

Style...

The element of style enters more largely every year in the determination of the value of clothing. Without it the best efforts of the retailer are wasted.

PEASE & MAYS' perfect-fitting clothing not only embraces the season's advanced patterns and fabrics but the workmanship,—the merchant-tailor kind is there, the kind that breeds confidence and makes a man look stylish and up-to-date.

Guaranteed all-wool suits from $8.00 to $25.00.

New Stiff Hats,
New Monarch Shirts.

Underwear from $1.00 to $8.00 per suit.

Smart Looking

is the woman who comes down the street with a trim-fitting pair of street boots, made on a mannish last. Her tread is firm and solid, because the soles extend and are broad on the bottom. She is indeed a sensible woman. Box call, vici kid, all sizes and widths; some with extension soles and rope stitch, the typical mannish shoe, so stylish and sensible.

Special good values at $2.50, $3, $3.50 and $4.

Grass Valley Journal says: "Quite a few of the Sherman county people will attend the coming district fair and carnival."

The town is already thronged with people who have come here to participate, in one way or other, in the fair and carnival.

Mr. Charles Beebe and Miss Emma Rains, of Wapinitia Flat, were united in marriage in this city, this forenoon, by Recorder Doherty.

Just arrived. The largest and most

The Dalles Dispatch thinks threshing will not be fully ended on Tygh Ridge for a week to come. The rains of the first of the week have caused considerable delay.

Parties having rooms to let during carnival week should communicate at once with the accommodation committee at the secretary's office on the carnival grounds. 28c 3t

Even the wretched Utopian socialist does not know in these parts as the "Appeal to Reason" has become half dead in its attacks on the existing order of things since the assassination of President McKinley.

The directors of The Dalles school district ask Tax Comptroller to announce that the schools will be dismissed for the afternoon of next Monday in order to give the pupils an opportunity to witness the parade.

Visitors to the city during the carnival can facilitate the finding of suitable accommodations by applying to any one of the members of the committee on accommodations, whose headquarters are at the secretary's office on the carnival grounds.

The executive committee of the carnival respectfully asks the business men of the city to close their places of business next Monday afternoon from 1 to 4.
Compliance with this request, which is fully expected, will enable the several fire companies to appear in the parade in full force.

Brother Ireland, of the Moro Observer, who is an interested, if not interesting, widower on the shadowy side of 40, at least, says "there is an old maid over in Tygh Valley who recently quit wearing stays, on a resolution that if she can't get anything better than that to hug her she will go without the embrace."

Carnaby's market this morning had nine boxes of strawberries from the Denton gardens on Mill creek that looked as fine and actually were as large as many of the early berries. As they are too rich for a newspaper man's blood at 25 cents a box, this deponent knows nothing from actual experience as to how they taste, and never expects to.

The Shastana County Pioneer enters a strong and just protest against certain sheepmen who have allowed their sheep to ruin the famous huckleberry patch back of Stevenson, where Indians have been accustomed to gather berries from time immemorial. It is just such hog-gish doings as this that have made thousands hate to have the presence of a sheep in their neighborhood.

County Clerk Lake has had applications from two young couples to submit to the ordeal of a public wedding on the closing evening of the carnival. The first was promptly accepted and the couple are confidently expected to be on time. The second couple are residents of Sherman county, but their application came too late. Mr. Lake, however, has written them asking them to be here in case of an emergency through the illure of the first couple. The names of both parties are known only to themselves and the county clerk.

The executive committee of the district fair have made the following changes in the speed program as previously announced in the premium list.
The trotting race, No. 8, which is billed to come off Thursday, has been changed to take place Wednesday; and the poney race, No. 5, announced for Wednesday, has been changed to take place Thursday. Race No. 10 is made a residing race for ponies, fourteen hands and less. The purse for the pony race has been reduced from $10 to $5, the management, on reflection, having come to the conclusion that $75 was too large a purse—relatively, at least—for a race of that kind.

Secretary Williams, of the district fair, is advised that W. O. Minor, the Morrow county owner of the famous herd of short horn cattle, will attend the fair with the thirteen head he exhibited at the state fair. One of these is the celebrated cow, "Sally Girl," which has been awarded ten first-class medals in ten consecutive exhibitions.
A stockman who saw the cow at the Salem fair told THE CHRONICLE today that the animals were worth going miles to see; they were the great attraction of their class at the state fair and they are bound to be the great attraction at the district fair.

W. H. Williams was arrested yesterday at a little station known as Barn-hard, this side of Pendleton, on the charge of having forged and disposed of some thirty-eight Union Pacific time checks, aggregating $15,000. The forgery was done in Wyoming and Williams was followed here by Sheriff James, of the notorious Hole in the Wall county, and Detective Wheeler, of the Union Pacific Company. James and Wheeler came to The Dalles yesterday morning in search of their man and were promptly put on his trail by Deputy Sheriff Wood. Williams, it appears, had, only a few weeks ago, been in the employ of the O. R. & N. Co. as an operator at Browns and Mr. Wood became acquainted with him there. Recently Williams had been placed in a similar position at Barnhard. After obtaining this information the officers left on the first eastbound train, and finding their man without trouble they telegraphed the result to Mr. Wood. It is presumed Williams has consented to go back to Wyoming without a requisition from Governor Geer, as, in the event of his arrest, he was to have been brought here while one of the officers went to Barnhard for the papers. Williams is described as a young man of good address, well educated and of more than ordinary ability as an operator.

Notice to Competitors for McCrum Table

The committee on the McCrum table to be competed for in the coming week, have decided that all bids to be entered must be given to them by 11 a. m.
Thursday, next; that each bid must be marked with a card attached bearing a legibly-written number; and that an envelope containing a similar card and also the name of the bread-maker shall be deposited, the seal of which is not to be broken until after the award is made.
Lastly, they suggest that each competitor shall attach the name of the milling bread from which the bread was made.
By order of the committee.
E. M. Wilson, Chairman.
