

A NEW ERA DAWNING.

The New Age, published in Portland by A. D. Griffin, leader of the colored voters, and a well-known politician, says what is also reported from other sources to the fact that Senator Mitchell and Editor Scott are working hand in hand to defeat Senator Simon.

Mitchell is Oregon's business friend. His ability to accomplish results for Oregon won him renewal of his exalted place at Washington. Since the Lewis and Clark exploration nearly 100 years ago no man has done as much for Oregon as Senator Mitchell, save and except the chief of the Oregonian office, Hon. Harvey W. Scott. These men have the same interest at heart. They have done valiant service for the state, but have fought their battles at Washington separately. The lines on which they pursued this strife for more than a quarter of a century have finally converged, and today Scott and Mitchell, with their combined forces, are doing for Oregon that which should have been done many years ago.

Probably it would be well to conclude this statement here, for the people of the state are familiar with the history of the contests that have retarded Oregon's development for two decades on account of bootless and fruitless and, happily, shoeless politics.

A new era is dawning for the great Webfoot state and the blazonry of the new sun will come in all its radiance in 1905.

DEMOCRATS DON'T WANT HIM.

A correspondent of the Albany Democrat, in a communication to that paper, enters a strong protest against the democratic East Oregonian for advocating the candidacy of H. W. Scott, of the Portland Oregonian, for United States senator to succeed Joe Simon. The correspondent, who significantly signs himself "Rooster," says:

"I have known this man for the last twenty years, and during this time believe that in the different campaigns he has been over the fence, under the fence, on top of the fence, on each side of the fence, on both sides of the fence, behind the fence and in the fence corner. And this democratic editor tells the democrats of Oregon that Mr. Scott is the best and only man we should have to represent us in the United States congress.

"If Gov. Timothy Thomas will only lunt up this same Eastern Oregon editor and put up enough boodle, I think this paper can come as near electing him governor as he will in electing the Portland editor United States senator."

Senator Mitchell will get first blood if the Oregonian's Washington correspondent may be believed—and he is generally correct as a fore-caster of Oregon appointments, says the Eugene Guard. He writes his paper that the man recommended by Mitchell for receiver of the Oregon City land office will get the appointment over the recommendations of others of the Oregon delegation. It is interesting to know that the Oregon senator was a warm personal friend of the New Yorker before the occurrence of the accident that made him president.

Among the signs of the times in Oregon are several that point to the fact that certain political bosses will soon be among the political has-beens, says the La Grande Chronicle.
