THE MURDERER OF THE PRESIDENT

Placed on Trial Before a Jury of Twelve Men in Buffalo Yesterday.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Leon F. Czolgosz was placed on trial this morning, charged with the murder of William McKinley, president of the United States. He entered a plea of "guilty," which was subsequently changed to "not guilty" by the direction of the court. All events of the day indicated that the trial will be short. Court convened at 10 o'clock, and within two hours eight jurors had been secured. Technicalities were not raised by the examining counsel, but it was significant that every man who said he had formed an opinion of the case was excused by the district attorney. Those who acknowledged they had formed an opinion or stated that they were prejudiced, but admitted that their opinion could be changed by evidence, were accepted by each side.

Before the day was over the entire panel had been sworn. Justice Thurman C. White was on the bench. The presentation of the government's case began shortly before 3 o'clock, when Assistant District Attorney Haller began to address the jury. He spoke briefly: "We shall show," said he, "that for some days prior to the shooting the defendant had premeditated the shooting of the president. He knew that on the 6th of September the president would receive the populace in the Temple of Music; that on that day he went to the exposition, got into line with the people and approached the president; that he had a weapon concealed in his hand, and as the president extended his hand in kindly greeting, he fired the fatal shot."

The first witness, Samuel J. Fields, chief engineer at the Pan-American Exposition, described the ground floor plan of the Temple of Music, and was followed by Perry A. Bliss, the photographer, who presented views of the interior of the building.

The remainder of the afternoon was taken up with the testimony of three physicians, two of whom had attended the president during his last days, while the other performed the autopsy. The latter, Dr. Harvey R. Gaylord, described the location of the wounds of the stomach and the direction of the bullet. The cause of death was attributed to a gunshot wound, but fundamentally, it was due to the changes back of the stomach, in the pancreas, caught by the breaking down of the material of the pancreas as the result of the passage of the bullet.

Dr. Hermann Myer followed and his testimony brought out the fact that the reason why the fatal bullet had not been located by the autopsy, was because of the unwillingness of the president's relatives to have the body further mutilated by instruments.

Czolgosz, during the morning, evinced no interest whatever in the proceedings, but as the testimony was introduced he paid more attention, and looked at the various witnesses closely.

The probable duration of the trial, it is believed, can be placed at two full days. When District Attorney Penney was asked by Justice White, at noon, as to the time he would take in the presentation of the case, he declared he would conclude by Tuesday noon. Judge Tamm, for the defense, was non-committal, however, and merely replied: "That depends upon the turn things take."

It is not probable that any defense will be put in, owing to the character of the prisoner and his refusal to help his attorneys in any way to procure evidence which they could use in his favor. The idea of an attempt to enter a question of his sanity is not thought of, in view of the reports of two alienists who have recently examined him, and these are ground for the belief that the trial will be concluded with the conviction of him one day more.

Anarchists Not Free.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The nine anarchists who have been under arrest here since the assassination of President McKinley were today given their freedom, Judge Chetlain so ordering after the prosecution had answered that there was no legal evidence against them. Emma Goldman was not a party to the proceedings. Her case is set for hearing tomorrow before Magistrate Prindeville, where she, as well as the nine men freed today, are charged with conspiracy to murder President McKinley. The cases in the lower court with reference to the men is, of course, nullified by the action of Judge Chetlain today. Miss Goldman will also be set at liberty, as Justice Prindeville has agreed to take such action in her case as the upper court took in the case of the men. Attorney Brown said he would try to have Miss Goldman freed today.

When the court ordered the liberation of the prisoners there was not a trace of jubilation in their faces. They were sent back to jail, where they collected their belongings, chiefly magazines and newspapers, and then came down stairs, where they met friends and members of their families. For the first time they showed evidence of pleasure. The party then departed in various directions, retaining police protection to their homes.

Emma Goldman received the news of the liberation of her friends with a laugh.

"I guess they'll have to let me go now," she said. "It has been shown that the men named as conspirators with me did not conspire; and I fancy they would have trouble trying to show I conspired all by myself."

Valuable Results Obtained.

New York, Sept. 23.—The work of the royal commission on history, with manuscripts in Scotland and Ireland, is making steady progress, and some reports of exceptional interest to students may shortly be looked for, says the Tribune's London correspondent. Among the forthcoming calendars of collections in Ireland are two which will receive particular hearty welcome. One of the volumes will be, in effect, a supplement to a report issued sixty years ago, upon the archives of the town of Galway. Former conditions of life in Galway were peculiar, inasmuch as, owing to its geographical position, the administration of the town, was, to a great extent, beyond the immediate control of the government in Dublin. The municipal records show in detail the arrangements by which the Galway authorities legislated for the civic community within their walls and regulated transactions with the occasionally hostile people of adjacent districts as well as with traders from England and the continent. Another Irish collection in regard to which further information is promised is that preserved at the Dublin College of the Irish Franciscans. This collection includes papers of rare value on the labors of establishments founded by Irish missionaries in England and on the continent.

Nebraska Inmate Asylum Burned.

NONPROK, Neb., Sept. 23.—The asylum for the insane of this city was almost completely destroyed by fire today. It is believed that three inmates were burned to death. The fire originated from some unknown cause in the west wing of the institution. Loss on buildings and contents will probably reach $300,000. Owing to the early hour and the unpreparedness of the fire department, little could be done in the effort to save the institution. There were 600 inmates in the main building and the efforts to rescue them were difficult in the extreme.

Shrieks and yells of some of them filled the air and many fought against the attempts of the rescuers. Others were completely cowed, and attendants had no difficulty in leading them out of the burning building. Three of the inmates are found to be missing. There were eleven buildings in all on the grounds, and but three of them were saved.
