Mrs. Faulkner has gone to Portland for a few weeks where she will devote her time to the study of head, facial and body massage under Mrs. Prof. Bortell. A lady understanding this line of work has long been wanted in The Dalles, and there is no doubt but that Mrs. Faulkner will meet with success.

There will be a special meeting of Columbia Lodge, No. 5, I. O. O. F., on Thursday, Dec. 19th, at 12:30 p. m., for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, R. L. McIntosh, which will take place from the Calvary Baptist church at 1:30 p. m. All members and visiting brothers are requested to be present. By order of the N. G. O. D. Doane, secretary.

The White Collar line was to have given its ultimatum to the D. P. & A. N. people today in the matter of the pending rate war but failed, giving as a reason that President Seeley of the former line was unable to come to The Dalles today, but expected to be here next Thursday. The officers of the D. P. & A. N. Co., are not feeling particularly sanguine over the result. They expect a war that will be a fight to a finish for at least one of the contestants.

The latest achievement in French surgery is an artificial larynx. The patient using it was presented before the academy of medicine. He was able to eat and speak. The apparatus consists of a vulcanite reproduction of a larynx adapted above the trachea. A rubber diaphragm replaces the glottis. It vibrates, but gives only one note. The patient's speech is, therefore, monotonous. A metallic grating prevents the ingress of solid food. Liquid falls into a funnel and is conducted to the esophagus. An interior orifice facilitates respiration.

It is said that thirty-seven persons are putting in claims for that $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the man who is responsible for the late train wreck near Celilo. This may be extravagant, but it is a sober fact that the lawyer of the prisoner show to whom the negro first confessed that he did the deed, has made a verbal application to the sheriff for a share of the reward on the ground that the negro first confessed to him. As a matter of fact The CHRONICLE has mighty little faith in that negro story and seriously doubts if anyone will ever handle a cent of reward for his conviction.

Mrs. M. J. Atwell died at the Cascade Locks on the land where she had lived for nearly half a century, and which she and her husband took up under the old donation land claim law in the early fifties. No particulars of her death have reached here but it is presumed it came about through old age as she is believed to have been over 80 years old. C. N. Burget took a casket to the locks this afternoon in which to bring the remains here tonight for burial tomorrow. Mrs. Atwell was twice married. She leaves five sons, two by her first husband and three by her second. Two of the latter, John and Wilbur, make their home at the Cascade Locks.

Three applications were made today to Judge Blakeley, by as many lawyers, for the appointment of an administrator of the estate of John Sipma, who died intestate recently at Hood River. Judge Martin L. Pipes, of Portland, appeared for Frank Chandler of Portland; A. A. Jayne for J. T. Neileigh, of Hood River, and E. S. Huntington for Leslie Butler, of the same place. Subsequently Mr. Jayne amended his application by requesting that both Mr. Neileigh and Mr. Butler be appointed. The judge took the matter under advisement and has not yet announced his decision. Sipma is said to have left about $70,000 worth of property, $12,000 worth of which is in the Hood river valley.

The Oregonian says speculation is rife in Portland as to who will receive the $1,000 reward offered by the O. R. & N. Co., for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who wrecked the train near Celilo December 6th. The speculation is, of course, somewhat previous. Addison Kidd, the self-confessed wrecker, has not been convicted yet and may never be; but should it be proved that he did the mischief there is one man, whose name has never yet been mentioned by the papers, who will cut an important figure when the question as to who is responsible for Kidd's arrest comes to be determined. That man is Agent James Ireland. It was he that first conceived the idea of the negro's arrest, and it was he that diplomatically invited the negro into his caboose when coming this way from the scene of the wreck, and it was he that telegraphed from the wreck for officers to be at the depot when he would return to town as he intended not to come back here without him. With these facts undisputed who is responsible for the negro's arrest?

Grover Wickham, the 12-year-old son of R. F. Wickham, of Dutch Flat, was brought to The Dalles hospital last night, suffering from concussion of the brain, supposed to have been incurred by his being thrown from a horse that he was riding bareback. The boy is still unconscious so that how the accident happened can only be guessed at. He was at home alone for a few days while his father was doing carpenter work on J. T. Peters' new store building. The supposition is that the boy mounted one of his father's horses to visit a neighbor's house, and while on the way was thrown violently to the ground. He was found shortly after the accident with the animal standing close by. He had fallen on his head and a pool of blood lay beside him that had exuded from his ears and mouth. Vest Fox found the lad in this condition and took him to Otto Green's where the blood was washed from his face so that he could be recognized. He was then wrapped up and brought to the hospital, arriving here about 10 o'clock. This afternoon the boy was still unconscious, and inquiry at the hospital elicited the information that practically no hope is entertained of his recovery.

A Dalles Mining Company.

Mr. L. L. Hill, superintendent of the Columbia Mining and Milling Co., recently incorporated at The Dalles with a capital stock of $800,000, was in the city last week, says the Grant County News.

Mr. Hill has been at The Dalles since he left here over a year ago, for the purpose of organizing this company to develop the Last Chance mine, situated about six miles east of Canyon City and one mile from the famous Prairie Digging mine. Mr. Hill succeeded not only in organizing the company but also in selling sufficient stock to place the company in a position to do extensive development work.

The company is composed of prominent business men and capitalists of The Dalles, its president being ex-Senator Dufur; vice-president, T. A. Hudson; secretary, T. Brownhill; superintendent, L. L. Hill; treasurer, District Attorney Menefee.

It is the intention of Superintendent Hill to push developments work as rapidly as possible this winter, in fact work has already been commenced. A small force of men will be employed during the winter and this force will be augmented in the early spring.

A shaft will be sunk to a distance of 200 feet and a new tunnel driven for the purpose of cross cutting the main ledge.

A 250-foot tunnel has already been opened up on the property and the ore gives flattering assays.

It is the intention of the new company to place a stamp mill on the property sometime next season.

The above mine is in the immediate neighborhood of the famous Great Northern mine, out of which Ike Yaker dug $40,000 worth of the yellow metal in a few days' time. Only last week this same Yaker and a man named Dart struck a decomposed seam of quartz in another adjoining mine that, on further development, is expected to disclose a mine possibly as rich as the Great Northern.
