hops, but in reality to go to the mountains to chase and slaughter the deer unmercifully. If any one doubts the simple facts in the matter let him follow a band of Indians on one of their drives and witness the wholesale slaughter of the innocents and the crippled ones that are left to suffer and die by slow torture. Also to see the pack horses that go out of the mountains loaded every fall. The most skeptical will be convinced that the Indian is death to the game laws." Here is a field where Game Warden Quimby might exercise his talents to better advantage than merely filling the Telegram and Oregonian every little while with empty threats about the horrible punishment he is just going to inflict on violators of the game law. Really Mr. Quimby seems to do the most of his hunting down of violators of the game laws with his mouth.

R. E. Davis, who was examined in Justice Brownhill's court on the 5th instant and bound over in the sum of $300 to answer for the crime of assault with a deadly weapon on the person of Ben Wilson, of the East End, was brought before the justice again this morning and had his bonds increased to $1000. The action was taken on information of facts that were not brought to the attention of the justice clearly or at all at the examination on the 5th. The justice has since become satisfied that Davis is a dangerous and quarrelsome man when in his cups, and he is in his cups as often as circumstances of means and access to liquor permit. The very day in which Davis wantonly and without the least provocation snatched a pistol in the face of Ben Wilson, he threatened to kill an employe in an East End yard, whose only offence was a difference of opinion in a trifling matter of fact. In connection with the movement to increase Davis' bonds Ben Wilson filed an affidavit alleging that the affiant has every reason to believe that Davis is a very dangerous man and that, as a matter of fact, shortly after Davis' arrest for the assault on Wilson he offered Mr. Wilson $200 in cash and a deed to his farm somewhere should Mr. Wilson agree not to appear against him at court.

Make You a Shirt Waist.

Take an old shirt, the louder the stripe the more attractive. Grasp it firmly with the left hand just above the connection of the tail, or narrative, as it is styled in more fashionable society, and with one full swoop of the sword, cutlass or other edged instrument of war, detail it. Or you can saw it off, or lay it on the ground and with an ax or hatchet cut it off, or if you can run it through a barb wire fence and tear it off, or let it run with the cows and the calves will chew it off, but get it off. Then trade your suspenders for safety pins or buttonholes, anchor the waist firmly to your pants, step out on the street and you will be surprised how much people don't pay any attention to you. If not too much torn, mutilated, marred, and otherwise defaced you had better save the tail, as it won't be more than a week or ten days until you will be hunting some one to sew it on again. —Huntington Herald.

Favorable Conditions Still Continue.

A Washington dispatch of 9 o'clock this morning announces that the president's condition is eminently satisfactory to his physicians. Should no complications arise, his rapid convalescence is expected. At that hour his temperature was 99.8, pulse 104 and respiration 26. Another dispatch dated 3:20 p. m., Buffalo time, gave his respiration as the same, his pulse at 110 and his temperature at 100. The same favorable conditions, it was added, continue as reported in the morning.

Appreciation.

In looking back over the years spent at Mosier, as we leave to make our home elsewhere and to form new acquaintances, we are reminded of the continued kindness of our old friends, and are deeply grateful, not only for past kindness, but for the neighborly regret express as we left them. We assure our Mosier friends that wherever we may make our home in the future, their memory will always abide in our hearts.

MR. AND MRS. H. DICHENMULLER.

Said a matron member of the committee on the queen of the carnival to THE CHRONICLE this afternoon, "Please say to the boys of The Dalles, 'The ballot boxes and ballots for the queen's election have been deposited in their respective places as announced in yesterday's CHRONICLE. Now, boys, choose your best girl and let her go Gallagher.'"

The cereal committee of the street and district fair desire that farmers who have choice varieties of wheat, oats and barley, both threshed and unthreshed, shall bring samples of the same to the office of the Eastern Oregon Land Company. The prompt attention of farmers to this request will greatly facilitate the efforts of the cereal committee, while the premiums offered will, in many cases, more than compensate the farmer for his trouble.

Pete Stadlerman returned yesterday from a three-days hunting trip on Tygh Ridge, in company with Milt Anderson, the village blacksmith of Dufur. Both got home with well-filled game bags. Mr. Stadlerman says he never in the same length of time saw as many chickens. The game laws, as they relate to this noble bird, have evidently done more than merely preserve it from extinction. They have apparently resulted in an increase of numbers that ought to continually augment under the operation of the scalp bounty law in the destruction of the coyote.

A pleasant surprise was given last Wednesday in honor of Mr. George Krauss at his residence on Twenty-first street. The evening was delightfully spent till the hour of midnight in games and music, followed by a dainty refec-tion of ice cream, cake, fruit and delicious home-made confections. The following were present: Mr and Mrs Hansen, Prof and Mrs Gorham, Mr and Mrs J. Riggs, Mr and Mrs G. Bunn, Rev P. Kroger, Mrs Tompson, Mrs Schwabe, Mr and Mrs W. Hopkins, Mr Berbron Tompson, Miss F. Simonsen, W. Tryon, Misses A and M. Bunn, Tompson and Krauss, Mr and Mrs Krauss and Mr Murhardt.

The editor of this rag has had his outing and, greatly refreshed therefrom, is ready for another year's collaboration with the scissors and paste pot. Our recreation consisted in eating a chicken dinner that was cooked on a camp fire in the back yard.—Harney County News. We have also had our annual outing, which consisted in eating a Sunday chicken dinner out in the country with our mother-in-law.—Antelope Republican. Having neither a mother-in-law nor a back yard we are forced to content us with a chicken dinner—some time in the future.—Prineville Journal.

Abbie Elizabeth French, wife of G. W. French of Hartland, died this morning at her home, after a short illness, aged 69 years. The immediate cause of death was an attack of cholera morbus, from which she had not sufficient vitality to recover. The deceased, whose maiden name was Richardson, was born in Massachusetts and emigrated to this coast in 1864, residing with her husband in California for fifteen years, when they moved to Klickitat county, Washington. She leaves a husband and four sons, S. F., E. L., R. W. and G. R. French, all residents of Hartland. The funeral will take place tomorrow at 10 a. m. from the Hartland Baptist church, and the interment will be in the Hartland cemetery.

Suppose that some morning there should appear in the newspapers such an item as this: "Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Wettin, accompanied by their nephew, Mr. Frederick W. V. A. Hohenzollern, sailed yesterday from Liverpool for New York." How many people would give more than a passing glance at this announcement? Yet it would be a piece of news calculated to throw the people of New York, and the whole of this country, in fact, into a paroxysm of excitement and feverish expectation, as must be admitted when the names of King Edward VII, Queen Alexandra and Emperor William of Germany are respectively substituted for the true family names given in the supposititious item. Then there is the youthful matron, Mrs. Henry Schwerin, who wields more power than any other woman of 21 now living. She is known to the world as Welhelmina of Holland, and is the only queen in the world today with the same powers as a king.—September Ladies' Home Journal.

A correspondent of the Prineville Journal, writing from the Upper Deschutes country, says: "The Indians are coming up in droves, ostensibly to go over to the Willamette valley to pick
