WAYSIDE CLEANINGS.

St. Paul's Episcopal Guild will meet with Mrs. W. F. Morris tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

All kinds of pastry for Thanksgiving will be sold by the Good Intent ladies tomorrow at Cross' store.

The Fortnightly will meet with Mrs. James Morrill Russell tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon, instead of Thursday.

The ladies of the Lutheran church will have a sale of pies, cakes, rye bread and cut flowers at I. C. Nickelsen's store tomorrow.

Thanksgiving sale of millinery at Miss Haven's Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. See special bargains in display windows. n26 3t

The bowling contest between the young men and the married members of the club will take place on Wednesday evening. The members would like to see the ladies in attendance.

Ladies will be admitted to the bowling contest tomorrow night at the club rooms between the married and single members of the club. The losers pay for an oyster supper and to this, also, the ladies are invited.

No new cases of diphtheria were reported to the health officer today and that gentleman says that five or six, or probably more, of the existing cases will be relieved of quarantine restriction by the end of the week.

A farmer near Colfax recently sold 60 bushels wheat for $60, and a few days after sold four hogs for $50. As it would take four hogs a long time to eat sixty bushels of wheat he has expressed a determination to raise more hogs.

The term "infantry" was first used by the Spaniards in the wars with the Moors to designate the bodyguard of a royal prince or infant. It was extended to the entire body of foot soldiers and finally adopted throughout Europe.

The Shoshone County Pioneer says the indications are that Murderer Green will hang on the day succeeding Thanksgiving. Work was begun on the scaffold Friday and is being busily prosecuted today. Judge Miller appears to be reluctant to name the day to avoid all the publicity possible, although he has undoubtedly fixed it for November 29th. Green bears up wonderfully well and has sent for his religious adviser.

The young ladies will have all kinds of French mixed candies and pinoches tomorrow in Menefee & Parkins' window. Buy your Thanksgiving candies of them at the same price as elsewhere, only the candies are perfectly fresh.

Let us suggest that you select some of Cantel's tall cream cheeses for your Thanksgiving dinner. These are made in seven varieties, ranging in price from 5 cents to 50 cents each and are a table delicacy. They can be seen in the window at Maier & Benton's.

Sheriff Frazier, of Portland, came here yesterday for another batch of cavalry horses, but concluded to go back home without them and return here on the 6th of December for all the horses of this class he can get. In about three weeks time he will be here to complete an order for fifty head of heavier horses for the United States artillery.

The members of the local chapter of the Eastern Star have invited the members of the Hood River chapter to a banquet to be given tonight at the Masonic hall. The visiting brethren and sisters are expected to arrive here this evening by boat, and the members of The Dalles chapter will be disappointed if there isn't a whole boat load of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph G. H. Nordhoff, of Seattle, arrived here yesterday on a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. Herbring. The visit was a most agreeable surprise. Mr. Nordhoff and Mr. Herbring are fellow countrymen. They came to the United States on the same ship and for years were fellow-clerks in a Buffalo, N. Y., dry goods establishment. Both got married there to ladies who knew each other, and both, with their young wives, in due time drifted out here to the Far West, Mr. Nordhoff settling in Seattle, where he is part owner of a department store that employs over 200 hands.

The Ukiah, Umatilla county, Sentinel ridicules the story recently sent from that place to the Portland Telegram to the effect that there was an organized band of cattle rustlers infesting that country from Umatilla county to Nevada and that the settlers were so much afraid of their vengeance that they refused to give them away. The Sentinel says the guy who manufactured the fabrication is a human derelict who spends his sober moments in space-writing for such publications as will accept his "stuff". If the Sentinel is correct the fellow would make a star correspondent for one of Hearst's yellow journals.

District Attorney Menefee today refused to prosecute William Allison of Celilo for an alleged criminal assault upon Nellie Van Felt, an Indian woman of that place and the case was abruptly thrown out of Justice Menefee's court. If the story told the attorney by an eye witness of the alleged assault is true it is Nellie that was the assaulter and not Allison. This witness says he saw Nellie make three attempts to break into Allison's room, each of which Allison, who is a cripple, repelled as best he could. In the last tussle Nellie grabbed Allison's necktie and bringing it to Justice Brownhill presented it, all the same as Philip's wife 5000 years ago, as a proof of Allison's guilt. Allison's story agreed with that of the eye witness and made it clear that the woman was plainly attempting some kind of a blackmailing scheme on a man whom the Indians up that way are said to dislike.

