WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

The ladies of the Episcopal Guild will give a social for the benefit of the church on Wednesday, December 11th.

A social hop will be held at the Baldwin tomorrow evening, under the management of Professor Sandvig. A good time is assured all who attend.

The young ladies who had contemplated giving a Thanksgiving party have decided not to give it, but will be prepared to furnish their friends with home made candies for Thanksgiving at Menefee & Parkins' next Wednesday.

The work on the Court street sewer under the able supervision of Mr. Brown, is progressing rapidly and in a few days will be completed to Third street. The work of removing the old pipes is about finished between First and Second streets and the new pipes will be laid the first of the week.

A. M. Kelsay, who until recently was manager of the warehouse at this place, was in town for a few days this past week, looking after his sheep interests. Mr. Kelsay is now an honest granger, making his living by the sweat of his brow upon his beautiful farm just below The Dalles.—Shaniko Leader.

The Shaniko Leader says: "J. H. Cradlebaugh, formerly of Wasco county, and at one time editor of The Chronicle, was in Shaniko last Friday staving up the town. Mr. Cradlebaugh is now interested in mining properties in the Sumpster district, which we hope will turn out gold galore to the worthy owner.

H. R. Richards, of Eight-Mile, who is in the city today, states that a continuation of yesterday and last night's showers for forty-eight hours longer will put the soil in splendid shape for plowing and a mild spell for a few weeks will greatly aid the farmers since they will be able to put much of the soil in shape for sowing grain at the earliest opportunity in the spring.

H. Cook, who was arrested yesterday for disposing of rubber boots which the officers suspected had not come into his possession honestly, today informed Deputy Sheriff Gordon that he got the boots from the Chinaman on First street, and did not mean to be under the impression that it was a crime to steal from a Chinaman. Mr. Sexton told him that the penalty would be one year for each pair of boots, and as he stole ten pair he believes that ten years in the penitentiary will be his sentence.

The Hood River Glacier says: "H. W. Wait can now go way back and sit down with his big turnip. Oscar Fredenburg, of Mount Hood, brought in on Monday two turnips that beat Mr. Wait's out of sight. The largest one measures thirty-eight inches round. He grew about two tons of turnips on a patch of ground 100 feet square, sown broadcast and without irrigation.

It is rumored on good authority that George Bacon, of Forest Grove, will be here in a few days to open a livery stable. Mr. Bacon will bring a complete outfit from his stable which he has disposed of at that place, and will occupy temporary quarters until such time as Sinnott & Fish can erect a large new stable on the ground formerly occupied by L. A. Porter. Mr. Bacon is an experienced livery man and comes here with the best of recommendations and since there is room for another stable in The Dalles he should meet with success.

John W. Conside left the King county courthouse shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday evening a free man. According to the verdict of the jury he was not guilty of the murder of Seattle's ex-Chief of Police William L. Meredith. The verdict was read in the courtroom at 5:35, exactly three hours from the time the juryman were locked up for deliberation. It was received by the defendant, his family, friends and counsel with every evidence of joy and relief. There was no demonstration of any kind from the big audience, the only movement being toward the doors.

An interesting case is on trial before Judge Beiliger in the United States court in Portland. It is that of two Umatilla Indians, Columbia George and Toy Toy, for poisoning an Indian woman with strychnine, which had been placed in a bottle of alcohol. The plea that the Indians will put up is that an Indian doctor who fails to cure the sick should be killed by the relatives of the departed, and that they were justified in poisoning Annie Edna because she was a witch and caused their relations to die. There are numerous conjectures as to how their plea will be considered in the United States court.

An individual by the name of Knight, who works as cook in Bob Hawn's chop house in this city, became intoxicated last night and in order to convince people that he was not a coward he went home at about midnight and attacked his wife with an ax. She retreated without coming in contact with the weapon, and ran in her bare feet to Marshal Champin's residence, where she told of her husband's actions. After she departed he practiced on the furniture and had worked himself into a splendid fighting trim by the time the marshal arrived on the scene, and had the worthy official not succeeded in taking the ax away from Knight he would have met with the same treatment as the household goods. Knight was placed in jail, and as his better half did not appear against him he was simply fined $10 for being drunk and disorderly.

