Again a Republican.

RENO, Nev., Oct. 26.—United States Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, made the announcement to his friends today that the evolution of political issues found him again in alignment with the republican party.

"I have suffered no change in any of the convictions I have entertained in the past," said the senator, "and my return to the republican party does violence to none of those convictions. I am as sincere a believer in the doctrine of bimetalism as when I left the republican party solely for that cause, and were the conditions today as then, I would be numbered among those defending it. The enormous output of gold, however, has accomplished what bimetalism would have accomplished. The silver issue is dead, and we are face to face with other issues. I have always acted with the republican party upon every question but silver. I believe that in the alignment of political parties today the republican party is the only one in touch with the economic progress of the 20th century."

Brain Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. C. Green's reliable remedies at Blakeley's drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac. 1

It is certainly a wonderful remedy and we sell every bottle on a positive guarantee. Blakeley, the druggist.

BETTER THAN A FENCE.

Troublesome Monkeys Kept at a Distance by Daubing with Treacle and Tartar Emetic.

In "A Sportswoman in India" Miss Savory writes entertainingly of the monkeys in the foothills of the Himalayas. For cool impudence and audacity, she says, these hill monkeys stand unrivaled; they slip into the bungalows at Dalhousie and carry off anything from the breakfast or tea table, if the room is empty. They spring from tree to tree, from house to house—a motley, it may be, with two young ones clinging to her, a loaf of bread in one hand and a bunch of bananas in her mouth, which she had just "sneaked" from a dining-room.

"Of course, monkeys are very troublesome in plantations. Few men can shoot a monkey; they are too human-like and pathetic when wounded. We met an Englishman who was trying to protect his sugar cane patch with a great trench and a palisade covered with nails. All to no purpose.

"He walked down to it one morning and found a row of monkeys seated on the palisade. The moment he came within reach they threw his own sugar cane into his face, after which they got down and strolled away, leisurely munching.

"Such things were not to be borne. Our friend chased a flock into a tree, felled the tree and caught four or five young monkeys. The parents waited near, in great consternation, anxiously watching while their infants were painted from head to foot with treacle and tartar emetic. On being allowed to go they rushed off into the food and welcoming arms, and were instantly carried up into the woods, and there assiduously licked clean from top to toe by their affectionate parents.

"The natural effects followed, and the pitiable condition of the old monkeys can scarcely be imagined. That patch of sugar cane was never rifled again."

THE NEW ENGLAND WOMAN

Not a Prepossessing Figure in Outline or Motion, According to This Writer.

In body she belongs to a people which has spent its physical force, and lacks vitality, says Kate Stephens, in Atlantic. She is slight. There is lack of adipose tissue—reserve force—throughout her frame. Her lungs are apt to be weak, waist normal and hips undersized.

She is awkward in movement. Her climate has not suffered her relaxation and the ease and curve of motion that more enervating air imparts. This is seen even in public. In walking she holds her elbows set in an angle, and sometimes she steps out in the tilt of the Cantabrigian man. In this is perhaps an unconscious imitation, a sympathetic copying, of an admirable norm, but it is graceless in petticoats. As she steps, she knocks her skirt with her knees, and gives you the impression that her leg is crooked, that she does not lock her knee joint. More often she toes in than out.

She has a marvelously delicate, brilliant, fine-grained skin. It is innocent of powder and purely natural. No beer in past generations has entered its making, and no port; also, little flesh.

Just What You want.

THE CELEBRATED

COLUMBIA BREWERY

AUGUST BUCHLER, Prop.

Of the product of this well-known brewery the United States Health Reports for June 23, 1900, says: "A more superior brew never analyzed the laboratory of the United States Health reports. It is absolutely devoid of the slightest trace of adulteration, but on the other hand is composed of the best of malt and choicest of hops. Its tonic qualities are of the highest and it can be used with the greatest benefit and satisfaction by old and young. Its use can conscientiously be prescribed by the physicians with the certainty that a better, purer or more wholesome beverage could not possibly be found."
