Better than Ever

We'd be disappointed if we could not truthfully say each season that our suits and overcoats are "better than ever;" it's a sign that we're keeping in front, each season a little better than last, getting new ideas and improving on old ones, learning something every day and putting it to use for our customer's benefit. This fall we say—"better than ever" with unusual emphasis.

H. S. & M. suits and overcoats, made expressly for Pease & Mays, have the style, fit and service that only first-class tailor-made clothes can give.

H. S. & M. Suits and Overcoats, $12.50 to $25.00.

Sole agents American Hosiery Co.'s Underwear, Monarch Shirts, E. & W. and Arrow Brand Collars, Shawankit Hosiery, Knothe Bros.' Suspenders and Belts of the finest make.

My Lady's Slipper...

should fit her foot. It's harder to make a good-fitting slipper than a good-fitting shoe. A slipper should be snug at the heel and not bulge at the side. We take too much pains with our slipper stock to let anything get in that is not exactly right. We begin with the ordinary house slipper at 85c and $1, and rise step by step to the best in patent leather and kid in straps and ties nicely trimmed at $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.

Trilby and Cole's Original Air-Tight Heaters

For Wood and Lighter Fuel.

The introduction of Cole's Original Air-Tight Heater has revolutionized the heating stove trade in all sections of the United States. Its wonderful economy in the use of fuel, and many other excellent qualities, strongly recommend it to all in need of a heating stove.

What Cole's Heater Will Do.

The stove will heat a room from zero to 80 degrees in five minutes.

It will heat your house evenly day and night.

It holds fire 36 hours without attention. You build only one fire each winter.

It burns chips, bark, leaves, paper and corn cobs, and gives excellent results with this fuel, which is ordinarily wasted.

The stove is light and easily moved and set up.

The combustion is perfect and ashes are removed only once in four weeks.

None of the heat is wasted and the stove will save one-half of your fuel bill.

It is clean, economical, convenient, safe and durable.

Every one of Cole's Original Air-Tight Heaters is guaranteed to stay air-tight as long as used. Where wood is used for fuel every family should have one or more of these stoves.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Collection day with Pease & Mays will be on Wednesday.

Mrs. J. A. Donthit has issued invitations for a party Wednesday afternoon.

Try Van Norden's for a perfect fit in glasses, old or young, near sighted or far sighted.

The bowling tournament last Wednesday night between the married and unmarried men, resulted in the defeat of the latter, who treated to an oyster supper and all accompaniments.

The regular annual meeting of The Dalles Commercial and Athletic club, that was announced to take place tomorrow (Tuesday) night, will not be held till two weeks from tomorrow night, namely, 17th instant.

The musical and literary recital to be given at the Vogt Thursday, Dec. 5th, by Mamie Helen Flynn, Oregon's well-known young artist, assisted by Ross Bloch-Bauer, soprano, and Reginald L. Hidden, violinist, both famous artists of Portland, promises to be a great musical event. The equal of this trio of musicians has probably never before been heard in The Dalles. The sale of seats will begin tomorrow morning at Clarke & Falk's drug store.

A new case of diphtheria was announced yesterday in a family named French, who live on Fourth street west of the Mill creek bridge. As an offset to this the quarantine was raised from the residences of Horatio Faugher and Mrs. March. Today the quarantine was raised from the residence of W. Miller and Joel Koonata. At noon today Health Officer Van Anda advised The Chronicle that only eight houses remained under quarantine, as against about a score a week ago.

Contractor Anderson has just finished and turned over to their owners seven cottages that are each an ornament to the locality where they are built. Four of these are the Siddall cottages on Fourth and Federal streets, the fifth is the Washburn cottages on Fifth street, the sixth is the Wilkinson cottages on South Street and the seventh the Siddall cottages on South Federal street. Mr. Anderson has the contract for the beautiful Fisher residence on Washington street which is now nearing completion. He is figuring on a number of new residences whose erection will commence as soon as the weather permits.

The high school girls want part of the unused school building on Union street for a gymnasium, and we see no reason in the world why they should not have it. The girls don't ask the directors to spend a cent on the building, while they offer to screen the windows themselves or do any reasonable work to protect the walls from injury that the directors may deem necessary. We sincerely hope the directors may see their way to grant the girls' request. The object is surely a worthy one.

The first of the week some little commotion among our citizens was occasioned by the appearance of diphtheria in the neighborhood, says the Dalles Dispatch. The disease made its appearance in the family of Neal Sweet, who were visiting his brother Henry about six miles south of Dalles, and on Sunday, Nov. 24th, one of the children was buried at Dalles. Mr. Lawler, a resident of Dalles, had been exposed while at Mr. Sweet's, also a young man boarding with Dr. Dodds. The doctor and health authorities acted promptly in the matter and strict quarantine regulations are being enforced. No new cases have as yet developed, and no fears are entertained of the disease spreading.

