Y. W. C. A. To Stage Demonstration—The Dalles will be invaded by an irresistible army next Saturday night; an army against which it will be useless to attempt defense. For next Saturday night, the Girl Reserve corps of the local Y. W. C. A. is going to show the city what their organization is, and what it can do. All of the girls will be out in the uniform of the corps. They will parade the streets, sing songs and "pep things up" in general, according to the present plan.

Irish Friend is Killed—Dr. Fred Thompson is today mourning the death of Pat, a very intimate Irish friend of his. Pat was run over this morning at the intersection of Fifth street and Union avenue, by an automobile the driver of which is unidentified. Instant death resulted. Pat was Dr. Thompson's hobby, the little Irish setter having been purchased when a puppy and raised in The Dalles. According to Dr. Thompson, he is "through with the Irish," and is now going to purchase an English bulldog.

Attendance Record Broken—The attendance record of the local Y. W. C. A. was broken during the month of March, it was brought out at a meeting of the board of directors held in the Y. W. C. A. club rooms last night. Since March first, a total of 2,112 persons have used the club rooms, for one purpose or another. The directors laid plans for the approaching budget campaign, which will be put on to secure funds with which to keep the local Y. W. C. A. operating for another year. This campaign will start Saturday, April 16.

Cleaning Bee Held—A general cleaning bee was the program for the ladies of the Calvary Baptist church at the all-day meeting held yesterday. A heavy barrage of vacuum sweepers was followed by an irresistible advance movement of dust cloths, dustless mops and cedar oil. When the noise of battle died away, evidence of victory was seen in every corner. Nearly thirty of the ladies enjoyed dinner together in the church. The afternoon session was devoted to quilting. FARMERS PLAN parts of the country, working through local cooperative grain elevators.

The big question in this conference Wednesday was whether the proposed corporation should provide for a national grain pool to attempt stabilization of grain market prices.

In the submitted report, pooling was made optional. It provided that the farmer could sell his grain for cash to the local cooperative elevator, on consignment, "or by any other method mutually agreed upon, which is in harmony with provisions of this contract."

George C. Jewell, general manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers' association, took the floor.

"This organization will stand or fall on its attitude on pooling," he said. Every grain man of experience, and every farmer who has ever sold his grain to a cooperative organization for pooling purposes, knows that control of prices, or influence on prices depends upon pooling.

"This organization must provide for the pooling of at least one third of all grain we buy or handle.

"Thus we can, say, hold in reserve 200,000,000 bushels of wheat that we can put on the market at favorable times. It will enable us to merchandise our products, insuring a stable price, and not to dump it and take what is given to us. My organization has contracts for 23,000,000 bushels of grain and every pound of it is pooled."

This argument found strong support with a large number of the farm leaders present. C. O. Moser, secretary of the Texas Farm Bureau federation, offered an amendment providing for the pooling of one third of all grain purchased by the proposed corporation. It will be acted on Thursday.

As the United States Grain Growers, Inc., as proposed by the committee, it will make contracts ranging to five years, with local cooperative grain elevators. The elevators, in turn, will have contracts for grain deliveries with farmers, who will be members of the national organization.

The grain will be forwarded to terminal elevators and put into the hands of a national sales agency, manned by experts on the grain market. They will sell it on the market as they see fit. The corporation is a non-stock, non-profit organization, and profits will be pro-rated.

The plan also contemplates the formation of an export company, the establishment of a news service, so farmers may get "unprejudiced information on the market situation and subsidiary sales companies in all parts of the country. The main offices, according to the report, are to be in Wilmington, Del., with other offices in Chicago.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace endorsed the proposition of cooperative marketing in an address before the conference.

Real Bargain Days For The Man Who Builds

Rents are high as ever, yet lumber and building materials have come down with a crash.

In many cases our prices are 40% lower than those of a year ago.

For the man who plans to build, repair, or remodel, this is certainly a favorable time.

The country as a whole is four years behind in its building program. Our own city needs 100 homes to bring conditions back to normal.

People must build, soon, and increased building is sure to bring higher prices. The present situation is the result of forced selling by manufacturers who are over-stocked.

These manufacturers were caught by the lull in buying and they must convert their stocks into ready money. In many cases they are selling at cost. When building begins again they will be quick to ask their legitimate profits once more.

We have a big stock of building materials, INCLUDING ALL KINDS OF LUMBER, VULCANITE ROOFING, AND BEAVER BOARD, which we secured at favorable prices and which we will sell at a bargain.
