1½ years old, was asleep on the bed. To the credit of our city be it said that indignation waxed warm as the report spread, and many a mother threw up her hands in horror at the thought of such inhuman proceedings; mothers who would not entertain the thought of leaving a child alone in the house for an hour, much less tying the little one because he had been in the habit of running away. The least that can be said is that if we have such mothers (?) in our midst the law should see that the children are protected.

Time after time have Dalles people paid 50 cents or more for an evening's entertainment which in no wise compared with that given by the promoters of the institute last night at the Congregational church, and our people appreciated Superintendent Gilbert's efforts, and turned out in large numbers to hear Professor French give his lecture on his travels, having made the journey through England mostly on a bicycle. What a privilege then for those who perhaps will never have the opportunity to make the trip, to listen to his description and have depicted on the canvas before them the beautiful isles of Scotland, the cathedrals and many of the imposing ruins and structures which are viewed by a traveler through England. It was indeed a treat, for which we feel grateful. Besides the lecture the audience was delighted at the two readings given by Miss Mamie Helen Finnn, who is indeed a talented young lady and an elocutionist of rare ability. She gave the Money-Musk and also answered to an encore. Miss Myrtle Michell sang at the opening of the entertainment "Sweetheart Sign No More," and for an encore, "Little Boy Blue," a sweet little ballad recently composed by Joyce. At the close she sang "You."

EXHIBITS FOR THE FAIR.

Minor's Cattle Will Be Here—Other Exhibits.

The exhibition of Mr. Minor's herd of short horns, at The Dalles carnival, will pay every visitor if there was nothing else on exhibition.—Arlington Record.

We know it, Mr. Record, and we assure you there'll be much else on exhibition. Our fruit exhibit will be such as to not only make your eyes dance, but your mouth water. It was splendid last year; you watch it this.

Stacks of letters are being received every day from parties who desire to make exhibits. Among other prominent exhibitors will be E. J. Bowen, of the famous seed house. Then we understand a large implement firm in Portland expect to make a great display of their wares, among which will be a large threshing machine, and a sawmill at work on the grounds. These are mentioned to give some idea of what the exhibits will be.

Work is going on rapidly at the race track. The stables are now ready for the horses and the cattle, and the grand stand will soon be constructed, and all moving along in a way that assures us the manager is just the man in the tight place.

We told our readers yesterday what to expect in the line of music, and those who have heard this famous band know that their music in itself will warrant a trip to the city.

Of Mr. Minor's cattle an exchange says: "This is one of the finest herds in America. With the herd is the great Sally Girl, champion cow of the United States in 1899. She was in all the principal fairs in 1900 in the West, and never was beaten. He also has Sassy Frantic, winner of first prize at Chicago last December, when in competition with forty of the finest calves in the United States and Canada. Mr. Minor will have five men in charge of the herd. He will exhibit them at Spokane and at the state fair at Salem, coming to The Dalles later.

Photographers' Attention!

The committee in charge of the display of photography for the district fair and carnival to be held during the first week in October, are very desirous that all persons interested in this class of work should begin in time and prepare specimens of their work or exhibition, either to enter for premiums or to help out the display and make it a credit to the district. The carnival committee will have the premium lists out within a few days, when any one desiring them can get them. Later there will be notice given of some one appointed to receive the photographs sent in for the exhibit.

Oysters at Keller's.

A full report of the school officers' meeting will be given Monday.

James Urquhart went to work today as clerk in the Grant cigar store.

The office of R. B. Gilbreth will be temporarily located at Watts' Marble Works.

Another shipment of fall suits, for boys, arrived today at A. M. Williams & Co's.

A marriage license was granted by the county clerk today to J. D. Bowman and Mary J. Lewis.

Professor Sandvig announces his social dance at the Baldwin tonight, and invites all of his friends and others, who enjoy dancing, to attend.

A few days since C. W. Stipp, of the Oregon Lumber Co., at Viento, was brought to the city and placed in the hospital, suffering with typhoid fever.

Mrs. G. W. French, wife of Contractor French, is very ill of enteritis at her home near Hartland. Dr. Eshelman who has just returned from that place, informs us that there is small hope of her recovery.

Charles Reed, a former Dalles boy and brother of Mrs. Geo. Johnston, of Dufur, has taken charge of the Dufur Dispatch. We predict for it a bright future, as Mr. Reed is just the man to make a paper hum.

Today the O. R. & N. commenced gravel work on the road between Hood River and Mosier. Seven crews will work day and night, hauling the gravel from Grants to that locality, and extra large engines will be in use.

