ARE HOSTILE TO AMERICA

Saturday Review Advocates German-English Alliance—To Check the United States.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—In an intensely bitter anti-American article, the Saturday Review today advocates German-English friendship for the purpose of holding the United States in check. Emperor William, it declares, sees in the growing German population of Chile and Brazil the inevitable necessity for future interference, which, "in any form, involves a conflict with the United States." This, the Saturday Review holds, it is impossible for Germany to wage successfully if Great Britain is hostile.

"While not advocating an alliance with Germany against the United States," the Review says, "we advocate still less one with the United States against Germany. But in the event of a conflict we might wish advantage to ourselves, hold the balance. With a friendly Germany forever eliminated from the political chess board of the New World, we should, with our present policy, admitting the unbridled pretensions of the United States everywhere, one day find ourselves elbowed out forever from both North and South America."

The Saturday Review stigmatizes Great Britain's policy regarding Nicaragua and other matters as fatuous, ridiculous and unpopular. How English opinion differs, however, can be judged from today's Spectator, which devoted its chief article to advocating a closer understanding with Russia, in order to head off Germany, from which it is expected to receive for Great Britain a great benefit, adding: "A German alliance is the least stable ground on which we can lay the foundations of foreign policy."

New York, Dec. 7.—Prince Henry has not appeared in public since the recent disclosures in regard to the domestic member in the court of the Netherlands. It is said he would certainly be missing, when the disclosure of the World at The Hague. His picture has been withdrawn from the cinematograph exhibitions in the music halls throughout Holland owing to the fiery demonstrations of anger it provoked.

The first printed accusations against Prince Henry appeared in the Rhinish press, tending the Dutch frontier. He was charged bluntly with neglect and drunkenness. Homeric carousals are still kept up, traditional in the German military set of junior officers, with whom Prince Henry graduated and saw service. They think it attests their manhood to get helplessly drunk at dinner, and the German newspapers accused Queen Wilhelmina's husband of frequently observing this genial custom after his marriage.

The young queen, heretofore the pink of active, graceful, robust womanhood, now looks abominably bad. It is said she shuts herself up alone for hours in her apartments where it is believed she passes the time crying over her troubles, but no one has ever seen her cry in public. Her pride is overmastering. Those who are acquainted with her character and temperament declare she will never forgive her husband, and will not long endure her present position.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 7.—A dispatch from Las Cruces announces that the oil borers of Empire No. 21, have struck an artesian well in a depth of 200 feet, which sweeps 1000 gallons of water per hour through a two-inch hole. Eagle is situated in the heart of the famous Jornada of Death Desert, which is one of the most arid regions known, and the strike of water will prove far more valuable than an oil gusher. During the Mexican War, out of a column of 100 soldiers who attempted to cross the desert, all but fourteen perished. Great excitement has been created by the strike.

Rome, Dec. 7.—The Journal de Roma publishes the announcement that Monsignore Scialoja, archbishop of Palermo, who recently returned from a visit to the United States, will be appointed apostolic delegate at Washington.

Durham, Colo., Dec. 7.—The first daily newspaper at Federal Springs, Colo., this state has recently been started. It is published by J. W. Smith, at the old location they call it Federal Springs.

A. M. WILLIAMS & CO.

In Miss Eastwick's Behalf.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The legal officers of the state department are looking into an application made by the family of Miss Eastwick, the unfortunate American girl confined in London after conviction for having raised a stock certificate. The purpose of the applicant is to have the department appeal to the British foreign office in Miss Eastwick's behalf. They have presented an overwhelming mass of testimony to show that the girl has in the past been subject to fits of derangement, rendering her irresponsible, and it is asserted she is at present in that condition. The state department will transmit these papers to the United States embassy at London, with instructions to do all that can properly be done in behalf of the prisoner.

Wonderful Natural Cave.

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 6.—A new and wonderful natural cave, believed to be one of the largest known, has just been discovered in the canyon of the Jefferson, on the line of the Northern Pacific Railway, about fifty miles west of Butte. An exploration party from Butte spent several days in the cave, going over an area of ten miles, and to a depth of nearly 1000 feet. A large river with a current of about 100 feet was explored for a distance of several miles, without discovering the outlet. A few articles of stone and copper utensils and some bones believed to be human, were also found in one of the large apartments of the cave.
