What Cole's Heater Will Do.

It will heat your house evenly day and night.

The stove is light and easily moved and set up.
The combustion is perfect and ashes are removed only once in four weeks.
None of the heat is wasted and the stove will save one-half of your fuel bill.
It is clean, economical, convenient, safe and durable.

Rev. W. S. Holt, D. D., synodical missionary of the Presbyterian church for Oregon, will be in the city tomorrow, Nov. 13th. He is desirous of meeting any of our residents who are interested in the work of the Presbyterian church and invites them to meet him in the Umatilla House parlor between 2 and 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Do not fail to be at the Christian church Wednesday evening. The W. C. T. U. have something good for you. The address will be full of interesting, stirring truth presented by the Rev. Walton Skipworth; also a paper by one of the members recently come from our famous new state, Oklahoma. Prof. Landers will sing (as he only can) "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight." No collection nor admission fee.

During the first nine days of the present month no less than seventy-nine home-made entries were filed in the United States land office at The Dalles. During the year ending October 31st, ultimate, the entries averaged 100 per month. This beats the record of all previous months and years save only a short period following the throwing open to settlement of lands included in the Northern Pacific land grant.

The personal property of the estate of the late Wenceslaus Pashek will be sold at public auction tomorrow at the Pashek farm. Malcolm McInnis, administrator of the estate, and Auctioneer Dad Butts, will leave for the scene of operations tomorrow. All the farm implements and stock will be sold, and it is expected that the same will go at a bargain so it will be a wise idea for persons desiring anything in this line to be present.

Hi Henry's minstrel aggregation drew a splendid house at the Vogt last night and never was a houseful of Dalles playgoers better entertained or better pleased. More than this THE CHRONICLE could not say if it wrote a column, and less than this would fall short of the truth. Should the troupe again visit The Dalles while the memory of last night's performance is still green, the Vogt will not be large enough to hold the crowd that will want to attend.

The ladies of the M. E. church will give a "picture social" on Friday evening at the church. A literary and musical program is being prepared. Refreshments of sandwiches, coffee and pumpkin pies (their justly celebrated pumpkin pies) will be served. A very modest charge will be made, so that everybody and their friends can come. Admission 10 cents and two pairs of old rubbers, or if you have not the rubbers 15 cents will fill the bill.

In the circuit court today the case of the State of Oregon vs. L. N. Moore is being tried. This is a case in which the defendant is being charged with stealing several hundred pounds of old brass castings from the O. R. & N. Co.'s repair shops in this city and selling the same to a junk man. Most of the day was spent in selecting a jury. The state is represented by District Attorney Menefee, assisted by W. H. Wilson, while Bennett & Sinnott appear for the defendant.

A serious accident occurred at one of Warren's wheels, near Bonneville, today in which J. J. Westerville had his right leg broken about mid-way between the knee and ankle. It appears that he was assisting in handling some heavy rock and had a bar beneath the same lifting when the weight became so great that he was forced to release his hold on the iron, which was swinging around with such force as to break his leg. The east-bound train came along a few moments after the accident and he was taken to The Dalles Hospital, where the fracture was reduced, and at latest reports he was resting easy.

Ever since the first case of diphtheria in the city THE CHRONICLE has felt it to be a duty that it owed to the public to publish the exact truth as to the number of cases at any one time. This it has done from time to time, and always with absolute good faith. In view of recent rumors, inquiries were again made of the city authorities this morning, with the result that THE CHRONICLE finds there are exactly six cases in the city, four of which may be called old cases, where the patients are convalescent and only await the removal of the quarantine, and two are cases of a recent date. During the present diphtheria visitation there has only been one death within the city limits, that of the 2-year-old child of Mr. Knebel that was buried yesterday.

A round dozen of Portland people, under the chaperonage of Municipal Judge Cameron, passed through The Dalles at noon today to take part in the exercises connected with the annual gathering of the Fossil Caledonian Club, to be held at Fossil tomorrow, Wednesday, night. Judge Cameron is to give the annual address, and the others in the party are: George S. Shepherd, Pipe Major James S. Moon, formerly of the famous Black Watch regiment; Harry McArthur, William Stevenson, David Forbes and Misses Nancy Black, Rosie Forbes, Myrtle Sharpe, Belle Sharpe, Lola Stanton and Miss Forbes. A concert of Scottish music will be given and the party will return to the city Friday.

Almost a disastrous wreck occurred on the O. R. & N. two miles east of La Grande at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. The west-bound passenger train plunged into freight No. 21 and a light engine. The freight had been stopped to repair a broken journal. The light engine was about four car lengths behind. It broke the force of the jar and prevented the wreck from being more serious, though it was driven into the freight train with sufficient force to shatter the cabooses and one stock car into kindling wood. The passengers were badly shaken up and many received scratches and bruises, but no bones were broken and no injuries are serious. The windows of the coaches were broken, the engines were badly damaged and three cattle were killed. The wreckage was cleared and trains were running yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Deputy Sheriff Lee, of Cascade Locks, came up last evening with Hugh Shaw, the party he took into custody yesterday for obtaining money under false pretenses. A warrant had already been sent to Sheriff Kelly for Shaw's arrest by the sheriff of Union county, as Shaw has been passing checks there before coming to Cascade Locks, and he had not been detected until his departure from the town. Shaw is a peculiar character, and made claims while in Union that he was an ex-state senator from Idaho, and also that he ran for prosecuting attorney for Nez Perce county and was defeated. He went into Deputy Lee's boarding house yesterday and after getting what he wanted drew a check for $10.00 on the Nez Perce bank. Mr. Lee became suspicious, and upon inquiry it was found that he had no money in the above named bank, and when informed of the matter Sheriff Kelly at once suspected that it was the party that was wanted by the Union county authorities. As yet it is not decided whether he will be turned over to the sheriff of Union county or retained here for trial.

Reverend William Kraemer, who has charge of the large Benedictine farms in the Willamette valley, near Mt. Angel, and also the farm property in this county, arrived in the city today to look after affairs in this section. Father Kraemer states that rapid progress is being made in the construction of the new monastery building at Mt. Angel, which when completed will be one of the largest of its kind in the United States, and that in a short time the wing which will be used for a college building will be started. This will be completed some time next year, and when finished the old college building will be vacated. These buildings complete will cost considerable over one million dollars, and this, combined with a learned staff of instructors, will cause the institution to be recognized as one of the leaders of its kind in the country.
