Better than Ever

We'd be disappointed if we could not truthfully say each season that our suits and overcoats are "better than ever;" it's a sign that we're keeping in front, each season a little better than last, getting new ideas and improving on old ones, learning something every day and putting it to use for our customer's benefit. This fall we say—"better than ever" with unusual emphasis.

H. S. & M. suits and overcoats, made expressly for Pease & Mays, have the style, fit and service that only first-class tailor-made clothes can give.

should fit her foot. It's harder to make a good-fitting slipper than a good-fitting shoe. A slipper should be snug at the heel and not bulge at the side. We take too much pains with our slipper stock to let anything get in that is not exactly right. We begin with the ordinary house slipper at 85c and $1, and rise step by step to the best in patent leather and kid in straps and ties nicely trimmed at $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.

Tribby and Cole's Original Air-Tight Heaters

For Wood and Lighter Fuel.

The introduction of Cole's Original Air-Tight Heater has revolutionized the heating stove trade in all sections of the United States. Its wonderful economy in the use of fuel, and many other excellent qualities, strongly recommend it to all in need of a heating stove.

What Cole's Heater Will Do.
This stove will heat a room from zero to 80 degrees in five minutes.
It will heat your house evenly day and night.
It holds fire 36 hours without attention. You build only one fire each winter.
It burns chips, bark, leaves, paper and corn cobs, and gives excellent results with this fuel, which is ordinarily wasted.
The stove is light and easily moved and set up.
The combustion is perfect and ashes are removed only once in four weeks.
None of the heat is wasted and the stove will save one-half of your fuel bill.
It is clean, economical, convenient, safe and durable.

Every one of Cole's Original Air-Tight Heaters is guaranteed to stay air-tight as long as used. Where wood is used for fuel every family should have one or more of these stoves.

A couple of weeks ago the steamer Regulator came into collision with the tender of a dredge in the Willamette river, striking the tender midships so that she sank immediately in fifteen feet of water. A spontaneous inquiry into the disaster has resulted in exonerating Captain Johnson, the master of the Regulator, from all blame. The collision occurred during an intensely thick fog.

Miss Irene Flynn, who is considered by the press very fine in character songs, will render several numbers at the Mamie Helen Flynn, Rose Bloch-Bauer, Reginald Hidden recital Thursday, December 5th. James J. Flynn, the baritone-tenor, will also sing at this recital.

Oregon apple-growers are reaping a harvest from their crop this year, owing to the demand of their product from the East, says the Portland Telegram. A shortage of the apple crop elsewhere is the cause. Oregon apples are bringing from $1.50 to $2 a box for shipment East, where the price, after adding $1 for the freight is about $3.

George R. Campbell, son of the late W. E. Campbell, himself a deputy U. S. surveyor as was his father for many years, has just been awarded a $10,000 government contract for the survey of the Quinalt Indian reservation, in Washington, which when planned will open to settlement a tract of approximately 12 townships. The bid was submitted to the department last July.

Invitations were received today by Sheriff Kelly and Deputies Sexton, Wood and Alisky, from Sheriff Totten, of Skamania county inviting them to be present at the execution of the murderer, James G. Green, which takes place at Stevenson next Friday morning between the hours of 6 and 10 o'clock. As some one has got to abide by the office Mr. Kelly chooses to remain and the others will attend, leaving here Thursday afternoon.

Judge Bennett and E. S. Huntington left today for Goldendale where they are interested in the case of the State of Washington vs Harry Dunn, who is charged with selling whiskey without license. Dunn is the conductor of a "Club" where a member by paying "dimes" to the extent of 10 cents, can get a pull at a bottle of whiskey. The case was tried at the last term of the superior court but the jury stood out 6 to 6. Since that trial Dunn was arrested on a similar charge and fined $80. The latter case has been appealed to the supreme court.

