FOUL DEED AVENGED TODAY

Czolgosz, the Assassin, Dies in the Electric Chair—Met Fate With Composure.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Leon Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, was electrocuted at 7:12:30.

Czolgosz passed a quiet night. He slept nearly all night. He awoke finally at 4:45 o'clock.

He suffered a slight nervous attack late today, but remained sullen and stoic up to the time the prison closed at 10 o'clock. He refused to heed the words of the priests who came to urge spiritual preparation for death, and declined to re-embrace Roman Catholicism or to renounce anarchism. Czolgosz showed no strength of love for kin, nor did he turn to any of those higher considerations which ordinarily claim the thoughts of men occupying his position. He may have suffered untold torture, but outwardly he seemed sullen and indifferent. The state is not to surrender possession of his body, and by sundown it will have been secretly interred in ground controlled by the officials of Auburn Prison.

Waldeck Czolgosz, brother of the murderer, foreseeing endless difficulties and possibly angry demonstrations as the result of an attempt to give the body ordinary burial, heeded the advice of the officials of the Superintendent of State Prisons Collins and Warden Mead, and formally relinquished all claim to it. He merely stipulated that at the close of the autopsy all parts of the body should be buried. All chance of an unhappy and unfortunate sequel to the execution, either in displays of popular contempt or the exhibition of ghastly relics, is therefore finally prevented. The plan of burning his clothing and papers will be carried out immediately after the execution.

May Not Be Crowned.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Reynold's Weekly Newspaper is the first British paper to assert that King Edward is suffering from cancer of the throat. In today's issue, it declared that since His Majesty's accession, three operations have been performed for the removal of papilloma on the left vocal chord, and that one was removed from the right vocal chord last week.

"Assistance was hastily summoned," says this journal, "as His Majesty was breathing with difficulty, and an immediate operation was performed. But it is regarded as only a temporary relief, the injured epithelium now having become a cancerous growth, and serious developments are expected."

Serious Quarrel at a Dance.

CORVALLIS, Oct. 28.—A party of hunters near Summit, in this county, early Saturday morning engaged in a quarrel at a dance. Pier Cooper, of Independence, shot John Post in the arm, while Post and a friend named Baldwin, of Independence, were scuffling. Post lives near Summit and he and Baldwin have been close friends for years. Cooper, who was present, attempted to make peace when he fired a shot which struck Post in the right wrist, the bullet ranging upward and lodging near the elbow. Cooper says the shot was accidental.

Cooper was brought to Corvallis and was given a preliminary hearing. He was held to the circuit court, being released on $500 bail.

Thousands Sent Into Exile.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. Million Dollar Fraud in Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—In connection with that the United States marshal's office declares to be one of the biggest frauds ever had to deal with in this city, members of the firm of J. C. Fisher & Co., brokers, were arrested today on a charge of using the United States mails as a scheme to defraud. It is alleged that $1,000,000 had been taken from the public since January 1, 1900.

The method of the firm is said by the authorities to have been very simple. People all over the country, it is alleged, are written to and told what excellent chances there were to invest money, and at large returns could be expected. Bonds were formed, and those desirous of getting rich quickly were invited to read. After two or three weeks, it is said, investors would be advised that a pool had been formed on a well-known stock, and that as the quotations had gone down the margin had been swept away, and that more money was necessary immediately in order to save the stock. After having put in two or three times the original amount, some investor became suspicious and called the attention of the authorities to the matter.

Duke's Debtors Must Wait.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A dispatch from London, England, to the World says: It is now feared since the child of the Duke and Duchess of Manchester is a daughter and not a son, Eugene Zimmerman, the father of the duchess, will not make a settlement expected.

It is positively stated that the duchess received nothing from her father on her marriage except the income on her dead mother's estate. Until a son is born, Lord Charles Montagu, second son of the Duchess of Devonshire (whose first husband was the present Duke of Manchester's grandfather), will remain the heir presumptive to the title and estate of the Duke of Manchester. It would greatly enhance the importance of the young Duchess of Manchester's position if she were the mother of the future duke.

The young duke will not go to the war. He had intended to do so and had announced it as his heir to the title was a son.

Conduct of British Officers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Nothing has been heard for some time of the promise made by the government to institute an inquiry into military operations in South Africa, particularly in regard to the Boer River and Natal campaigns, says

The London correspondent of the Tribune.

The promise was exacted at a time when un-toward events at the seat of war were stirring up popular feeling in England, but as the cause which led to the demand have to a large extent passed into the background, the desire for an official inquiry waned considerably. Recent revelations in the Buller controversy have awakened recollection of the promise, and the matter will be raised as soon as parliament meets.

The government will be asked to include in the scope of the inquiry all the allegations which have been made and are being made against certain British officers in respect to their conduct toward the soldiers under them.

How England Can Retaliate.

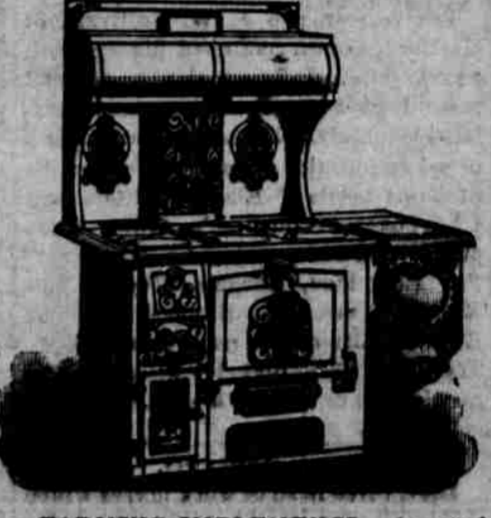

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—According to the Brussels correspondent of the London Times and the New York Times, the Independence Belge says the nations of the continent are paving the way for a situation that is likely to breed a plentiful crop of troubles for themselves in their discussions and actions upon the Boer question. The British nation is fully conscious of the danger arising from universal dislike, says that newspaper, and may make a supreme effort to consolidate the Anglo-Saxon race the world over, whereby Europe's commercial and industrial supremacy would be seriously threatened.

Seattle's Carnival of Crime.

SEATTLE, Oct. 28.—Seattle is full of highwaymen, bank robbers, thieves and burglars. They held high carnival yesterday and last night. An unsuccessful attempt to blow open the safe of Zwick & Kaufman, Western avenue, was made early this morning. Harry Engelk was knocked down and robbed on the water front. The robber tried to throw him in the bay. Thomas Mannes, a clever pickpocket, is in jail for several big jobs. Joe Whitehouse, who attempted to kill a man at Franklin, has been arrested. Several small burglaries have been reported to the police.
