GOVERNOR GEER SPOKE IN OHIO

Said That Democrats Are Worse Than Trusts—His Audience Agreed With Him.

WAVERLY, O., Oct. 22.—When Governor Geer, of Oregon, said this afternoon, in substance, that "Democrats are worse than trusts," the 6000 people who had assembled to hear him and Senator Hanna nearly went wild. It was one of the first catchy utterances of the political season, and is likely to be taken up as a campaign cry. Before he had spoken two minutes, the big and brilliant Oregon executive had his audience completely captivated and his speech was frequently interrupted by applause.

Governor Geer reviewed the democratic party from 1887 to the present, calling special attention to the prevalence of free soup-houses whenever democrats were in power, the lack of public confidence and the hard times that inevitably came upon the country in consequence of democratic rule. In ten minutes after the election of Cleveland, hard-times set in and lasted until the republican party was restored to power. He read from the democratic state platform and called attention to its inveighing against trusts and combinations of capital, which in a way is all right, but, said the speaker, there are worse things than trusts, and among them is either a state of national democratic administration. Continuing, he said:

"The eyes of the great West are upon Ohio. If the republicans of this great state suffer the banner of the martyred McKinley to trail in the dust, we, who are lulled to sleep by the murmuring waters of the great Pacific, cannot believe that you will. When the thunders of the battle of November 5th have rolled away, we expect to be borne to our ears upon the winds of the lightning the glorious news that the victory is once more yours and that for two years more, at least, the beneficent policy of the departed McKinley is to continue in full force and effect."

Senator Hanna emphasized the importance of the present campaign both as regards the state and Nation. He said the country is now prosperous as it never has been before, and that it would be best to let well alone. He pleaded for republicans to sustain the McKinley policies and triumphantly to re-elect Governor Nash and return Foraker to the senate.

Hunter Killed and Eaten by Wild Beast

METROPOLIS, Ill., Oct. 22.—News has been received here that a hunter was killed and partly eaten by a wild animal among the bluffs near Glendale, twenty miles from here. Another hunter heard the man's cries, and on reaching the spot was horrified to see the savage beast crouching over the dead form of his companion and tearing at his mangled and bleeding flesh, a large portion of which had already been eaten. When the animal saw the second hunter it sprang at him and a desperate fight followed. By the use of a hunting knife he fought the animal off. There were evidences that the dead hunter and beast had a fierce struggle.

An Explanation.

T. A. Van Norden has seen fit to announce that the firm of J. E. Adcox & Company is extinct. The firm name is extinct it is true, but, as everybody knows, the business continues as before, and I have been its sole owner since December 10, 1900, since which time Mr. Adcox worked for me for wages till about a month ago, when I discharged him for drunkenness and for taking and pawning a gold watch left in my care for repairs. Those sending watches from a distance intended for J. E. Adcox & Co. will please address them to myself, where they will receive the attention of as skilled a watchmaker as there is in this city. All work done at my store is guaranteed, as this has always been my method of doing business.

EVIDENCE OF FOUL CRIME

The Body of a Girl Found in a Trunk in a Deserted Mining Tunnel.

WALLA WALLA, Oct. 22.—Frank Virod, a prospector in the Salmon River country, found in an old tunnel near his shack in the Blue Mountains a trunk containing a human body, bent and twisted to fit the receptacle. It had been left there by a man and a woman, who had passed through six weeks before. Virod did not know they had left it. The discovery was made two months ago. Only by accident was the information secured from him on his first trip out of the mountains. He is now on his way to Washuena county.

Who the man and woman were Virod does not know, and he has no idea who the victim was. He says they came last June and said they had lost their way. They camped all night in a tunnel near his shack. Next morning they went away. In August Virod looked in the tunnel and found a trunk containing the body. He thought it was the body of a girl 6 or 8 years old. The skull had been cleft by an ax and the legs broken. He buried the trunk. He says the woman who left the trunk was about forty years old, dark, and dressed in black. The man was tall, dark and had a squint.

No Trace of the Captors of Miss Stone

New York, Oct. 22.—From Samakov correspondents the Journal and Advertiser has obtained the following details concerning the parent of the kidnapers of Miss Stone, the American missionary:

"Your correspondent has just returned to Samakov after a fortnight's vain endeavor to get into communication with the brigands. At Dinmeyer the Katsman, or local governor, refused to give a written statement, but told your correspondent of the track taken by the brigands into Bulgarian territory.

"The brigands are still wandering around that region, near Gulep, and the two governments, with gendarmes, soldiers and secret agents are trying to find them. The four brigands who have been arrested stoutly maintain that they are not connected with the band that captured Miss Stone. They have been summoned to appear at Dubnitz, and be examined by a Turkish special commission. This may be a Turkish effort to make Protestants appear as accomplices in the Stone capture.

"Owing to the severe frost prevailing in the mountains, all efforts to send parcels of clothes and other necessaries to Miss Stone, who must be suffering from the cold, have been baffled. All attempts to communicate with the brigands have been unsuccessful. The bandits are apparently afraid of treachery, and determined not to disclose their hiding place."

Priest Visits Czoigoos.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 22.—In accordance with Czoigoos' wishes, the Rev. John J. Heeky, pastor of the Church of the Holy Family and the Catholic chaplain of the prison, he has appointed Rev. Father Szadziński, pastor of the Polish church of Rochester, to attend Czoigoos in his last hours. He visited the assassin today. After his baptism, Czoigoos never practiced his religion, and as an anarchist denounced all its tenets. He will make a statement to this effect before his death.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often gained in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Rosche's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Blakeley's drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac.

Hudson, Brownhill & Butts have for rent two good farms of 160 acres each; one for cash rent, and the other for half the crop, the owner furnishing everything. Both are good propositions. Write or call at the office. 11-6awd