Dr. Doane informs us that Tim Evans, who was injured in the runaway accident yesterday, is getting along nicely, and he thinks is out of danger. The little son of A. P. Vance, the victim of the runaway Monday is also improving rapidly.

Miss Taylor announces that she will open her kindergarten next Wednesday, Sept. 11th, the sessions to be held each day, commencing at 2 p. m. She will also start classes for a limited number of older children, the hours to be from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. sept 10

It Nat Goodwin and his wife canceled their engagement to a swell dinner in London last night, surely Americans should show at least as much respect for the chief executive and forego special social events until President McKinley is out of danger.

Miss Minnie Bartell, who has been one of the hello girls at the Oregon Telephone Company's office, has accepted a position with Pease & Mays and will assume her duties Monday. Miss Bernie Schooling will take the place vacated by her.

In a business letter received yesterday in The Dalles, the fact of the death of Sam Stroud, the old-time shoemaker at this place, was mentioned. No further particulars as to the date of his death, or manner were given, other than it occurred at Eddyville, Iowa.

Perhaps you "forgot to remember" that this month has an r in its name; but Andrew Keller hasn't, and he also is aware that the little letter will permit of your eating oysters, so he has anticipated your wants and is now ready for you. If you feel like eating oysters, call on him.

We notice from a Walla Walla paper that Rev. U. F. Hawk was one of the committee which acquitted Rev. Henry Brown, a former pastor of the Methodist church here, from the charge of maladministration brought about by the trial of Rev. Cool, of Spokane.

Our public schools begin next Monday, and already the children are talking school on the streets. The agents for the new books, I. C. Nickelsen and Menefee & Parkins, are well stocked with new text books and ready for the fray. It will be a lively time for them.

THE CHRONICLE is under many obligations to Prof. R. R. Allard, of the Dufur public schools, for daily reports of the institute proceedings. Were Mr. Allard less of a success as a teacher, we would say he had missed his calling and should be a newspaper man. He is a first-class reporter at any rate.

On Monday morning Contractor McCarthy started to work on the new $2,000 schoolhouse with a force of 12 carpenters. The way the work is being pushed forward proves what the contractor said about having the house ready for occupancy by the first of October.—Shaniko Leader.

Wheat is not coming in as lively as it did last week, on account of the rain. No damage has been done so far, and it is generally conceded that Wasco county wheat is pretty well secured. Further showers would injure Sherman county wheat; also Gilliam, where they have had more rain than Wasco.

The Tacoma G. A. R. veteran, who thrashed an anarchist last night when he said McKinley should have been shot long ago, did just what some one should have done in The Dalles last night when a remark was made that Roosevelt's friends were accountable for the terrible deed. Anyone who would harbor such thoughts is capable of pretty low down tricks himself.

Davenport Bros., of Hood River, have received two second-hand planing mills from the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company at Eugene, which will be installed and ready for operation Monday morning. The railroad switch will be replaced next week, and the lumber company will again have things running as they were before the fire. Work at the little sawmill was resumed Wednesday.

Monday the Regulator line of steamers will run on their new schedule, the Regulator and Dalles City will make the regular daily runs, leaving here at 7 o'clock each morning. The George W. Shaver will also remain on the route, principally as a freight boat. She (or he as we suppose George signifies) will leave The Dalles every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 6 a. m., and leave Portland Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5 a. m.

Some of our music-loving people have determined on hearing Herr Schott sing once more before he leaves for New York in October to reside permanently. We have no doubt that all who heard him upon his former visit, as well as many who were not so fortunate, will voice the sentiment of those who are endeavoring to arrange a concert for the latter part of this month. An opportunity will be given all to signify their wishes in this regard, as a paper will be circulated today or Monday for signers.

It is said that two gentlemen—one a popular young deputy district attorney and the other a court stenographer—attended the school officers' meeting this morning when they least expected. It happened in this manner: As the former entered the clerk's office this morning Judge Bradshaw requested him to go up into the court room and get some papers which he wished him to take to Menefee. Up went the young attorney, and in his customary manner, bolted into the room, when what was his surprise to find it filled with people, among whom were many young ladies. Not to be outdone he marched to the judge's table, looking all about for the papers, and finally returned having found nothing but a lot of good-looking young ladies. Later the young married man was sent on the same errand, but returned finding nothing more than his predecessor. And now they both declare Judge Bradshaw had no valuable papers in the court room.

No doubt our readers of yesterday were shocked to notice in the report of the fire that two little children had been tied to a bed post and left alone in the house while their mother was doing her shopping; that the fire started during her absence, and but for the forethought of neighbors the little ones must have suffered a terrible death. We have since learned that the oldest child, 4 years old, was tied, while the youngest,
