WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Ice cream for Christmas dinners at A. Keller's confectionery store.
The football game next Sunday will be called at 2 o'clock p. m. sharp.
The postoffice will be open for delivery of mail from 9 to 10 a. m. and 5 to 6 p. m. on Christmas day.
Mrs. Vickers desires through THE CHRONICLE to thank the Modern Women of this city for a nice Christmas turkey.
Employees of the Wasco Warehouse Milling Company were busy today hanging up the arc light lamps for lighting the city.
A marriage license was issued this afternoon to Carl S. Liverstine of Iowa and Miss Retta Olive Taylor, daughter of W. H. Taylor of Dry Hollow.
Frank Gunning is adding a 20x30 foot two story addition to his blacksmith shop which will be used for the wagon department of his large and increasing business.
Christmas services at Zion Lutheran church tomorrow, Wednesday, at 11 a. m. The Sunday school will render a program at 4:30 p. m. A cordial welcome is extended to all.
At the East End jewelry store this evening at 8 o'clock the jar containing the stones will be opened and counted. The person guessing closest to number of stones in the jar will be given the gold watch.
A. M. Williams & Co's are closing out the entire line of fine statuary and wedgewood novelties, ranging in price to $3, at the special price of 50c per piece. A rare chance to secure a choice Xmas gift cheap.
During yesterday and until noon today fifty scalps were redeemed at the office of the county clerk. Of these thirty-eight were presented by Henry Indigo who killed them on the George A. Young & Son's range south of Baker.

The plans have been drawn for the new brick school to be built on the site of the L. A. Foster stable recently demolished by fire. The building will cover the lot between the street and the corner of the block. It is the first plan we have seen for a school building in the city.
The deceased's name was William Newton West. He was born March 30, 1834 and died Sunday evening December 15, 1901.
As yet the receipts for all the departments of the Catholic fair have not been announced but Mesdames T. J. Seufert and J. S. Fish, who were ably assisted in their department by Mesdames H. Herbring, J. Benton, M. Blank, C. Howe, A. Sandrock, J. Doherty, F. A. Seufert, M. Boynton, J. P. Flynn and daughters, and Misses Angie O'Brien, Sadie Redmond, Anna Stubling and Maun Kuhne, have realized about $1055. This does not include any part of the door money or any department outside of their individual booths and it is likely that the proceeds from the other departments will more than double this amount. The above mentioned ladies desire to thank the public for their liberal patronage as well as the individuals who did so much toward the success of the enterprise, also to each and every merchant in the city who was most liberal in his donation and to the Seufert & Condon Telephone Co., who put in a phone in the opera house for their benefit. The net proceeds will be announced in a few days.
Christmas Music at St. Peter's.
On Christmas day High Mass will be celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Father Bronsgeest, at 10:30 a. m.
Special music has been prepared for this occasion. Farmers Mass will be sung with Birgfeld's orchestra as accompaniment. The following singers will take part:
Soprano—Mesdames N. J. Sinnott and T. A. VanNorden. Misses Irene Flynn, Marie Goelner, Elizabeth Lauer and Ethel Brown.
Tenor—Messrs. Crandall, Davenport and Flynn.
Alto—Mrs. Borden and Misses Elizabeth Bonn, and Melvia Dawson and Carl Herbring, Hugh Lacey and Ernest Goelner.
Bassos—Messrs. Doane, Simonton, Sinnott, Sexton and Heroux. The music is under the direction of C. J. Crandall with Mamie Helen Flynn as organist.
Umatilla county stockmen have been banding up their cattle with the result that nearly every owner is short some cattle. The stealing is laid to the charge of an organized band of "rustlers" their method being for each member of the gang to drive small bunches of cattle, one night's drive, so as to be able to return to his home before daybreak in the morning. When fairly out of the country where owned they are bunched and driven to the railroad for shipment. As the cattle on the range are only gathered for counting and branding calves, once a year, the thieves are practically secure from detection. The cattle may have been gone several months before the owners become aware of their loss.

building as soon as the contractors have a chance to put in their bids. If a satisfactory contract can be had in time work will commence next week and be rushed to completion.

Mr. G. T. Parr returned this morning from a two weeks business trip to San Francisco. Mr. Parr has been appointed agent in-chief of the Eastern Oregon Land Company, vice G. W. McNear, the change to take effect on the 1st of January.