Captain George E. Bartell, agent for the Peters' Cartridge Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, writes Henry Maier that he will be here Thanksgiving and will give a free exhibition of his skill as a rifle shot on the beach during the intervals of the turkey, pigeon and clay bird shoots that are billed to come off on that day. The captain is one of the greatest, if not the greatest rifle shots in America. With a 22 caliber rifle he hits a very large proportion of bits of brick, nuts, berries, coins and other similarly small objects. Recently in Albany he laid a wager that he would hit a certain number of cranberries, four out of five, if we remember rightly, and the wager was called off only because the captain insisted on firing a few shots to "warm up." The captain is not shooting for money and nobody here will contest with him for that, or anything else. His only object, we presume, is to show what he can do with his own cartridges; but this doesn't detract from his skill nor lessen the interest in his exhibition.

Duncan Chisholm, of Kent, has been in the city for over a week undergoing treatment for his left fore finger, the first joint of which was cut off in a rather singular manner. Mr. Chisholm was on his way home from attending the Caldonian Club meeting at Fossil, and while walking up the canyon this side of Antelope, alongside his own buggy, something scared the horse of a rider immediately behind him and the animal suddenly plunged forward and knocked Mr. Chisholm down. In the fall the beast stepped with one foot on Mr. Chisholm's finger, which unfortunately was lying on a rock, and the sharp shoe cut the joint off as with a knife. This is the true version of a story that, as recently told by the Shoshone Leader and copied later by the Forest Journal, had just one true fact in it, namely, that Mr. Chisholm did actually lose a piece of his finger. As these papers have innocently given a ridiculous version of the affair, they will, of course, kindly publish the true version, as coached for by Mr. Chisholm himself.

O. M. Frazer, Forestville, Va., says his child was completely cured of a bad case of eczema by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He writes: "I have used a number of different remedies, but it is only after using Pills, Clark & Kirk's P. O. Pharmacy."

Football Notes.

Ed Williams is coaching the High School team for the Thursday game, and will likely play with the team on that occasion. He will do so, positively. If the Portland boys insist on playing their coach.

The new grounds are almost enclosed. The finishing touches will be put on tomorrow, and then the marking off of the ground is all that remains to be done before the game is called on Thanksgiving.

The football management and boys feel very grateful to the young ladies of our town who are doing good work towards entertaining our visitors on Thanksgiving, as well as to accumulate a few shillings for the benefit of the football organization. All feel especially kind towards our business men, and the young ladies particularly desire to thank them for their assistance. The floor committee for the Thanksgiving benefit ball are as follows: Mrs. Maude Mitchell, Misses Marie Eddings, Edna Glenn, Melvia Dawson, Myrtle Michell and Laura Thompson. The members of the committee are well adapted for the work before them, and no pains will be spared to make the occasion a grand success. Those not securing tickets from the young ladies can procure the same at the door. Gentlemen will be charged 75 cents; ladies 25 cents.

The colors of our visitors will be cardinal, while the home team will wear the usual old gold and white. Let all be patriotic and wear the colors of your choice. The business men are urged to decorate their windows, if possible, with the colors of the respective teams. It is proper to do so; it is the right spirit to do so, and you are working for the young generation at the same time.

The music for the ball will be furnished by Birgfeld's orchestra of twelve pieces. Prof. Birgfeld is known far and wide as a musician, and he has the best talent to be had to assist him.

Tickets for the football game are on sale at B. H. Grant's cigar store. Get them early. Take along the family, 25 cents a head, and see "Young America" put up a dazzling, swift, snappy game of football. Come out and see your son or your neighbor's son "do the grand" on the gridiron. Be blooded and give the boys a chance.

O. E. S. Notice.

There will be a communication of Columbia Chapter No. 33, O. E. S., this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30. By order of the W. M.
