WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

New furs just in at The Fair.
The Glacier urges that the town of Hood River ought to have a board of trade.

The weather forecast for tonight is cooler weather and frost in exposed places.

Take notice of our blanket display in west window. Every pair a bargain. The Fair.

Just received a new lot of Mascot kid gloves in the fall shades. The best glove for $1.25 on the market. The Fair.

The Hood River public school opened Monday with an attendance of 193, as against 180 on the opening day last year.

Patrons of the public library will please note that the library will be open tomorrow between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock.

Anton Dens and Julia Hoch, two residents of Klickitat county, were united in wedlock last evening at the O'Bar House by Rev. U. F. Hawk.

Found—A purse containing a small amount of money was left the other day at the office of Pease & Mays. The owner can have it by proving property. sep13 3t

The business men and real estate dealers of Hood River have sent to the Pan-American exposition 1300 pamphlets descriptive of the Hood River valley.

The Hood River Glacier says "Mr. Berry, on the M. V. Johnson place, East Side, sold his Spitzenberg apples last week for $1.65 a bushel, delivered in town without packing."

Word reached here today that Mrs. R. E. Clark, of Hartland, who has been ill for some time of typhoid pneumonia, complicated with inflammatory rheumatism, died at her home at 5 o'clock this morning. The deceased was a widow. She leaves a family of six children, all of whom reside in Klickitat county.

John Brookhouse, of Tygh Ridge, has just put up his threshing machine after a run of 55,000 bushels. He estimates the average yield of spring wheat at twenty bushels and of fall wheat at from thirty to thirty-five bushels. Probably the largest yield of barley on the Ridge was that of a small field belonging to J. D. Whitten. From five acres 178 sacks were obtained. This is a yield of seventy-seven bushels to the acre. The barley was of the beardless variety.

If you are going to the Portland carnival or to the state fair at Salem, take the Bailey Gatzert, leaving The Dalles at 3:30 p. m., and view the grandest scenery in the world. Music, meals and the most commodious boat on the river. It's a pleasure to ride on this boat. Passengers visiting Portland can, if they wish, secure sleeping accommodations and remain on the Bailey Gatzert overnight, which would save them going immediately to a hotel on their arrival in Portland. 13s-1w

The will of the late William H. Van Bebber was filed in the probate court yesterday. It is dated July 29, 1901, some five weeks before his death, and is witnessed by R. F. Gibbons and John M. Marden. Mr. Van Bebber leaves to his son, William P. Van Bebber, the sum of $1000, the testator having full assurance that his wife "may and will render him such further assistance as in her judgment he may properly require." All the rest of his real and personal property is left to his wife, whom he names executrix without bonds.

George Kraus today shipped a box of peaches to a friend in Portland that are beauties. The smallest measured 10 1/2 inches, and most of them measured 11 1/2 inches in diameter. They were grown on his place on the old garrison grounds, which he bought years ago and was called fool for his pains, as many supposed the sandy soil wouldn't produce anything. On the contrary, however, it will produce anything and cannot be excelled for peaches and grapes. All it needs for orchard and gardening purposes is plenty of water.

The last car of this season's green prunes will be shipped from here tonight, making forty cars of 1000 crates each, or 40,000 crates for the season. This is exclusive of what have been shipped by express, which, however, was no great amount. The shipments were almost equally divided between Sayre & Co. and the Columbia Commission Co. The larger portion were sold outright and brought from 35 to 37 1/2 cents a crate, net, at the cars. This is said to be a good living price, and speaking of it one of the largest fruit growers of the county said in the hearing of THE CHRONICLE, "If I were sure of this price all the time I would like to have a prune orchard of a thousand acres."