The London Times reprints from its issue of November 23, 1901, the following items: "A milliner advertises that she will not be visited on foot, and assures her customers that her father kept his own coach. This is very true—No. 305, and drove it also."

The business men of the city, generally, say that they never had a better holiday trade than the present. Some of them, most of them in fact, say they never had as good. Everybody appears to have plenty of money which is spent freely on presents that are above the average of holiday goods in price and value.

The Boys Club of the Congregational church yesterday presented Rev. D. V. Poling with a handsome library chair and desk while the girls of the congregation presented Mrs. Poling with a nice parlor chair. The presentation was so arranged that it was a real surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Poling.

A turkey famine was precipitated yesterday afternoon when it was supposed there wasn't a turkey to be had in town except less than half a dozen that were so poor that no one wanted them. There were, however, a few on sale this morning and the prospect of more this afternoon, either from a surplus that wasn't reckoned on or a shipment from Portland.

Frank Gunning has two beautiful specimens of his own blacksmith handicraft as ever was seen. One is a stick pin forged from one piece of steel, the head consisting of three little horse shoes. The other is a fire shovel with a beautifully carved handle. Both were made for Christmas presents, the shovel if we mistake not being for Mr. Gunning's best girl.

E. O. McCoy did a heroic act at 3 o'clock this afternoon and probably saved the life of little Ray Jackson, son of J. H. Jackson of this city. The boy had been riding the family pony and the beast had run away with him, galloping round various streets on the hill finally making a rush down Washington street. As the pony turned the corner at French's bank Mr. McCoy rushed to the street and placing his shoulder against the horse stopped the animal as quickly as if he had run against a stone wall.

A man said as the other day, remarks on exchange, that he did not publish all the things that happen. We should say we don't. In the first place we have others who depend on us for living. If we published all that happens we should soon be with the angels. In order to please people we must print only the nice things on them and leave the rest to the gossip; yes, its a fact we don't print all the news. If we did wouldn't it make spicy reading? But this would be for one week only. The next week you would read our obituary, and there would be a strange face in heaven.

The members of The Dalles football team are practicing daily between the hours of 4 o'clock and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, on the beach near the D. P. & A. N. Co's. warehouse. The team has been reinforced by some of our college boys who are home for the holidays, and it presents the strongest aggregation ever seen in The Dalles. The people can rest assured that the game on Dec. 20th, will be the best contest ever seen on the gridiron in The Dalles, and one of the best ever witnessed in the state. No doubt they will appreciate the fact and greet the team and visitors with a large audience.

The merry Christmas time is here again with all its storied tradition of fascinating mystery and joyous spirit of Christian love and charity. You breathe it in the happy home circle where every little tot and elder thrills with a delicious secret. It is written on innumerable beaming faces. The schools are charged with it and the churches, too. It is a time of happiness and should be a time of better understanding. Let us be thankful that the good God has given us this festival of cheer and kindness to warm the heart and teach us gentle manners and reveal the unsounded depths of human good and aspiration.

At a special communication of Columbia Chapter No. 83, O. E. S., last night, the following officers were installed: Mrs. C. W. Deitzel, W. M.; Mr. J. P. Lucas, W. P.; Mrs. Olivia Morgan, A. M.; Mrs. Mary Myers, Sec.; Mrs. Mary Logan, Treas.; Miss Harriet Marden, Cond.; Miss Maude Clarke, A. Cond.; Mrs. Sallie Clarke, Chaplain; Miss Lena Liebe, Adah; Mrs. Eliza Kelsay, Ruth; Mrs. Eether Harris, Esther; Mrs. Jessie Kirby, Martha; Mrs. Anna Kinersly, Electa; Mrs. Grace Donnell, warden; Mr. C. W. Deitzel, sentinel. Mrs. Emilie Sanders was chosen as marshal, but on account of sickness will be installed later.

A writer who signs himself "A Friend," but who forgot to furnish his name, writes to say that the man who died suddenly at Tygh, Sunday night week, a well-known resident of Wapinitia; that the father died, as was said in the CHRONICLE at the time, of acute pneumonia; that the landlord of the Tygh hotel, Sam Broyles, sent for the son as soon as it was seen that the case of his father was serious, but that the son did not reach his father's bedside until he had passed away. The writer adds that Mr. Broyles had advised with Judge Stubbins about the man's burial before his son arrived but the son paid all the expenses of the funeral.

The deceased's name was William Newton West. He was born March 30, 1834 and died Sunday evening December 15, 1901.
