Among the gifts presented to the lady managers of the Catholic fair is a dinner set of 104 pieces by Mrs. Greiner.

Arrangements have been made to shear one hundred and fifty thousand head of sheep at Shaniko next spring.

L. P. Bolton, of Boyd, writes from Macedonia, Iowa, under date of December 16th, that the thermometer there on that date was 30 deg. below zero.

The wife of J. C. Cole of Fulton street was taken ill yesterday of diphtheria. This morning the quarantine was raised from Councilman Kelly's residence. This leaves four houses now under quarantine.

There will be a special communication of Columbia Chapter No. 23, O. E. S., Monday evening, at 7:30, for the installation of officers. By order of the W. M. Mary Scott Myers, secretary.

If the thief who stole the purse from the market basket of Mrs. E. M. Williams in Rorden's store Saturday afternoon will return the lockbox he can have the purse and the rest of its contents.

THE CHRONICLE is pleased to learn that Mr. Smith French has almost completely recovered from his late indisposition and is expected by his physicians to be restored to his usual health in a short time.

Grover Wickham, the young son of R. F. Wickham, of Dutch Flat, who was nearly killed last Monday by being violently thrown to the ground from the back of a horse, is improving and the hospital physicians believe he will recover. When the fall was upon him, trepanning and a clot of blood removed the boy has been rational most of the time.

During the next two months Louis Comini will sell every monument in his yard at a discount of 20 per cent below regular prices. The monuments must be sold as he needs the money to pay his debts.

Arrangements are being perfected for a Christmas football game between The Dalles team and the Wasco eleven, at the latter place. The Dalles boys are ready for the game, being in first class condition.

John Doe, an able bodied young fellow who claimed to have worked on the railroad improvements below town, was arrested last night for begging on the public streets. He was fined $3 this morning, but having nothing to pay was run out of town.

The will of the late Emil Schanno was filed for probate yesterday. H. J. Maier, L. A. Schanno and Mrs. Schanno are appointed executors without bonds. The will is dated October 31, 1894 and is witnessed by Malcolm McInnis and Joseph F. Bonn.

A thief yesterday afternoon, in broad day light, stole a 22 pound dressed turkey from a hook in front of the Fletcher store in the East End. The fowl was soon missed and was subsequently found cached in a chicken house back of the store. There is no trace of the thief.

Tomorrow being Christmas Sunday, services appropriate to the occasion will be conducted at the Congregational church. Morning subject, "The Limitless Life." The choir will render Park's anthem, "And There Were Shepherds." Miss Cushing will sing "Emanuel" as the evening offertory.

There will be a quarterly-meeting at the East Dalles United Brethren church, Rev. C. C. Ball presiding-elder of Oregon conference will preach Saturday evening at 7:30, and Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Communion service at the morning meeting. You are invited to come. L. Harter, pastor.

The mask ball at Dry Hollow hall last night was largely attended. Everything passed off pleasantly and that it was greatly enjoyed will be evident when it is said they danced all night until broad day light and went home with the girls in the morning. Charles Connelly won the prize for the best masked gentleman and Miss Clara Williams that for the best masked lady.

This afternoon while Mrs. E. M. Williams was doing some trading in Rorden's grocery store somebody stole her purse out of her market basket while her face was turned for a few minutes in another direction. The purse was missed in half a minute but the thief was gone and there was no trace by which he could be discovered. The purse contained $2.50 in money, a watch, a pocket lock and a card with Mrs.

Williams' name on it. If the thief would only return the lockbox he might keep the purse and the rest of its contents.

A letter from the Pacific Bridge Company dated last Thursday announced that their employees on the power plant at White River falls had sent word to headquarters that everything would be ready in a week to turn on the power. It is expected therefore, that this event, so anxiously looked for, and one of the most important to The Dalles in all its history, will happen without fail between Christmas and New Year.

Sheriff Bergin, of Klickitat county, went to Portland Thursday, and asked Chief McLaughlin to aid him in a search for Charles Hooker, who is wanted in Goldendale for running away with the pretty wife of a well-to-do rancher. Hooker was found at the Perkins Hotel, where he and the woman had been stopping since Tuesday, and he was lodged in jail. Sheriff Bergin left for Portland with his prisoner this morning.

The Oregon Agricultural college announces an "Extended Farmers' Institute" at the college lasting from January 14th to February 14, 1902. Lectures will be delivered, animal husbandry, problems in agriculture, agricultural chemistry, horticulture, butter and cheese making, bacteriology, insect pests and plant diseases, vegetable and flower garden, etc. The lectures are free to all and no books are needed.

It has now been demonstrated that it is profitable to ship Washington lumber by cargo to New York, the initial shipment of 500,000 feet having been made this month by a Seattle firm by steamer, says the correspondent of the Tacoma News. The same firm has another shipment of 1,000,000 feet ready to be shipped as soon as a suitable vessel can be procured. The time consumed en route is about seventy days, and the rates around the Horn are a little more than half of those exacted by the railroads.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the voting at the Catholic fair stood as follows: For the most popular gentleman in Wasco county, Judge Bradshaw, 5; Judge Blakeley, 7; Senator J. N. Williamson, 30; Judge Bennett, 8; E. O. McCoy, 22. For the most popular elk: J. A. McArthur, 91; E. Walther, 15; Will Vogt, 30. For the most popular member of the Driving Association: T. J. Seufert, 2; J. S. Fish, 41; L. A. Porter, 12; E. O. McCoy, 12; L. E. Crowe, 12; E. C. Pease, 11; Fred Fisher, 20; W. H. Hobson, 5. The voting for the whip will close at 9:45 sharp; for the picture, at 11 o'clock sharp. The elk's pillow will be the last to be voted on.

Another hold-up occurred in the city last night, and on Second street too, right in front of Uncle Sam's postoffice and in the full blaze of the electric lights in front of the entrance to the K. of P. hall. None but nature's weapons were used and nobody was hurt, and no money was taken, but instead Rand's handsome wagon was robbed of every inch of wienerwurst it contained, the fair robbers, for they were ladies, eating the stuff on the spot and calling for more. The ladies belonged to the newly organized lodge of Royal Neighbors and by some mistake they and the Macabees had fixed upon the same night for their regular meeting in the little K. of P. hall. As soon as the ladies learned of the mistake they gallantly surrendered the hall to the Macabees, and it was while on the way home, with appetites sharpened by the cold night air, that a whiff of hot wienerwurst led them into temptation which they found impossible to resist. No arrests, and Rand says he wouldn't mind being robbed again.

The attendance last night at the Catholic fair was larger than on any previous night and the receipts were correspondingly larger. The musical program varied somewhat from that announced for the occasion but what there was of it was excellent. Miss Myrtle Michell opened with a vocal solo that was rendered in her usual charming manner, and was heartily encored. Miss Genevieve Fish followed with a piano solo that showed good musical talent and careful training in one so young. Miss Irene Flynn closed with a charming little melody that fairly captured the house, and not until she had sung a couple more, equally pleasing, was she permitted to permanently retire behind the stage. The largest program of the week will be rendered tonight, and there be no manner of question that it will be worth the price of admission ten times over. Jack Staniele held the lucky number for a handsome silver cup. Father Brongest won a beautiful doll's bed; H. Baile won the order for a tailor-made suit of clothes, and Mrs. McGrail, the winning number for a Japanese center table. The carving set was won by M. T. Nolan; the bamboo table by Pat McGrail; a patchwork quilt by Mrs. Cushing, and a footstool by Mrs. Stubling.
