Sheriff Kelly is busily engaged today in preparing and sending out summons to jurors and witnesses for the next term of court, which will convene on Monday, November 11th.

Lost—Last Saturday afternoon a young black English setter, with white spots. He had on at the time a new collar. A liberal reward will be paid for his return to Frank Haworth, the job printer.

The Velarde Bros. are engaged today in raising the fire engine house preparatory to the putting in of a new stone foundation, which will be adequate to bear the weight of the engine and cars of the companies, as the old one began to sag from the heavy weight.

Baker City is having a lively contest for postmaster, and another aspirant to the office, in the person of Fred S. Book, does not help to clear up the matter, but in all probability will make it the more difficult for Congressman Moody to decide who shall have the office.

At least 500 head of hogs were received at the stock yards during the past few days and shipped to Portland. Thomas Glavey, of Kingsley, who is buying for the Union Meat Company of Portland, bought over 350 head while the others were purchased by Frank Taylor and other buyers. Several carloads more will be shipped out this week.

Pat Conley, one of the enterprising sheep-raisers of the Baker country, is in the city today. He reports that the showers of the past month have brought up the grass in splendid shape and greatly improved the fall and winter range for sheep so that they will go into the winter in good condition and the producers will not be likely to meet with any loss even if the winter should be unusually severe.

It is not true that Theo. H. Liebe aims to attack the character of J. E. Adcox nor to injure the business of T. A. Van Norden. The truth is well known. If the truth hurts, then it is a pity. Theo. H. Liebe does an increased business simply because he is reliable, because he offers good goods at low prices, and because all work done at his place is guaranteed. n4-daw

A painful, and what may prove a fatal accident, occurred at Dufur yesterday. It appears that Hugh Morehead, of that place, was saddling a horse belonging to Dr. Dodds, and when passing around the animal he kicked at Mr. Morehead, striking him in the stomach. At the time it was impossible to tell what the result of the injuries would be, but fears were expressed that they were of a serious nature and that they might result fatally.

The teamsters who are hauling the machinery for the power plant at White river, had their hands full this morning loading the top of the generator on a wagon. The large casting weighs 10,000 pounds, and as it is about eight feet high and about three wide, it makes a very top-heavy load, which will undoubtedly tax the ingenuity of the teamster to take it down the Sherar grade safely, and if he succeeds in arriving at his destination without mishap he will have cause to breathe easy.

Since the football season has fairly opened, the question is asked by many of the enthusiasts if Manager Patterson will reorganize his team, which was so successful last winter in the series of games which they played with some of the strongest teams in Oregon and Washington. The Dalles has plenty of material for a first-class team, and all that is needed is someone with as much energy as the manager of last season showed to act as leader, and the Dalles team will stand in the front rank.

The ladies of the Catholic church have decided to open their fair (which will be held for the purpose of raising money to pay off the indebtedness on the building) on December 17th, and will continue the same for five days. The different committees have been working earnestly for several months preparing for the fair, and nothing that would add to the success of the same has been left undone. All but $3000 has been paid on the costly edifice, and it is expected that much of this amount will be raised at the coming fair.

Mays & Crowe's delivery team cleaned things up this forenoon by an attempt at blanking all previous records in a quarter-mile dash from Fourth street to the Umattila House. The driver was leaving some packages at a private residence when the team started, and they might have been going yet were it not for an individual on horseback driving them up against the Baldwin opera house and getting them stopped. No serious damage was done aside from the scattering of some groceries along the streets over which they passed.

Ed McCarty met with a serious accident while harrowing on Wm. Barker's Schutler Flat ranch on Wednesday. He was found lying in the field with his skull smashed in, and it is thought he cannot recover. It is not known for certain how he was injured, but it is just probable he had been fixing the tugs or the harrow, when one of the horses kicked him. From later news received from the scene of the accident Thursday afternoon, we learn that the injured man was found under the harrows, with one arm broken and his face crushed and bleeding. The physician who was called from Arlington gave slight hopes for recovery, and the young man was taken to Portland on Thursday morning, where everything possible will be done to save his life.—Condon Globe.

Latest reports from Nick Marks, the young man who was stabbed by Reuben Ford last Friday evening, are very encouraging and in all probability he will recover. Dr. Dodds, of Dufur, attended the injured man and found that the knife had entered the muscles of the back and had been drawn around under the arm inflicting a deep wound, but not necessarily a fatal one since the ribs kept the blade from striking any of the vital organs. It appears that Marks had Ford down beating him when Ford stabbed him, leaving the knife remain imbedded in his back, and when the bystanders attempted to separate them he held it so that it cut half way around Marks' body. It took twenty-two stitches to draw the wound together, and unless an unexpected complication sets in he will recover. Ford was taken away in an insensible condition.

They Travel in a Special Train.

The big show, Hi Henry's City Minstrel aggregation of fifty all white performers, will appear at the Vogt opera house Monday, Nov. 11th. The parade at noon includes a locomobile display, a superb military band of forty musicians, and their big 300 pound St. Bernard dog, said to be the finest in the world, having more perfect points and value way up in the thousands, certainly a magnificent animal.

The premier comedian of the company, Mr. Billy Clarke, is said to be as bright as the brightest and a well-bred gentleman. A great feature is the little tot, Viol Abt. pronounced by the oldest professionals a wonder in her line, a gifted dancer of the highest ability, executing exquisite toe dancing, pirouettes and poses, together with her Frenchy songs and inimitable cack walk. Also the wonderful Probet, with a throat like the most exquisite song birds and whom medical experts pronounce an anatomical wonder. Also the marvelous Brothers Bard, executing feats in acrobatic display that are not attempted by any others in their line. We have only just begun the list, but space forbids personal mention of the balance. We have said enough and are promised as much more, and now is the time to procure seats, which are now on sale at Clarke & Falk's Postoffice Pharmacy.

J. E. Adcox, who is conceded to be one of the best watchmakers on the Pacific coast, is now in my employ. Mr. Adcox is not only an exceptionally fine workman, but is an honorable gentleman also, and the attacks made upon him in the advertisements of Theo. H. Liebe can neither affect him, myself nor my business. n2-6-1w T. A. VAN NORDEN.
