WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

New Fall neckwear for gentlemen just received at A. M. Williams & Co's.

The business meeting of the Epworth League called for tonight, has been postponed.

A marriage license was granted to George Williams and Maud Albrecht by the county clerk yesterday.

If you save the price of a book, you are just so much ahead. Buy your boys' clothing at A. M. Williams & Co's and get your school books free.

Tomorrow (Saturday) night a social dance will be given by Prof. Sandvig at the Baldwin, where he hopes to see his regular attendants, as well as others, out.

See A. M. Williams & Co's exhibit of school books in their clothing window. These books are given away with purchases in their boys' clothing department.

Miss Taylor announces that she will open her kindergarten next Wednesday, Sept. 11th, the sessions to be held each day, commencing at 2 p. m. She will also start classes for a limited number of older children, the hours to be from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.

The fruit committee of the fair will hold regular meetings every Saturday evening at the club rooms at 8 o'clock, and they expect every member to be present as often as possible. Particularly should they attend this week's meeting as business of the utmost importance will come up.

At the last meeting of the water commission T. J. Seufert was re-elected president and J. B. Crossen superintendent for the ensuing year. The treasurer was also ordered to take up two water bonds of $500 each at the First National bank, when sufficient funds is on hand to do so.

And we are to have music at the carnival, too. A telegram was received by the committee this afternoon that the U. S. Seventh Infantry band from Vancouver has accepted the offer and will be here twenty-five strong to furnish music for our carnival. Their reputation is known and we could ask nothing more.

In Justice Brownhill's court yesterday the case of the State of Oregon against Davis was heard on preliminary examination. The defendant was charged with assault with a pistol, N. H. Gates appearing for the defense and F. W. Wilson, deputy district attorney, for the state. Davis was bound over to appear before the grand jury in the sum of $300.

The attendance at the funeral of W. H. Vanbibber yesterday was unusually large, the services taking place at the family home, three miles below the city. Rev. Poling conducted the services and the choir sang "Nearer My God to Thee," "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Come Unto Me." The pall bearers, who were chosen from among the many old friends of Mr. Vanbibber, were Z. F. Moody, Dr. Shackelford, R. F. Gibbons, A. Anderson, R. B. Hood and J. M. Marden. Thus was laid to rest, in the Odd Fellows cemetery, one of the most highly respected citizens The Dalles has ever known, and one who will be greatly missed.

Last night as Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hansen were making final preparation for their long journey to Germany a number of their friends came in and gave them a genuine surprise. The hours following were spent most pleasantly with singing and other amusements, lunch of course included. As the friends bade them good bye there was in the mind of each the thought "God be with you till we meet again." There were present: Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Rorden, Mr. and Mrs. Stubling, Miss Anna Stubling, Messrs J. Walters, Thomsen, Nielsen, H. Blaser, I. C. Nickelsen, F. Weigel, George Weigel.

The audience which listened to Prof. Hawley's lecture on "The Declaration of Independence" last night at the Congregational church was a large one. Few speakers show the depth of study which was evident in the treatment of the subject as given by Mr. Hawley. Not a point was overlooked. Beginning with the rulers of Great Britain, he reasoned down to the revolutionary war in proof that the grievances enumerated in the declaration were well founded, and his audience could not fail to have gained from his address much information upon questions never before considered by them. Recitations were well rendered by Misses Maud Michell and Ola Norman, and Rev. D. V. Polingsang in a pleasing manner "Asleep In the Deep."

A bad runaway occurred about 10:30 o'clock this morning on the brewery grade. Tim Evans, of Eight-Mile, was driving a four-horse team up the grade when he met a band of Indian pack horses, which frightened the team and they at once wheeled about, throwing Mr. Evans out and started down the hill. The heavy wagon passed over him, the wheels crossing his chest. Dan McHaley happened along at that time and brought Mr. Evans to the city. He was taken to Dr. Doane's office, who upon examination, found that his external injuries were not bad and although serious internal injuries were feared, so far no symptoms of such have developed. Mrs. Evans was sent for and they are now at the European House.

A good joke is told at the expense of Mrs. Fish and her brother, Roger Sinnott, who came down from Spokane yesterday. To accommodate Nicholas and his bride they offered to bring the bride's trunk down with them. Rog had not figured on the regulation wedding trunk, with the usual accompaniments placed thereon by friends; but when he went to check it at Spokane, there were the old shoes, etc. Rog at once began to explain and the baggage master remarked that he understood; no one liked to confess they were the ones concerned. By that time everyone in the room caught on and for a time Mrs. Fish and Rog were the veritable bride and groom. They evidently must have thought Mrs. Fish a jolly bride, for the ridiculousness of the situation struck her and she sat there and laughed heartily, while Rog seemed confused.

