

"SENTIMENT" ABOUT CUBA.

It is reported that a Cuban delegation will spend the winter in Washington seeking during the congress session to promote reciprocal trade relations between that island and the United States; though some of its members are really looking for annexation, on the ground that the American people, acting through sentiment, would rather take Cuba into the Union than to give it free trade while it remains outside.

The New York Tribune thinks there can be no objection to Cuba's seeking reciprocity with this country, and it may well be that its desire will to some extent be gratified. There will scarcely be anything like absolute free trade established, but there will doubtless be a liberal opening of American markets to Cuban products. It is to the interest of both countries that trade relations between them shall be close and cordial. But the Cuban delegates will err widely if they reckon upon any considerable American sentiment in favor of taking Cuba into this Union. Sentiment is decidedly opposed to any such step.

The people of the United States propose to keep their republic a compact and coherent continental domain. They mean to keep it the United States of America, and of North America, not of the islands of the sea. It will be of all round advantage and of direct profit for the Cuban delegates and the Cuban people to understand this fact. Reciprocity may legitimately be worked for. Annexation would best be laid upon the shelf.

The United States desires to see Cuba prosperous and happy. It has already done much to make it so, and it may do much more to the same end. But it has no intention of taking Cuba into this union of states to help govern these existing states. "As a matter of sentiment" this country would be found solidly arrayed against such annexation, if ever it should be proposed.

Pendleton is afflicted with an alarming attack of chronic modesty. Its leading paper has just announced the name of another candidate for state honors, making four in all at this writing, with the Lord alone knows how many more in training who will come out in due time. This time it is "Colonel" J. H. Raley who is "mentioned" for the attorney-generalship. The East Oregonian waxes eloquent over Raley's nomination and says: "Umatilla county and Eastern Oregon would rally to his support as a man, and from the Cascades to the sea, from the Columbia river on the north to the California line on the south, there would be followers of the Raley banner to the polls." And THE CHRONICLE thinks it altogether pertinent to add that after this great aggregation had followed the "Raley banner to the polls" it would then complacently vote for the other man.

The president is said to have given out the information that in his message to congress he will not only recommend the re-enactment of the Chinese exclusion act but he will go farther and recommend that it be strengthened to increase its efficiency. It is hard to conceive of any recommendation that the president could make that will be more popular than this with the people of the Pacific coast, and especially with the laboring classes with whom Chinese labor comes in conflict.

Bradstreet's report of bank clearances for the chief cities of the United States for the month of October show they exceeded the record for the same month of 1900 by $1,808,000, 000 or an increase of more than 25 per cent. This continued interesting in the volume of business transacted by the banks of the country is quite a different picture from that of bank suspensions during the last democratic regime, and is assurance of the fact that the prosperity of this country is based upon a solid business foundation.

Brain Food Nonsense. Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. C. Green's reliable remedies at Blakeley's drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac.

Attractive Women. All women sensibly desire to be attractive. Beauty is the stamp of health because it is the outward manifestation of inner purity. A healthy woman is always attractive, bright and happy. When every drop of blood in the veins is pure a beautiful flush is on the cheek. But when the blood is impure, moroseness, bad temper and a sallow complexion tells the tale of sickness all too plainly. And women today know there is no beauty without health. Wine of Cardui cures women with beauty and attractiveness by making strong and healthy those organs which make her a woman. Try Wine of Cardui, and in a month your friends will hardly know you.
