County Treasurer.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Don't forget the dance tonight at Fraternity hall, given by the Knights and Ladies of Security. A good time is assured and everybody is invited.

One year ago today the thermometer in this city stood at 2 degrees below zero. That was the coldest day of the entire winter. Today at 11 a. m. the thermometer stood at 48 degrees.

Ike Moore and R. E. Davis, who were sentenced to a year each in the penitentiary for larceny and assault with a dangerous weapon, respectively, were taken to the state penitentiary on the early morning train.

John Doe was arrested last night by Officer Fensler for disturbing the meeting of the Salvation Army. He deposited $5 for his appearance this morning before Judge Mahery and failing to appear the city treasury is richer by that amount.

Mt. Hood camp No. 28, Woodmen of the World, will give one of their famous stag sociale on Tuesday evening, Nov. 26th. Refreshments will be served. All neighbors and visiting neighbors are cordially invited. It goes without saying a good time will be had.

The ladies of the M. E. church will have their usual Thanksgiving sale on Wednesday, Nov. 27th, at the store of J. H. Cross. Don't bother about soaking your mince pie, pumpkin pie and plum puddings when you can get such good ones, and at so little expense.

One more case of diphtheria was reported to Health Officer Van Ande yesterday, after THE CHRONICLE had gone to press. It is that of the 7-year-old child of George March on Eighth street. All the cases previously reported were doing well at least accounts with no serious results anticipated.

The acetylene gas generator at the Burgess hotel, Bakoven, exploded night before last, through the gas having come in contact with a lighted candle in the hands of a domestic. In extinguishing the fire Mrs. Burgess and Miss Bertha Wakley were burned about the face and hands but no serious damage was done.

County Judge Thomas Ryan, of Clatsop county, who is Grand Patriarch of the Oregon Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows, and Grand Secretary E. E. Sharop, spent last night in the city visiting the local lodge and left this afternoon to visit the lodge at Dufur.

THE CHRONICLE is deeply sorry to hear of the death at Hood River, yesterday, of E. E. Savage, who has been ailing for many months but whose recovery, from late reports, had been anticipated. Mr. Savage was a gentleman who occupied a very high place in the esteem of all who knew him. The particulars of his death have not been received but it is understood that the cause was cancer of the stomach. He leaves a wife and one child.

According to the London representative of the Journal and Advertiser, the Outlooker contains an account of a most remarkable cure of cancer, which medical circles are eagerly discussing. It says the cure was discovered through the case of Lady Margaret Masham, sister of the Earl of Rossmore. Lady Margaret became so ill that her throat nearly closed, nourishment had to be administered artificially, and her death was expected in about a week, when a friend prescribed the use of fresh green violets. The suggestion was followed, relief was immediate. The large, hard external tumor disappeared, and in a week all pain had ceased and the cancerous growth in the tonsil disappeared in a fortnight.

THE CHRONICLE has a communication from South Bend, Wash., asking for information concerning one W. H. Humphrey, who left his family at that place about a month ago to look for work. On October 15th Humphrey wrote to his wife from Portland saying that he would leave next morning for The Dalles. This is the last his wife has heard of him and she is frantic with grief over the silence that has intervened, as he was wont never to allow a week to pass without letting her hear from him. Humphrey does not drink or gamble, and his disappearance is, therefore, all the more mysterious. Any information as to Humphrey's whereabouts would be thankfully received at this office or by his wife at South Bend.

The green goods men are still doing business at the old stand. A circular, addressed to a well-known business man of this city, is now before us offering, for an investment of $500, to give the business man "an immediate return that year's toll is your present business would not do, and without injuring friends, neighbors or your fellow man." The circular has the post mark of New York. It is the same old game with slight variations. The correspondent is "an expert engraver, having for twenty-two years been employed in the Bureau of Engraving, Washington, D. C., and for twelve years superintendent of one of the largest bank note companies in the country." Every moment of his leisure was spent in producing the duplication of the one, five and ten dollar notes and he has now got them so perfect that only a government expert could detect them. A sample of the gentleman's work is offered to be sent on receipt of an order by telegram and he kindly offers to appoint a place of meeting so that The Dalles gentleman can personally examine his entire stock. Any one who desires to invest in this most transparent "gold brick" swindle can get the name of the would-be swindler from Postmaster J. M. Patterson.

H. Cook, a gentleman whom the late, lamented Alexander O'Toole, of Cascade Locks, would, if he were alive, have described as a "Scandaboovian," was arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff Sexton on suspicion that he had more rubber boots at his disposal than the laws of this free American republic allows to any single individual at one time. Cook had disposed of ten pair of these Webfoot indispensables to a second-hand dealer on Second street for 25 cents a pair. When put in the sweat-box by Sheriff Kelly, Cook "confessed" that he found the boots in a gunny sack down somewhere on the beach. The story is considered something of a fairy tale and Cook is held in custody pending further investigation.

The "King of the Opium Ring" drew a fairly good house last night, but not as good as it would have been had the ebullient play-goers known beforehand what they have missed. The production is a decided novelty. The atmosphere is that of Chinatown and the moral, for it is a moral, is the degrading effect of the opium traffic and the immense power of the unscrupulous and autocratic highbinder. There was enough of rollicking fun to give spice and zest to scenes that were repulsive in their suggestiveness, while they preached a sermon on the moral turpitude of the Heathen Chinee and all who tamper with the deadly drug. The interest was never permitted to lag for a moment and the acrobatic feats of the Schroder brothers were probably the best ever witnessed in The Dalles.

The Soap Menace.

THE DALLES, Nov. 21, 1901.

EDITOR CHRONICLE:
As the woolgrowers of this section—Wasco, Crook and Sherman counties—are again over-run with the scab epidemic, and as it has been running rampant over the greater part of this district I would like to say (being one interested) that it is about time the stock inspector's salary be remunerative enough to pay the party occupying the same for attending to his duties, and the appointing of one by the county court who will enforce what little law we have in regard to this infernal disease, and not have it scattered from one end of our counties to the other as it has been this fall, without any attempt to bring the offending parties to account. If men are going to be permitted to bring through or through licensed sheep from the center of the Cascade mountains in Lane or Crook counties, without a permit, over the road all the clean sheep have to come, it will be in order for the balance of the woolgrowers to get an option on some sulphur mine, prepare for a suspension of raising wool and lambs, and pay strict attention to the proposition of dipping. There have been 27,500 head of sheep dipped this fall in one locality, on account of being exposed or inoculated by sheep coming from Crook county mountains, with plenty others to hear from by spring. That number of sheep cannot be dipped for less than one cent per head, saying nothing of the damage done to the animals and the wool.

It looks to me as if it were about up to the shepherds to go down in their pockets and pay someone to handle the scab proposition in a way that it will be kept in check, if not totally eradicated.

Respectfully submitted,
J. V. O'LEARY.