The meeting of the Oregon Woolgrowers Association at Heppner on the 17th, will be of unusual interest. Among other things a new constitution and by-laws will be adopted. D. Belts, of Pilot Rock, who is president, has received word from the O. R. & N. Co., that a rate of a fare and a third will be given, subject to a total attendance of fifty or more paying full railroad fare of 50 cents or more going. Parties attending this meeting will purchase one-way tickets at starting points not more than three days prior to the opening of the meeting, taking receipt therefor. These certificates when properly filled out showing full fare paid going, not more than three days prior to the opening of the meeting, signed by the secretary, showing that the holder has been in attendance at the meeting, (provided the attendance is sufficient) will be honored by the agent at Heppner up to and including one day after the close (Sundays not included) for tickets to return to starting point at one-third fare, with minimum charge of 25 cents.

It has always been a superstition in The Dalles that one fire, or death, is always followed by two others. Certainly it would seem there is some foundation for such belief as it invariably happens so. This morning about 10:30 the alarm of fire was again heard, and this time the scene of conflagration was the last house on the east end of Third street, owned by Wallace Fargher and occupied by a family named Palmateer. The neighbors noticed smoke issuing from the front room and by calling attracted the attention of Harry Lonsdale, at Moody's warehouse, who turned in the alarm. Mrs. Palmateer had gone over to the store and left the two children in the bedroom. The neighbors at once rushed in and rescued them, though we understand the youngest one, about two years old, was almost suffocated. The firemen were at once on hand, and prevented the total destruction of the building, though the front room and bedroom were destroyed and the front of the house and roof badly burned. Some damage also resulted from water. The origin of the fire is a mystery as there was no stove in the room where the fire started, and the children were unable to leave the bed room, being tied to the bed post.

MARRIED AT RATHDRUM.

Mr. Nicholas Sinnott and Miss Dora Purcell Take Upon Themselves the Marriage Vows.

Miss Dora Purcell, a niece of Father Purcell, was married yesterday morning to Nicholas Sinnott, a prominent young attorney of The Dalles, Or. The marriage took place at the church of St. Stanislaus Kostka, in Rathdrum, Idaho.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Purcell, assisted by Rev. Father Van der Ven, of Sprague, and was made memorable by the celebration of the first solemn nuptial mass ever said in Kootenai county. Special music for the mass was sung by the Main Avenue Roman Catholic church choir, of this city, under the direction of Professor Pierce.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Father Purcell's residence. The couple came to this city last evening and will leave today for the Sound cities, where they will spend a few weeks before going to The Dalles, where they will make their home.—Spokesman Review.

Mrs. I. S. Fish and Roger Sinnott, who attended the wedding, arrived home this morning.

The wedding is said to have been a very pretty one, and the principal participants to have made a handsome couple as they marched up the aisle to take upon themselves the solemn vows. Those who know the bride say she is well suited to be the companion of Mr. Sinnott, and, coming from Dalles people, among whom Nicholas has been brought up, no higher compliment could be paid her.

THE CHRONICLE desires to be among the first to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Sinnott home and extend to them its sincerest good wishes for their future.

They will be at home to their friends at the Sinnott residence, on Third street upon their return from the Sound.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Ann Smith is up from Hood River, the guest of Miss Virginia Marden.

Mrs. David Allan returned to her home in Portland today on the noon train.

Mrs. C. J. Stubling and Miss Annie have returned from their camping trip to Collins Landing.

Mr. George Goddard arrived in this city this morning and is a guest at the home of W. C. Allaway.

Prof. P. L. Campbell, of the Monmouth normal school, came up on the noon train to attend the institute.

Mrs. M. J. Willis left for Colfax today, having been called here on account of the death of W. H. Vanbibber.

Miss Minnie Michell came up on the Regulator yesterday morning, having spent her vacation at Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McInnis were returning passengers from Long Beach yesterday, coming up on the Regulator.

Miss Pearl Vanbibber arrived here yesterday from Portland to be present at the funeral of her uncle. Her father, M. D. Vanbibber, was too ill to attend.

Last Sunday Mr. William Floyd arrived in the city from Seattle and since that time he has been ill at the European house. Yesterday was the first time he has been able to be about the streets. He will remain for a week at least transacting business.

On the noon train today Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hansen and two little daughters, Anna and Ella, left for a three-months visit at their old home in Germany, Mrs. Hansen having lived at Husum and Mr. Hansen at Bredstedt, Schleswig, Holstein. The latter came to The Dalles twenty-three years ago, and two years later his best girl followed him and they were married here. This is their first visit home and they will remain three months visiting relatives. The journey will take them sixteen days. On their return trip they will visit friends in Iowa. We wish for them the pleasant trip which their industry and worth certainly warrants.