Henry York, a renter on the J. B. Haverly ranch, near Boyd, was arrested this afternoon by Constable Jackson on complaint of William Hastings who charges York with assault and battery. The assault was committed in front of the I. X. L. restaurant, where both parties and some friends had just partaken of dinner. A dispute arose between York and Hastings over the price

York was getting for potatoes. York claimed he was getting a dollar a sack and threw $10 on the table to back his statement. Hastings covered the bet and won the money, for the buyer of the potatoes certified that York was only getting 85 cents. The loss of the ten dollars effected York's temper so that he struck Hastings a blow, which left its mark on the right cheek. York will be tried in Justice Brownhill's court at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Two young bloods, hailing from Portland and apparently under the influence of Dalles booze, talked so loudly and loudly this afternoon in front of the Eastern Oregon Land Company's office that Mr. Parr stepped to the door of the office and asked them to move on or cease their vile talk. The bloods took this invasion of their sacred right to make blackguards of themselves as an insult and waxed worse than before, when Mr. Parr promptly gave them into the hands of Deputy Sheriff Wood. When arraigned before Recorder Doherty the now crest-fallen young blackguards begged hard, for the sake of the sorrow and disgrace their imprisonment would bring to their relatives at home, to be turned loose. Mr. Parr finally agreed not to prosecute the boys if they would come back to his office and apologize for their rudeness to the lady clerk. They did so gladly and were let go.

In all the history of the United States, or for that matter of the world, we do not believe any country can show a more prosperous condition than we are having at the present time. Never before in the writer's history has there been such a call for men. Capital is fairly pleading for labor and is offering almost fabulous wages. Just think of it! Any kind of a hobo who will even make a pretense of work is offered from $1.50 to $2.50 per day and board. And the beauty of it is that everything else is in proportion. Farmers are getting good, living prices for their produce, and money is easy. Mortgages on the homes of our people are fast disappearing and it does seem that we could ask for no more. Real estate is moving, too. Mr. Brownhill, of the firm of Hudson & Brownhill, informs us that that firm last week sold one farm on High Prairie, Washington, one 320-acre farm a few miles from town, and this week four city lots and one 6-room residence and lot. Dad Butts has been doing a thriving business. There is hardly a shack of any kind in the city to be rented for love nor money. There are but three or four vacant houses in town, and they are so far out that nobody wants them, only as a last resort. Vacant rooms are fast disappearing, and even the butcher's are complaining of "too much work."

Wanted—An office boy, Fair wages. Apply at Times-Mountaineer. $10-1w
Miss Julia Masquart, at the Beehive restaurant, will do dressmaking of all kinds. $9 1m

A FRIGHTFUL TRAIN WRECK

Two Locomotive Engineers Killed and Several Trainmen Injured.

Just as we go to press the town is shocked with the report of a train wreck that has occurred about a mile east of town in which Engineers Tom Haslam and Ed. Reese have lost their lives, and two or three other train men are more or less seriously injured. Further particulars could not be learned in time for this issue. The wreck is that of a double header gravel train.

SCENES OF SPLENDOR.

Brilliant Array of Attractions to Be Seen at the Portland Carnival.

Never in the history of the Northwest have the people been offered such enjoyable entertainment, mingled with useful instruction, as will be laid before them during the month of the Portland carnival, which will be held in the great exposition building from Sept. 18th to Oct. 19th, and also in the beautiful Multnomah field adjoining. The committee of representative business men having the carnival in charge have already made contracts involving the expenditure of $50,000 to make the carnival a success. On the music and amusements alone there will be $13,000 expended, and the other appropriations will be in proportion for the horse show, the grand military tournament, the athletic exercises, etc.

These figures will give people an idea of the grandeur and immensity of the carnival, which will be illuminated with 3800 electric lights. The music by two full military bands will be grand, and there will not be a dull moment afternoon nor evening. There will be a reproduction of Multnomah falls in the exposition building, a big working mining exhibit, a German village, a showing of all the products of the Northwest, and many other sights to see.

All railroad and steamboat lines will sell excursion tickets to the carnival good for seven days, at one and one-third fare for the round trip. People who miss the Portland carnival will miss a grand event.