"The Honeymoon Smile" and the incidents which lead up to it furnish the rich vein of humor and comedy in "A Lion's Heart," which appears at the Vogt tonight. It is one of the brightest devices for creating laughter that has been introduced in melodrama for some time. "A Lion's Heart" is declared by the press to be the best melodrama that has been produced in years, not only on account of its literary merit but for its magnificent scenery and elaborate costumes. The company is headed by Mr. Carl A. Haswin, who can justly be termed America's leading romantic actor. It is an assured fact that there is no artist of his ability today appearing in melodrama. This alone should be a sufficient guarantee of the excellence of the performance.

"Our Dumb Animals" tells this story: "W. W. Hall, a young farmer near Mountpelier, enjoyed himself hugely a few days back in watching a couple of city girls attempt to water their horse at the trough at his place. The horse was checked up and of course could not get his nose down to the water. This seemed to surprise the young women at first, but finally, realizing the trouble, they both got out of the buggy and going behind lifted up the hind axle, and, after raising the hind wheels clear of the ground, peeped around the side of the vehicle to see the horse drink. Finding that the horse didn't drink as they thought it should, they went down to the trough to see what was the matter. At the same time they raised the hind wheels one girl remained behind to hold the buggy up and the other went to the horse head and tried to pull his nose down to the water. After laughing, Hall went to their assistance and un-checked the horse."

The annual memorial service of Cascade Lodge, No. 563, E. F. O. E. was held in their hall in the Vogt block yesterday afternoon. It was largely attended and the program was unusually interesting and appropriate. The hall was profusely decorated with the colors of the order and a wealth of flowers and potted plants that in the soft, purple light reflected from numerous incandescent lamps, looked surpassingly beautiful. Each visitor was presented at the door with a souvenir badge made up of purple ribbon and for-get-me-nots. Bert Baldwin presided at the piano and the musical selections, both vocal and instrumental, were very much appreciated. John H. Cradlebaugh recited Thanatopsis with fine effect. The feature of the occasion was the splendid memorial address of Attorney F. W. Wilson, which for eloquence of thought and beauty of diction was generally considered to have surpassed all this young gentleman's previous efforts.

There was a small strike on the W. A. Johnston building this morning which, however, was soon adjusted. John Meikeljohn, the child-beater, had been working on the building until his children were arrested when he took his tools away, and threw up the job. He came back this morning, but the moment he began to work the other carpenters absolutely refused to work with him and picking up their tools left the building. Then Meikeljohn, realizing the situation also left, and in a short time the other carpenters went back to work. Meikeljohn's wife, it appears, left town last Friday probably for fear of arrest. The husband said this morning he would also leave and he is probably gone by this time. This is the best thing the couple could do. They are not wanted here. A gentleman, who knew them in Baker City, told THE CHRONICLE this morning that the couple left that town under a suspended fine of $250 on the man and $50 on the woman for cruelty to the children that were taken from them last August.

Are You for a Humane Society?

THE CHRONICLE has been asked to call a meeting in this city for the purpose of organizing a Humane Society; but while in full sympathy with the object we hardly like to assume the responsibility until we have time to see if there is any considerable demand for such a society. That there is need for it is not to be doubted for a moment. A missionary is needed to remind certain grocers that humanity demands that they should not so frequently leave on the sidewalk, exposed to the burning sun and the winter's frost, coops of fowl that for aught the public knows to the contrary, never get a grain of food or a drop of water from the moment they come into the possession of the grocer till their fevered necks are wrung.

Considerable missionary work is needed all the time in other directions. The following came under the writer's own observation yesterday. An Indian pony was left in front of the residence of Mrs. E. M. Wilson all day yesterday from morning till night, in the pelting rain and, of course, without food or water. Along in the afternoon some one removed it to the side of the Union Street Lodging House, near Mrs. Brittain's, and pinned a paper on the saddle blanket on which was written: "When next you leave your horse for six hours without food or drink, tie him in front of some other premises." The animal was taken away after standing out in the rain probably ten hours. Near where this beast was last hitched was another horse that had been hitched to a post all the afternoon and was there at 8 o'clock last night, in all the pelting downpour, and for how long after 8 this writer knows not.

Yes, we need a Humane Society, sure enough, as well to look after the dumb creatures that cannot plead their own cause as to care for the abused of our own species.

THE CHRONICLE is at the service of anyone who thinks it expedient to organize a Humane Society.
