IRISH POWER IN PARLIAMENT

Emerald Isle Has Too Many Members, Says Chamberlain.

EDINBURGH, Oct. 23.—Mr. Chamberlain, colonial secretary, addressing more than 3000 persons in Waverly Market, Edinburgh, announced that the government intended to frame new rules for the house of commons, so as to limit Irish obstruction.

"We purpose," he says, "to bring forward rules which shall give to the majority of the commons greater control over its own business and greater control over the men who insult and outrage it, and we shall endeavor to protect the mother of parliaments from those who would destroy her usefulness and reputation."

But this is not the only thing Mr. Chamberlain declared the government intends to do.

"The present representation of Ireland is," he said, "an abuse and scandal. No alteration could be made except in immediate anticipation of a general dissolution, and we are not contemplating that. But when we get nearer to the time we shall ask you whether you think Irish representation is so precious to you, is so valuable to the national interests that it is desirable to allow it on a scale which gives the Irish a representation enormously exceeding the proportionate representation of Scotland and England."

The colonial secretary went on to point out that on the basis of population Ireland had thirty members too many in the house of commons, and on the basis of her contributions for imperial purposes, as considered at the time of the union, she had from forty to fifty members too many.

"I say that this constitutes an abuse," he continued, "and there is no reason why it should be perpetuated."

In another portion of the speech, which was largely devoted to the Irish question, he observed:

"If these gentlemen who now openly shout for the Mahdi and pray for the Boers, if they had a parliament of their own, if all of the strings of Irish government had been in their hands, if they had the power, it is certain they would have refused to have paid their contribution to the war, and that would have placed us in a position of embarrassment."

The relations of the parliamentary opposition of the Irish party, Mr. Chamberlain said, he considered "dangerous to the empire."

In reviewing the war in South Africa, which he declared ought to have been forced upon Great Britain by the Boers, he said the government acknowledged that it had made a mistake as to the time of ending the war, and that he admired the tenacity of the Boers, but he insisted that it was the duty of Great Britain to meet this tenacity with equal resolution. Then followed what is regarded as a most important declaration.

"I think the time has come, or is coming," said the colonial secretary, "when measures of greater severity may be necessary, and if that time comes we can find precedents for anything we do in the actions of those nations who now criticize our barbarity and cruelty, but whose examples in Poland, in the Caucasus, in Algeria, in Tonquin, in Bosnia and in the Franco-German war, we have never approached."

Roosevelt Will Come West.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—In reply to an invitation to visit the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, extended by the delegates of these states to the Scottish His Majesty's convention, President Roosevelt today said he would visit these states "unless business is more unkind to me than I think it will be." The delegate from Idaho got in a word about the president's hand, and the latter laughingly replied: "Yes, sir, mountain lions are all right, too."

He will not have time to visit Idaho and Washington, but will visit Oregon and Idaho.

WANT NO REVISION

Republican Leader, Opposed to Tariff Changes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Each member of the ways and means committee in turn finds some reason why nothing should be done in the way of tariff revision at the coming session of congress. Hopkins of Illinois, a member of the committee, seems to have thought out a real practical suggestion and says:

"Tariff revision and further reduction of the internal revenue should not be undertaken at the coming session of congress. If we are to build the isthmian canal, and it seems to me that legislation to authorize such a canal is assured this winter, there will be use for many millions of dollars of government money. Then, if we pass a river and harbor bill at the approaching session, it will call for many millions more. These two measures can be counted on to absorb all the surplus which may accumulate in the treasury from the present rate of taxation."

To those people who want river and harbor improvements and want a Nicaragua Canal constructed, this statement of Hopkins, will appeal with some force, as the revenue is needed for public works of that character. Hopkins, as well as other members of the committee, however, missed the point that most of the tariff reformers are aiming at, which is a reduction of the tariff upon the high-protected trust-made articles which are sold cheaper abroad than at home. It begins to look as if the various arguments made by republican leaders to prevent any tariff legislation is likely to prevail. Apparently good excuses for not legislating are being produced in abundance.

The Leprosy Question.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—United States Consul Nelson, at Bergen, Norway, has sent a report to the Marine Hospital Service, in which he says that the prevalence of leprosy in Denmark must be imputed to the uncleanness and the grotesque carelessness of the people. He says there are six leprosy patients there, of whom four are in Copenhagen. In Denmark, leprosy does not follow to those few diseases which are subjected to public treatment. Iceland has its own leprosy law. At the Langarnes hospital in Iceland, established by the Odd Fellows' order, thirty-one patients were received during 1899, and of these eighteen are now dead and only two have been discharged as fully recovered. Relapses were usual in leprosy cases. The death rate has been fearfully high, which is somewhat offset by the fact that that was the first year of the hospital work, and the worst of Iceland's population first were admitted. The report says that Dr. Armercurer Hansen, of Bergen, has found the leprosy bacillus, but its antagonist is not yet discovered. The Icelanders are declared to be imprudent, the sick people using the same beds, eating and drinking utensils as the healthy.

Powers Again Convicted.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Oct. 23.—Ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers was today again convicted as accessory before the fact to the murder of Governor William E. Goebel in January, 1900, and the second time sentenced to imprisonment for life. The second trial began October 8th, and has continued with three sessions daily, court adjourning late each night. The present term of court expired tonight. Arguments were limited so that the case went to the jury at 2 o'clock this morning, and a verdict of guilty was returned.

Powers sat pale and motionless when the verdict was announced by the foreman, B. B. Carter, his old schoolmate. Opposite Powers on the other side of the courtroom, with the attorneys, sat Arthur Goebel, brother of the late senator and governor, with his eyes fixed on the prisoner. The attorneys of Powers shook his head, expressing aloud their belief in his innocence. Women crowded around Powers, embracing and kissing him, and tears were shed.

The defense having filed a motion for a new trial, Judge Cantrell heard arguments immediately on the petition. The motion for a new trial was overruled and the case will be appealed. The judgment is suspended pending the decision of the higher tribunal. Powers was taken to Frankfort on an evening train and committed to jail without bail.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boesche's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Blakeley's drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac. 1

Do you suffer from piles? If so do not turn to surgery for relief. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve will act more quickly, surely and safely, saving you the expense and danger of an operation. Clarke & Falk's P. O. Pharmacy.
