Our Marriage Laws.

New York, Oct. 14.—A London dispatch to the New York Times quotes the London Times as commenting editorially on the discussion regarding marriage and divorce laws by the convention of the Protestant Episcopal church at San Francisco. The London Times says it sympathizes with the bishops in the difficulties which they and the clergy throughout America have to encounter. The condition of the marriage laws is a subject whereon enlightened Americans, however confident of their institutions they may be, speak despondently, though they may justly resort to criticisms that the marriage laws in New England are now above reproach. The most obvious reform in America, says the London Times, would be to pass a national law on the subject, but apart from the constitutional impediments in the way of such a step, the condition of public opinion does not encourage such legislation. Twenty-five years hence another Protestant Episcopal Convention may be debating the same problem, with no clearer prospect of its solution than exists at present.

United After Twenty Years Separation. CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Separated for forty years, ignorant of each other's whereabouts and not even knowing if brothers or sisters were still alive, six members of the family of Joseph Cromack, once a resident of Cleveland, met in Austin yesterday. The reunion was unique in that the brothers and sisters were hardly able to recognize each other. The meeting took place at the home of Mrs. William R. Ryder, and those participating in it are Mrs. Ryder, William C. McCromack, Oil City, Pa.; Mrs. Maria McGonegal, Romeville, Pa.; Joseph Chamberlain, Santa Barbara, Cal.; Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain, Akron, O., and Mrs. Emma Dougall, Palmyra, Neb. The meeting was brought about by a comparative stranger, who once boarded at the Ryder house in Austin. He traveled in the East several years ago, and heard the family name of his friends. This was in Pennsylvania, and it took three years of correspondence to locate the widely separated relatives.
