FRIGHTFUL LOSS OF LIFE IN WRECK

Two Passenger Trains on the Wabash Railroad in Michigan Meet in Head End Collision at Full Speed.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 27.—From 100 to 150 persons were killed or injured to-night in a wreck on the Wabash railroad. Two heavily loaded passenger trains collided head-on at full speed, one mile east of Seneca, the second station west of Adrian. The west-bound train, composed of two cars loaded with immigrants and five other coaches, were smashed and burned, with immigrants and five other coaches, was smashed and burned, with an awful loss of life and fearful injuries to a majority of its passengers. The east-bound passenger train, the Continental Limited, suffered in a scarcely less degree.

The track in the vicinity of the wreck is strewn with dead and dying. Many physicians from Detroit have come to the scene. The west-bound immigrant train, it is believed, disobeyed orders in not waiting at Seneca for the west-bound train, thereby causing the wreck. The track at the point where the collision occurred was straight, and at first the officials could not understand how an accident could have happened. The west-bound train, which ordinarily is due to leave Detroit at 2:30 o'clock was two hours late, leaving at 4:20 p. m. The two trains had been ordered to meet at Montpelier, Ohio, but as stated had been ordered to meet at Seneca. The blame is therefore placed on the conductor or engineer of the east-bound train, as the accident would not have occurred had this train been held at Seneca.

Apparently the orders to wait were disobeyed, and the probabilities are that the true story of the accident may never be told, as the train crews undoubtedly met instant death.

Advices from the wreck at midnight state that the country for miles around is lighted up by the burning cars, and that the flames could not be quenched because of the lack of proper apparatus. Mangled bodies were picked up along the track by the farmers, before the special train sent from Adrian arrived on the scene. In some instances bodies were mangled beyond all recognition. The bodies which the rescuers managed to pull from the burning ruins of the immigrant cars were so badly burned that their identity will never be known.

Miss Stone Reported Dead.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The rumor of the death of Miss Stone and her attendant, Mme. Teikka, which reached the state department yesterday, came from Turkish sources, the first informant being the Vall of Salonica. The two women were said to have been held captives at two towns supposed to be on the Bulgarian frontier, but which so far have not been located in the atlas. The fact that both Mr. Eddy and Consul-General Dickinson emphatically discredited the report of Miss Stone's death is regarded here as indicating their purpose to continue without relaxation their efforts to secure her release.

Attractive Women.
All women sensibly desire to be attractive. Beauty is the stamp of health because it is the outward manifestation of inner purity. A healthy woman is always attractive, bright and happy. When every drop of blood in the veins is pure a beautiful flush is on the cheek. But when the blood is impure, moroseness, bad temper and a sallow complexion tells the tale of sickness all to plainly. And women today know there is no beauty without health. Wine of Cardui cures women with beauty and attractiveness by making strong and healthy those organs which make her a woman. Try Wine of Cardui, and in a month your friends will hardly know you.

Tribute to Roosevelt.
LONDON, Nov. 28.—Three hundred guests assembled this evening for the Thanksgiving dinner given under the auspices of the American Society in London. Paul Cambon, French ambassador to Great Britain, proposed the health of President Roosevelt. M. Cambon paid a feeling tribute to the late President McKinley, whose death, he said, had shocked France and knit the sister republics in closer bonds of sympathy and sorrow. While President Roosevelt was an unknown quantity in the world, said M. Cambon, he was a cultured, energetic and charming personality, and his elevation to the presidency had been received in France with the happiest anticipations of carrying on those cordial relations which had existed between the two countries for over a century past.

Conan Doyle, the novelist, produced perhaps the greatest effect of the evening by declaring the pendulum of the commercial world had now shifted to somewhere between New York and Chicago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—George M. Pullman, son of the late millionaire car-builder, died at his country home in San Mateo this morning. He had been ill several weeks with pneumonia, but until Tuesday his condition was not considered serious. On that day, he suffered a severe relapse and then grew steadily weaker. This morning about 8 o'clock he was attacked by a hemorrhage, and within a few minutes passed away. Arrangements are being made to take the body to Chicago for interment. The deceased was married for the second time a few weeks ago at Reno, Nev., to Mrs. Brazell. He was 26 years old.

A Fireman's Close Call.
"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters and, after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by G. C. Blakeley, the druggist. Price 50 cents. 2
