

WORK OF FIENDS.

If evidence be adduced sufficient to fasten upon the suspected persons the crime of wrecking the O. R. & N. train near The Dalles, as seems to be most probable, the court that tries the case should take on its most stern aspect, and impose the utmost limit of the penalty provided by statute.

The Dalles case is one in point. Conviction should be followed by a kind of justice that for the nonce does not exhibit too much of the element of mercy. It would be mandarin sentiment to do otherwise.

A story has found its way into the papers about President Roosevelt's little son, and whether it has foundation in fact or not, it is so much what would be expected from such a source as to bear repetition: "A teacher during recess overheard the following between President Roosevelt's little son and one of the other small pupils: 'Your papa is the president of the United States, an' I shouldn't think you'd come to the public school where only common people send their children.' 'There are no common people,' came the sturdy answer. 'My papa says there are only two kinds of people in the world—good people and bad people.'"

Is there a deed adapted to stirring greater horror in the human mind than that for which five tramps have been arrested at The Dalles? asks the Baker City Republican. There is nothing in the annals of present possibilities more cowardly, more brutish, more diabolical and destructive. There is no single little act that man can do in other lines possessing such potentialities of damage to life and property.

What has come over Portland anyway? The executive committee of the soliciting committee of the Lewis and Clark Exposition has found it necessary to notify Portlanders that notwithstanding the fact that a call has been issued for a meeting of the stockholders no subscriptions will be refused until $500,000 is subscribed.

Wearily Willies who do not wish to have their feelings hurt should steer clear of Portland. That boggy man of the genus hobo, the rock pile, will soon stare them in the face and haunt them in their dreams.

POLITICAL POT POURRI.

Perhaps the reader has observed that the Oregonian is very quiet on Gear these days. When he returned from Ohio recently he carefully typewritten interview did not appear in print. Does this signify nothing?—Salem Sentinel.

With the press and the people against him it would seem as if Joe Simon's trail to a seat in the United States senate were a hard one. The new law giving electors a chance to express their choice for U. S. senator was a blow to Simonism. The early primary law was something worse than a blow. If the former did not, the latter certainly sounded the death knell. So far as Marion county is concerned it is not believed today that so many as one Simon representative or senator can be elected.—Salem Sentinel. The Democratic Eugene Guard says: President Roosevelt is entitled to the special gratitude of Pacific coast people by reason of his recommendation that the Chinese exclusion law, about to expire through limitation be re-enacted.

A Kansas young man, who is teaching in the Philippines, writes home: "The children have learned to read and write from the first reader, and are better students than the American children. They memorize everything. The English spelling is 'much niolo.' They don't save final 'e' or 'ough,' 'tion,' 'sion,' etc. The natives are friendly and hospitable. The visitor must always accept a cigar or a cigarette and a glass of wine. The señoritas smoke cigarettes and chew betel nut. The dress of the natives is simple and brief. They have solved the problem of comfort. The hombres wear their only upper garment flapping in the breeze. Señoritas' clothes are décolleté at both ends, but withal they are sensible and becoming. The shoes are always left at the door and the stockings are left at home."
