

Social Activities and Other Things

65th Wedding Day.

One of the most notable social events ever held in The Dalles, was the celebration of the sixty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Thompson, Monday, at their home in West Third street. The occasion was observed with a reception. During the afternoon, from 3 o'clock until 5 and in the evening from 8 o'clock until 10 a constant line of friends called to extend good wishes and present tokens of their esteem. The rooms were beautiful with the numerous floral gifts received. Many telegrams and cards were received by Mr. and Mrs. Thompson.

The dining room was profusely decorated with red tulips. The serving table was tastefully arranged with cut glass, silver and linens which were the gifts of flowing friends in past years. Mrs. Alice Sheldon and Mrs. Anna Kinnersley poured. Mrs. Clifton Condon, Mrs. John Stuben, Miss Victoria Thompson and Miss Florence Thompson assisted.

During the afternoon, Mrs. J. M. Lowe sang "Fulfillment," and "Sing, Sing, Birds on the Wing." Mrs. Carlton P. Williams sang "Lassie O' Mine." During the evening Miss Myrtle Michell sang, "When You Come Home," and "Mother Machree," and Mrs. Pat Foley sang "Perfect Day." John Lennox Thompson and Miss Margaret Rosley were married in Lowell, Mass., April 4, 1856, by the Rev. Theodore Edison, who was then the most noted Episcopal minister of that state. Mr. Thompson came to the Pacific coast in 1858, at the time of the gold rush in California. This trip was made by boat around Cape Horn to San Francisco. Mrs. Thompson later joined him, and they resided in San Francisco for 10 years, then came to Dallas, Oregon. They lived there two years, then came to The Dalles in 1870 and have lived here since that time.

Five daughters were born to them, three of whom are living, Mrs. C. L. Richmond, Mrs. Anna Thompson-Lindsay and Miss Laura Thompson of this city. Carrie Elizabeth and Lena Lennox Thompson have died.

Mr. Thompson is now 89 years of age and Mrs. Thompson is 85. They have never suffered any serious illness other than the general ailments attendant upon declining years.

Historical Society.

The Historical society gave a very pleasant social afternoon at Hotel Dalles Tuesday afternoon. The members of the Sorosis club and many other guests were invited. A very pleasing musical program consisting of the following numbers, was rendered:

Group of Songs, "For You Alone" and "Sweet Rain," Mrs. C. R. Marshall Piano Solo, "Under the Leaves,"

John Crofton Solo, "The Barefoot Trail," and encore, "I Don't Have to Die to Go to Heaven," Mrs. Peggy Sullivan.

Solo, "Today," Encore, "Gray Days," Lynn Roycroft

Solo, "The Charm of Spring," and encore, "Her Dream," Mrs. Carlton P. Williams.

Piano Duet, "Hungary," and encore, "Carmen Overture," Miss Lucille Cummins and Miss Nellie Haggerty.

The rest of the afternoon was spent at bridge and five hundred, with some of the ladies busy with needlework. The different hostesses served dainty refreshments.

Enjoyable Dancing Party.

Mrs. J. I. Chambers and Mrs. Thomas R. Hudson were hostesses at a charming dancing party at the Chambers home Friday night. A color scheme in yellow was carried out. The little guests present were: Mary Alice Hostetter, Frances Van Dellen, Dorothy Loomis, Helen Lindquist, Letha Kirk, Emma Johnson, Mary Stevens, Lola Van Horn, Maxine Vogt, Ruth Williams, Christine Rice, Joan Stadelman, Vela Fritzsche, Doris Fritzsche, Dorothy Greene and Elizabeth Yantis. Outdoor games were played. Canning little baskets of candy were given as favors and dainty place cards were used. The refreshments included a fine birthday cake.

Artisans Surprise Lemkes.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lamke were thoroughly surprised Wednesday evening, when the Artisan lodge tendered them a surprise party in the lodge rooms, after the regular session. About 150 Artisans and invited friends were present. A three-piece orchestra played for dancing. The tables in the dining room were beautifully decorated with carnations and ferns and a well served lunch was enjoyed. Mrs. Lemke was presented with a basket of red carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemke expect to leave for a visit to Germany next Thursday, which occasioned the enjoyable time, and many friendly expressions were bestowed upon them. They sail from New York City on the Frederick the Eighth. They will visit relatives and see many places of interest before returning to this city in September.

Party For Mrs. Ross.

Mrs. F. L. Phipps entertained at her home Friday afternoon, honoring Mrs. C. C. Ross, who is a new resident of The Dalles. The invitational list included: Mrs. R. C. Bradshaw, Mrs. C. C. R. V. P. Club.

Mrs. Claud S. Knight entertained the R. V. P. club at her home Thursday evening. There are 12 members of the club. On account of two regrets sent in, two invited guests were present. Bridge was played and Mrs. Harlan P. Fancher won the prize. Pink and lavender were used in the decorations. A dainty lunch was served.

Needlecraft Meets.

The Needlecraft met with Mrs. A. S. Esson at her home, Friday afternoon. Members and several invited guests were present. A pleasant social time was enjoyed, after which tea was served.

