STRONG, ABLE CHIEF

Senator Mitchell, Has Confidence in Roosevelt—High Opinion of His Ability.

New York, Sept. 28.—Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, who has just returned from a brief trip to Europe, is at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. He was in Paris when the news came of the assassination of President McKinley, and the news of the president's death reached him just before his steamer sailed for home from Cherbourg. Senator Mitchell said today: "The news of this terrible tragedy was a great shock and it saddened the heart of every American on shipboard throughout our homeward voyage. I have been interested since landing in reading the papers and catching up with the events of the past week. I have no words adequate to express my grief for the fallen statesman and my sympathy with his stricken widow."

"I have read with great interest and with high appreciation of its dignified lucidness the announcement of President Roosevelt that he would carry out unbroken the policy of President McKinley. It is my conviction that Mr. Roosevelt will prove to be a strong, able Chief Magistrate. He has a big brain and a big heart. He is fully equipped to grapple with all the problems that confronted his predecessor. His has been a solemn and impressive induction into office."

Senator Mitchell expressed a disinclination to discuss the question of reciprocity as outlined in the last public speech of President McKinley. He remarked that the text of the treaties that had been negotiated was confidential and was familiar only to members of the senate committee on foreign relations. It was obviously too soon to discuss other treaties that might yet be negotiated.

"The subject that will most interest me in Washington this winter," said Senator Mitchell, "is the construction of a trans-Isthmian canal. I am not prepared to talk about a proposition that I have only recently seen reported, the purchase of the Panama Canal. I am curious to know what the report of our canal commission will set forth as to the relative merits of the Nicaragua and Panama routes."

Senator Mitchell was instrumental in causing the creation of a special committee of the senate on the Isthmian Canal, which was formerly in the jurisdiction of the committee on foreign relations.

Miss Stone's Case
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—This statement was made today touching the case of Miss Stone, the American missionary kidnaped by Bulgarian brigands:

"The department of state will do everything within its international and legal powers to relieve the situation. The limitations upon the department's activities indicated in the above statement are severe. There is no warrant or law for the expenditure of a single cent of money from the United States treasury for ransom and the inference is that the department's action, if indeed any is taken, will be along diplomatic lines, leading to induce the Bulgarian and Turkish governments to undertake to release the captive."

THE AMERICAN YACHT WINS

Columbia Still the Queen of the Cup Racers, With the Shamrock II Second.

New York, Sept. 28.—In the closest and most soul-stirring race ever sailed for America's cup, the white flyer Columbia today beat the British challenger over the windward and leeward course of thirty nautical miles, by the narrow, heart-breaking margin of thirty-nine seconds. As Lipton's latest aspirant for cup honors must allow the defender 48 seconds on account of the extra 833 square feet of canvas in her sail area, the official record gives her a victory by one minute and twenty-two seconds.

A spectacle the contest was as superb. From the time the two sky-scraping racers crossed the starting line until they had crossed the finish line four and a half hours later, the result was in doubt, and the excitement aboard the excursion boats increased until men became frenzied and women became almost hysterical. So evenly matched were these two scientific racing machines, that never after they started were the rival ships out of each other's hall, and more than three-quarters of the time they were so close that Oberly Bear, who had the tiller aboard the Columbia, could have tossed a biscuit to Captain Spearmore on the Shamrock.

Visit With Miss Stone.
Paris, Sept. 28.—A Paris newspaper correspondent sends word to the Herald on the staff of "Miss Stone" is so pleased that he has just returned from a visit to Miss M. Stone, of the American Board of Foreign Missions, who is held by brigands in a mountainous region of Turkey. The correspondent writes that he succeeded in locating Miss Stone in an almost inaccessible mountainous dell. The chief of the outlaws permitted the correspondent to see Miss Stone and talk with her.

Miss Stone told her visitor that she had been treated with amazing courtesy since her capture. Two brigands were detailed to act as her personal servants, providing her with good food and showing her every attention. The brigands had instructions to obey her merest whim, and to show with what degree of consideration she was treated she told the newspaper man that having exhausted all of the film of her kodak, she had said that she wished she had more. The desire was repeated to the chief of the brigands who at once posted a courier off to Constantinople to secure a supply for her. This meant a week of steady traveling by mule over dangerous and rocky mountain paths.

The leader of the brigands told the correspondent that unless a ransom of $150,000 was forthcoming within thirty days, Miss Stone would either be put to death or compelled to marry one of the bandits. It is believed that the bandit will keep his word. The situation recalls the capture by these same brigands in the same region six years ago of Mme. Gerard de Trinovilla, a beautiful French woman, who is now a Carmelite nun. Through the dishonesty of a Turkish official by whom the ransom was negotiated, the money failed to reach the bandits. The lovely French girl was therefore forced to become the wife of a member of the outlaw gang. She was rescued seven months later in a battle in which her father killed her bandit husband.

In the Death Cell.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Warden Meade today gave out the following: "Onalges has eaten his meals regularly and has had no conversation with any of the other condemned men. He answered questions in regard to his meals, etc., which were put to him by the officers, but aside from that he has said nothing. Part of the time yesterday he lay on his bed and the rest of the time he spent in walking up and down his cell."

Prison Physician Garis visited Onalges yesterday and again this morning, but found no need for his services.

In addition to the hundreds of requests from all over the country for invitations to witness the execution, Warden Meade today received numerous requests for the autograph of Onalges and also came from medical men for pictures of his head after he shall have paid the death penalty.
