils.

Remember we carry fruits and vegetables in connection with our grocery department. Mays & Crowe.

Pease & Mays have put on sale today the finest assortment of ladies neckwear that has ever been shown in The Dalles.

This morning Dr. Eshelman received a message that Mrs. David Clarke, post-mistress at Hartland, was very ill of rheumatism, and left at once to attend her.

A twelve dollar purchase of boy's clothing at A. M. Williams & Co.'s will allow the buyer to select, at his particular bookstore, a copy of the large or complete geography or any other book of like value.

Mr. Gilbreth desires to thank all who assisted him during the fire Tuesday night. Particularly does he mention H. W. French, Harry Mahear and John Jackson, Jr., who he says were untiring in their assistance during the fire and afterward.

After riding all Tuesday night and all day yesterday, Mr. Porter has succeeded in getting his horses together. He expects to put up a temporary corral and stables on the lot adjoining the location of his stable and will commence work on a new structure as soon as matters are adjusted and workmen can be secured. Mr. Gilbreth cannot speak definitely as to what he will do as regards going into business again.

We are to have the midway. So says the executive committee of the street carnival. Today the contract was signed with Davis, who was with the Jabour shows last year, to furnish a midway which will far excel the time-worn one we have all seen, although it will include the oriental shows, streets of Cairo, the dancers, and everything that makes a midway attractive. Our committee means business and the attractions will be forthcoming.

Evidently the bicycle scorchers in our city are not aware that there is even an ordinance prohibiting riding on our sidewalks. Their attention should, therefore, be called to the matter in a manner that will remind them forcibly of that fact. Unless they are so reminded, it will be their unpleasant duty ere long to pay the expense in a lawsuit caused by its violation. We particularly refer to those who scorch down the hills on Washington and Union streets, thereby endangering pedestrians.

Great credit should be given School Superintendent Gilbert for his efforts in providing such able speakers for the evening sessions of the institute. Our people should appreciate the opportunity afforded them to listen to Professor Hawley in his lecture on "The Declaration of Independence," that popular educator being engaged at present in preparing a book on that subject. The lecture will be given tonight at the Congregational church. It will also be a rare privilege to hear Prof. French speak tomorrow night on his recent travels in Europe, illustrating his lecture with views of his travels. Professor Sanders has arranged for good music at both lectures.

C. M. Grimes, who left The Dalles August 17th, returned this morning, after making a complete ride over Walla Walla county and nearly all of Malheur. Mr. Grimes says he never experienced warmer weather, and it has told on the grass of those two counties, particularly the former, where feed for stock was never so scarce. Stockmen are not a little concerned as to the outcome unless an abundance of rain should follow. The cattle already show the scarcity of grass. The ranges are also well eaten out on account of the great number of sheep pastured there, few having been disposed of this year. Mr. Grimes purchased 190 head of cattle which he will ship to Troutdale today.

Yesterday Phil Ohlegschlager, who lives down Chenoweth, met with a very serious accident, and for a time it was thought his left leg would have to be amputated below the knee. While working on the baling machine he unthoughtfully used his left foot to push the hay down. The plunger struck it and mashed the leg just above the ankle almost to a pulp. Dr. Geisendorffer dressed the wound, and this morning, in company with Dr. Logan, went down to the home of Jacob Wetle, where Mr. Ohlegschlager is staying, expecting to be compelled to amputate the leg, but instead were able to fix it up so that such severe measures will not have to be taken. Mr. Ohlegschlager is particularly unfortunate, his son being shot a few weeks since.

A LENGTHY MEETING.

Our Councilmen Work Hard—Four New Ordinances Adopted.

Our councilmen will hereafter have a splendid excuse for staying out late at night, for the meeting last night continued until after midnight. The meeting was an important one and much business transacted, with the members of that body all present.

It was moved and carried that the warrant now in the hands of the mayor in favor of Henry Kuck, for $1000, be cancelled.

The treasurer was instructed to correspond with Eastern bond-holders in regard to the bonds.

Mr. Bettingen was allowed to address the council regarding the rent of his building during its occupancy by the smallpox patient last winter. He was finally allowed $125 rent. L. D. Oakes was also allowed $3 a day for attending the patient. The other bills for groceries, etc., will be sent to the head office of the O. R. & N. at Portland, as the council declines to pay them. The patient, Allison, was an employe of the O. R. & N.

Councilman Wakefield and the city marshal were appointed a committee to look after the repairs needed at the engine house.

It was then ordered that the old powder house, situated a short distance beyond the brewery, be destroyed by the marshal within thirty days, a complaint being made that it is a nuisance.

A thorough discussion of the four new ordinances adopted last night constituted most of the business transacted. They are:

Ordinance 240, granting the use of that part of Washington street and Madison, lying between the sidewalks and crosswalks on both sides of Third street; also all that part of Federal street, Laughlin street and Madison street, lying between the alleys running between Second and Third streets and Third and Fourth streets, to be used for the carnival from September 30th to October 5th, inclusive.

Ordinance No. 241. That all licenses other than those for saloons, dogs, auctioneers, billiard and pool tables, bowling alleys, brokers, pawn brokers, hotel runners and teams, are hereby increased 200 per cent, from the 4th day of September till the 5th day of October, 1901, inclusive.

Ordinance 242 provides for the construction of the Court street sewer. Ordinance 243 is an ordinance creating the office of harbor master, and the marshal was appointed to that position, with control over the land on the water front.
