Frank Callaghan, the young son of M. Callaghan, of this city, who has been ill for five weeks with typhoid fever, is reported better and on the road to recovery.

A dispatch from Rome announces that it has been decided to canonize Joan of Arc and that a formal ceremony for that purpose will shortly be held in St. Peter's.

THE CHRONICLE is pleased to learn that Tom Ward, who has been seriously ill for a long time, has improved very much during the past two or three days and it is now hoped, is on the road to recovery.

A hobo was arrested last night by Officer Aliaky for attempting to pick a man's pocket in the White House saloon. The fellow was confined in the county jail till this morning when he was run out of town.

The west-bound passenger train, due here at 1:10 p. m. is not expected till "about" 9 o'clock tonight, which means any time between this and Christmas. The delay is said to be on account of a wreck somewhere east of Huntington.

The funeral of the late Robert McIntosh took place this afternoon and was largely attended. The services at the church were conducted in presence of an audience that filled every available foot of space, while scores of persons stood outside, unable to gain admission.

Mr. D. M. Roerdon and Miss Harriett Wilson, of this city, were united in marriage last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wilson, Rev. D. V. Poling officiating.

Sheriff Frazier was in town today from Portland receiving horses for the British cavalry. Thirty-six head, all told, were offered and sixteen of these were from Klakhat county. The contractor who accompanied Mr. Frazier, for some reason, was unusually hard to please, and only fourteen head of the entire lot were accepted.

Mr. Henry Herbring is the agent for the Walkover shoes and always keeps the leading styles on hand. The price is only $3.50 and any gentleman that wants a pair of these shoes for Xmas need not send to Portland for them or give an order to a peddler. Procure them right at home and patronize your home dealer.

The prospectus of the New Years Oregonian in today's issue of that paper says: "It will be news to many Portland people even that a single corporation at The Dalles has this year expended nearly $250,000 in the construction of a large electric light and power transmission plant, and for the purchase and betterment of new properties."

Mays & Crowe have placed in one of their big show windows a glass jar filled with money which they propose giving away to their customers. With every cash purchase of $1 they give a ticket on which you enter your guess of the amount of money in the jar. The person guessing the closest to the amount gets the money. The contest closes March 1.

Addison Kidd, the self-confessed train wrecker, asked for a lawyer for the first time yesterday. One was promptly sent for but what passed between them only themselves know. Since the conference, however, Kidd has been quite reticent about his alleged part in the wreck. He has written to friends in St. Louis and Seattle for money to enable him to fee a lawyer.

At the Catholic fair tonight, voting will begin on the beautiful picture drawn by Miss Jennia Williamson, daughter of Senator Williamson. The vote will be for the most popular man in Wasco county. There will also be voting for an elegant oil painting by Miss Lillie Senfert; also a fine carriage whip for the man who has the finest horse in The Dalles. Come and vote for your friends.

It is reported that the English partridges imported and turned loose in several localities in the Willamette valley about a year ago have increased remarkably. As high as seventy-five birds were counted in a single field in the vicinity of Albany this fall. As the entire importation consisted of but twenty-four birds, and several of them were not expected to live, this increase is remarkable, the more so considering that only about a third of the birds were liberated in that vicinity.

Articles of incorporation of the Mount Hood Mining and Stock Company were filed today in the office of the county clerk. The incorporators are B. R. Tucker, R. S. Tucker and F. E. Strong. The business of the corporation is to "acquire, hold, work and operate placers and lodes or quartz mines," and to acquire such property and do such things as are incident to a general mining business; to buy and sell mining claims and other real estate, and to conduct a general livestock business. The head office is at Hood River, and the capital stock is $30,000.

Mrs. H. F. Myers and daughter, Mrs. Ed Meddler, of Wasco, spent last night in the city on their way home from a week's stay at St. Martin's Springs. Mrs. Meyers told THE CHRONICLE man that she had never heard of the report that the St. Martins had concluded to rent the springs and did not believe there was a word of truth in it. On the contrary she was reliably informed that the St. Martin's had recently refused an offer of $45,000 for a ten years' lease, the lessee binding himself to spend $15,000 in improving the property, and the improvements to belong to the St. Martin's at the termination of the lease.

A man named West, aged about 60 years and a stranger in these parts, died very suddenly at the Tygh hotel last Saturday morning, having arrived here from Lyle the night before. Arriving at Tygh he complained to the landlady of feeling very ill and asked for a bed. He grew worse very rapidly and the local physician was sent for. When he arrived at West's bedside the doctor saw the man was dying and beyond the reach of human skill. Before 8 o'clock that evening West was dead. Judge Blakeley was notified and he gave orders that the man be buried at Tygh at the county's expense. It is said that the doctor pronounced the man's death to have resulted from acute pneumonia. It is said he was complaining when he left here. The long, cold ride to Tygh undoubtedly hastened his death if it did not cause it.

Jerome Parsons, who for many years owned and operated a ferry boat on the John Day river at Omatenton, now Traskenham, Wheeler county, has sold his ferry boat to Graham & Son, who will operate it for the use of the public, at their place on the river at the mouth of Thirty-mile creek, in Gilliam county. The boat is to be navigated down the river by Captain Parsons, Pilot Jay Saltzman and First Mate Johnny Graham. The distance is about sixty miles down the river, and the voyage, if successful as it is confidently expected it will be, will demonstrate that the John Day is no slouch of an "open river" it is said. A ferry at the mouth of Thirty-mile will be a great convenience, as it will afford a much nearer route to the railroad to many farmers of the Mayville section than they now enjoy, provided the wagon road across the canyon be worked and improved.—Fossil Journal.

"Toronto has some of the best paved streets on the continent, but the method of conducting the business affairs of the city is what commends itself to the casual visitor," says a recent visitor to that city. "For instance, their system of controlling the saloon business is about perfect. There are about 150 saloons in Toronto, and that is the limit prescribed by city ordinance. These saloons are regularly licensed, and the only way to obtain a license is to purchase a business already established. The license itself is about $300 per year. When I left Canada, the sum of $4000 was offered a saloon man for his license. I don't know whether he concluded to accept it or not. The saloons are regulated in such a manner that they are the most orderly of places. They close at 11 o'clock on all nights except Saturday when they close at 6 o'clock. This is done in order that the workingman will not spend his weekly wages for drink. When they are closed there is no back door entrance. They are shut tighter than a drum, and a man who opens his saloon stands a chance to have his license revoked. At a valuation of $4,000 he can hardly afford to run the risk."

Catholic Fair Program.

Following is the program to be given at the Catholic fair this (Thursday) evening:
Selection.....St. Mary's Orchestra
Local solo.....Miss Mary Goelner
Vocal solo—by request.....Mrs. N. J. Sinnott

For the benefit of Christmas shoppers, the Pacific Express Company's office will be open every evening till 8 o'clock from now until Christmas.

That said sewer shall be of terra cotta pipe, and the extent and location of which shall be as follows:

And it is determined by the said Council that the cost of said sewer shall be assessed against the property benefited thereby.

The notice of this determination is hereby given by fourteen days' notice thereof, published in THE DALLES DAILY CHRONICLE, a newspaper published in said Dalles City, Oregon, which notice is given by order of the Council of Dalles City, which notice was made on the 15th day of December, 1901.
