WAYSIDE CLEANINGS.

"East Lynne," At the Vogt tonight. Senator John H. Mitchell called from London for New York on Saturday. Take the O. R. & N. for fast time and low rates to the Portland exposition. Girl wanted to do general housework. Inquire at Dr. H. Logan's on Fourth street. A fresh supply of Lowrey's chocolates just received at G. C. Blakeley's pharmacy. There will be a called meeting of the W. R. C., next Friday, at their hall at 2 o'clock p. m. Your time will be spent at the Portland exposition instead of on the road if you take the O. R. & N. An army of carpenters commenced work this morning on the booths and landing of the carnival grounds. If you take the O. R. & N. for the Portland exposition one day will be equal to three days if you go via any other line. Wanted—To rent, by ex-Slate Printer F. C. Baker, an eight or nine room residence of modern appointments. For further particulars apply at Grant's cigar store. The postoffice will be closed tomorrow at 10 a. m. for the remainder of the day. The front door will be opened at 6 p. m. so that the public may have an opportunity to deposit mail in the letter box. Jim Winn, whose family resided in the Heeler neighborhood, was brought to The Dalles hospital yesterday from Sherman county, suffering with typhoid fever. Mr. Winn had been working in the harvest fields. J. E. A'cock is no longer in the employ of J. E. A'cock & Co., jewelers and opticians, and the business will be conducted in future in the name of Theodore H. Linn, who has been for months the sole proprietor. In memory of the late President McKinley, who was a member of the B. P. O. E., the class of Cascade Lodge, No. 22, will be draped in mourning for the next thirty days. This is done by official order of the district deputy grand exalted ruler of the state of Oregon.

For the Oregon state fair, Sept. 23d to 28th, the O. R. & N. Co. will sell through tickets Dalles to Salem via Portland and the Southern Pacific Railway for $5.00 for the round trip. Tickets sold Sept. 19th limited until Sept. 24th; tickets sold Sept. 25th and limited to expire Oct. 1, 1901.

A Portland paper says: "It is now reported that the necessary 10,000 subscribers have been secured for the new Portland daily and that the ten typesetting machines, two presses, etc., have been ordered. The S. F. Examiner emphatically denies the report that W. R. Hearst is backing the enterprise.

The Shaniko Leader says: "O. C. Cooper has sold out his entire interest in the harness and saddlery business at Shaniko to Henry L. Kuck, of The Dalles. Mr. Kuck will continue business at the old stand, and will keep constantly on hand a full line of harness, saddles, chaps, and everything pertaining to the line. Mr. Cooper will work for Mr. Kuck as foreman of his shop at The Dalles."

The CHRONICLE office is indebted to Mr. J. M. Benson of Five Mile for a basket of probably the largest peaches that came to The Dalles this year. At any rate there was a dozen of them and they averaged in weight 1 1/2 ounces and averaged in circumference 1 1/2 inches. Three of them measured twelve inches in circumference and weighed twelve ounces each. A box of the same kind, equally large, can now be seen at the grocery department of Mays & Crowe. It is intended, if possible, to keep them for exhibition at the coming fair. They are of the variety known as Squashhannahs and were introduced on Five Mile about twenty years ago by Robert Thompson. They are of delicious flavor and if any one in Oregon can beat them for size we would like to hear from him.

The CHRONICLE notes with pleasure that the militia boys have spent a liberal sum of money for the improvement of the acoustics of the Vogt opera house. This really fine hall, amply large enough for The Dalles for all ordinary purposes, was sadly in need of the improvements that have been made. It was impossible to enjoy a play or a lecture in it, for the voices of the speaker was lost in the numerous corners of the lofty ceiling. These corners have all been gracefully rounded off, while the walls and ceiling have been handsomely painted in warm shades of reddish gray. It is believed the main object the militia boys had in view in making these improvements, namely the bettering of the acoustics, will be largely attained. It is possible, too, that the writer has proved by actual experience, to have quite distinctly a person speaking from the stage in a moderate tone of voice while the speaker stands at the back part of the hall. We predict greater enjoyment for the patrons of this hall in the future and sincerely hope that the expenditure of the militia boys in this much-needed improvement may be amply rewarded.

Mr. F. A. French made the round of all the business houses and work shops of the city today and found that the proprietors and managers of all of them most gladly and willingly signed an agreement to suspend business tomorrow during the hours of the public services in memory of President McKinley. The banks, warehouses, business houses and shops will close all day, and the saloons and cigar stores will close from 10 to 4 o'clock. This spontaneous and general suspension of all business that can be suspended is highly creditable to the people of The Dalles.

Notice to the Singers of the City.

All who sing are urged to be present at the memorial service to be held tomorrow afternoon in Court street school yard at 2 p. m. and form a combined choir to lead in the singing of the hymns.