After an illness extending over three years Louis Fredrick Sandos died at his home on Mill creek at 2 p. m. yesterday, December 2d. The cause of death was a complication of liver and heart trouble. Mr. Sandos was born in Neuchâtel, Switzerland, 45 years ago. He leaves a wife and five children, four of whom are at home, while the fifth, the eldest daughter, is married to a neighbor, Ernest Bonomi. The funeral will take place from the residence tomorrow at 10 o'clock a. m., and the procession is expected to reach the Odd Fellows cemetery, where the interment will take place, at about 1 o'clock p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Liebke, and Mrs. Harry C. Liebke and Miss Lane returned from Portland last evening where they attended the funeral of Theodore, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore H. Liebe. Little Theodore, as he was familiarly called, was just fifteen years of age, and was well known here having attended The Dalles public school last year. His father being in Alaska at present makes the sad occasion all the more pathetic. The deceased had been ailing for some time with what was at first supposed to be rheumatism but which developed into stiffness in various parts of the body including the stomach.

There are two odd facts in connection with "You Yonec" which is soon to be seen in this city at the Vogt. First, that it is the only Swedish play that has ever had a run in New York. The second is that it is the only Swedish dialect comedy-drama that has run for ten successive seasons in two lands. Both in England and in America it has been playing to tremendous business and from the outlook so far this season it will remain successful for many more years. The company this season is surely the best ever sent out in this play, and with the new scenery and other accessories is destined to play a notable engagement in this city.

The play "A Lion's Heart" drew a good house at the Vogt last night, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, and was well received, as it richly deserved to be. The plot of the play is intensely interesting, centering as it does around Pierre Ricardo, a lion tamer, whose wife and child are stolen from him by Gaspard Dobro. Carl A. Haswin, as Ricardo, acquitted himself grandly in a most difficult role, and Carroll Daly, as Dobro played the consummate villain to perfection. The comedy features of the play were admirably sustained by Blanche Carlyle and Louis Eisehart as lovers and a young married couple, whose antics at times set the house in a roar.

"There is no city in the world with so many foreigners as New York," writes the Rev. David M. Steele in an article on "The Other Side of the Town," in the December Ladies' Home Journal.

"Nor is there any class of persons in the city among whom there are so many 'queer cases.' I met a man in the Bowery one cold, wet, winter night selling shoes-ices. He looked so hungry that I took him to a restaurant, where, after I had given him something to eat, he gave me his confidence. He talked five languages—Italian, Spanish, German, French and Arabic—with equal fluency, but did not know a word of English. But who was he? A man of thirty-five, well educated, well connected and well bred. For five years after graduating he taught Sanskrit in a great university, and for five years following acted as the foreign diplomatic correspondent of a Berlin daily. He had in person interviewed half the crowned monarchs of Europe, and when this work gave occasion he edited the News Interruption Service of the German army. Sent on a mission into Russia, he committed a most serious blunder, and he suddenly found himself wanted by two armies at one time to be shot as a spy. His father cursed him, his patrons deserted and his friends derided him. He escaped with his life in time to flee the country. Today this son of a Russian count is rolling salt barrels on a New York dock."

Market Day at Pendleton.

The second Tuesday of each month is set apart for a market day in Pendleton. The plan was inaugurated in October, and will be continued indefinitely, or at least as long as the present success is maintained. The number of farmers and stockmen in attendance has been fair, with a tendency to increase as the subject becomes better advertised, and those who have livestock and farm produce to sell become better satisfied that they can in this manner find a good market for what they have to sell.

A "market day" was suggested by Mr. E. C. Judson, industrial agent of the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company, and carried out according to his suggestions, he being ably assisted by the Pendleton Commercial Association, which organization appointed Mr. E. T. Cox as a committee of one to handle it.

At the two market-day fairs already held the interest was good. Alta street, near Main, was selected as the place where the stock and produce offered for sale was to be placed on exhibition. All forenoon on the two fair days the sellers and buyers were present in numbers, and a great amount of stuff was sold. The sellers were not from Umatilla county alone, some being present from other counties in Oregon and Washington, while there were a few on hand from Idaho. The wants of the buyers were numerous and varied, ranging through the list of chickens, Belgian hares, ducks, geese, hogs, cattle, sheep, horses, etc., and all kinds of farm produce and farming implements.—Northwest Livestock Journal.