Y. W. C. A. Meeting.

One of the four regular membership meetings of the Y. W. C. A. held during the year, convened in the Y. W. rooms Monday evening. The program was arranged by Miss Maud Harriman. A recognition service for 12 new members was a part of the program. Mrs. Carlton P. Williams and Mrs. J. M. Lowe sang solos. The rooms were tastefully decorated with spring flowers. Reports from the general secretary and the treasurer were given. Mrs. E. M. Williams, chairman of the finance committee, discussed the 1921 budget. All present joined in songs led by Miss Helen Fair. Excellent refreshments were served. Some interesting facts gathered from the reports were that 437 people were served with lunches during the month of March, and that the cost was so carefully planned that the balance in the cafeteria treasury at the end of the month was only $11.09. The membership committee reported 25 new members for the month. Miss French, field secretary, reported that The Dalles association easily ranks first of any of the town associations of forty states. Tentative plans are being made for a girls' summer camp in some pleasant place, accessible from The Dalles.

Address on Sociology.

On Wednesday, April 6, the Congregational Men's club, met for the monthly dinner and address. A large body of men was present and partook of a sumptuous meal which was prepared by the ladies of the Junior Aid society. After the dinner the club was privileged to listen to a scholarly and well delivered address on the interesting subject of sociology, by President R. F. Clark, of Pacific University, Forest Grove. The club hopes to have as its next speaker Mayor Baker of Portland.

Reception to New Members.

On Thursday, April 14, the Congregational church will tender a reception to all the new members who have been received since the coming of the present pastor. The 90 new members are expected to be present.

The reception will be held in the parsonage at 8 o'clock. A program will be rendered, and refreshments served. All prospective members are also invited.

Sunday School Social.

The young married people's Sunday school class of the Christian church, met with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lee at their home Wednesday evening. A pleasant social time was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Billikin Club.

Williams, Mrs. Bert Thomas, Mrs. F. S. Gannett, Mrs. G. C. Moore, Mrs. W. L. Crichton, Mrs. E. R. Lyda, Mrs. Roy Entler, Mrs. John Barnett, and Mrs. H. A. Harden. Mrs. West won the high score at bridge and Mrs. Moore the April fool prize.

Rebekahs Meet.

A delightful time was enjoyed by the Rebekahs at their lodge room last night, when a reception was given, honoring Mrs. Lulu D. Crandall, Mrs. Mary Ward and Dr. O. D. Doane who are the only charter members of the lodge in the city at the present time. About 200 people were present. A delightful program was rendered, consisting of a solo by F. M. Sexton, a reading by Laura Bonney, a solo by Miss Edith Bugger, a reading by Mary Aldrich, a history of the local Rebekah lodge by Miss Dora Sexton, and a roll-call of the members. The local lodge is known as Azalea Lodge No. 99. Dr. Doane in former years suggested the name "Azalea" which was adopted. It was particularly fitting therefore when each of the charter members were presented last night with a beautiful flowering azalea. Mrs. D. D. Bolton made the presentation address and Dr. Doane responded in a very appropriate manner. Elaborate refreshments were served in the banquet room.

"WAY DOWN EAST"

(Review.)

Sitting for two hours and a half, tensely interested, sometimes laughing, sometimes tearful eyed, Casino patrons last night enjoyed "Way Down East," the super screen drama produced by D. W. Griffith. The story as adapted to the screen is a mixture of comedy and pathos. It is a human document as well as a photograph. It is life with its tragedy and its joys, its thrills and its drab moments.

Griffiths, the producer poet has taken an old, old story and made a classic of it, so gripping that it easily ranks as one of the two or three great pictures of the year.

Anna Moore, a poor relation goes to live with rich relatives in the city. Lennox Sanderson, man-about-town, who specializes in charming women, sees her and falls for her charm. She is something different and his jaded appetite is revived.

Under cover of a mock marriage, he accomplishes her ruin and then heartlessly turns her adrift. A child is born which dies shortly after birth.

Anna is kicked out by one of the "holier than thou" brigade in the person of the landlady. Anna seeks work. She finds it at Squire Bartlett's.

But wagging tongues loose her dark past—and she is denounced and ejected by the Squire, not, however, until she has won the heart of Seth Holcomb, one of the Bartlett household.

Anna is turned out at the moment the man who caused her undoing is a guest at Squire Bartlett's table. Tense drama is just here enacted. Anna tells the other half of the story. Seth tries to kill the breaker of women's hearts.

Out into a driving storm goes the frail Anna. Seth and the whole countryside seeks her. Finally Anna falls exhausted upon the ice of a river. Then the ice goes out. Anna inert lies upon a great ice cake as it drifts towards the falls where death lurks.

The rescue scene is so vivid that one forgets one is viewing a picture. It seems actual life. Yes, Seth rescues Anna, leaping from floating ice cake to floating ice cake just above the falls.

Real—absolutely, it is real. The fight between Seth and Lennox Sanderson is so actual that cries escape the lips of the spectators and many hands are clenched.

That is the story briefly, side lights eliminated. But it is not the story. Only a Griffith can tell the story.

The picturization is wonderfully, beautifully done.

Lillian Gish who plays the role of Anna Moore, Lowell Sherman who takes the character of Lennox Sanderson, Porter Strong as Seth Holcomb, George Neville as the country constable carry forward the story by means of high art.

But the entire cast is worthy of mention.

A six-piece orchestra which accompanies the production, sympathetically interpreted the scenes of the play.

"Way Down East," will be shown again at the Casino theater tonight, Sunday and Monday.