Green Has Been Converted.

Murderer Green has been fairly cheerful this week, though he has had one melancholy spell. When in these moods he sometimes kicks his toes against the cell. Occasionally he is talkative and one day last week produced elaborate argument before Sheriff Totten why he should not be hung. A little later when the Pioneer reporter interviewed him he had nothing to say. Green has not shaved since his incarceration, and his face is covered with a fine beard of chestnut hue, while the expressed portions have bleached out under the influence of continued semi-darkness, giving him a sort of spirituelle look. His cell is unfurnished but for his blankets, and these are laid on the floor.

On his last trip to Vancouver he became converted under the instructions of Rev. E. H. Todd, of that place, who was permitted to visit the prisoner. While his Methodism is of recent acquisition, Green derives much consolation therefrom. The fact that he will die while on probation does not worry him.

Attorney Bowles notified the prisoner this week that his chances for a new trial were very slim. Green is a very peculiar individual and says that he wants to be hung or freed entirely.

The sheriff has about concluded that he will construct the gallows between the jail and the court house, and enclose it with a high board wall. He has not yet been notified of the date of the execution.—Skamania County Pioneer.

Death of E. B. Savage.
Edward Everett Savage died at his home in Hood River, Oregon, at 6:40 a. m., Nov. 21, 1901. The cause of his death was cancer of the stomach. He took his bed October 15th for the last time. He leaves a widow and two sons, Charles Savage, of San Francisco, and Ralph Savage, of Hood River. Mr. Savage was born in Augusta, Maine, September 15, 1848. In 1856 his parents moved to Butler county, Iowa, where the subject of this sketch grew to manhood and engaged in business. Among other enterprises he published a newspaper at Parkersburg, Iowa, and also at Shell Rock, Iowa. He was married March 17, 1869, to Mary Elizabeth Burdick at New Hartford, Iowa. For a number of years he was in the employ of the New England Loan and Trust Co., at Sioux Falls, Des Moines and Omaha. He came to Hood River in February, 1894, and engaged for several years in farming and fruit growing. For the past eighteen months he was engaged in the hardware trade in Hood River, and in that time had built up a good business. He was a member of Hood River Lodge No. 105, A. F. and A. M., in which order he was a past master.

Mr. Savage was universally respected, not only for his many noble qualities as a man and a citizen, but also for his great abilities and general knowledge. He was self-made and a remarkable man in many respects. An accomplished parliamentarian, he could preside gracefully and with dignity over a deliberative body, or was at home at the blacksmith's forge, or in a carpenter shop, or in a printing office. He was learned in the law, had mastered several languages, could report a speech in shorthand and was an adept at the deaf and dumb alphabet. At all times reserved, he never put himself forward, and a stranger might not have taken him to be the erudite scholar and accomplished gentleman that he was. He was a man that would have done honor to himself and a constituency in the halls of congress. In politics he was a life-long republican. In the death of Mr. Savage Hood River loses its most accomplished and useful citizen.—Gla-cier.

Football Notes.

The members of the football team are feeling pretty good over the help extended by certain citizens of the town. Arrangements were made yesterday for fencing a park on the old fair ground site in the south part of town, and work will begin tomorrow morning in earnest. Arrangements are being made for a coach for the benefit of the High School and club teams. The Dalles boys do not propose to be behind in athletics.

The High School will meet Portland High School on The Dalles' grounds on the afternoon of Thanksgiving. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

On Saturday afternoon, November 30th, the club team will meet Pendleton on the same ground at the usual hour.

Manager Grant will have tickets on sale at his cigar store for each game, previous to the date of playing each.

As soon as our big team is ready for business Manager Grant states that he is ready to meet any team in Oregon or Washington.

Prof. Landers, of the high school, is taking a great deal of interest in his young athletes, and is well pleased over the encouragement received. The high school boys will play a very fast and brilliant game on Thanksgiving.
