Fire Does Slight Damage — Fire originating from a coal oil stove late yesterday afternoon resulted in the calling of the volunteer fire department to the home of Mrs. A. J. The following high school students assisted in this work: Vernon Allen, Helen Williams, Hazel Britton and Florence Saunders.

Kiddies Suffer from Poison Oak—This is out-door time. Hikes, flower picking parties and out-door play are the popular diversion with the children of the city. As a result, many of them are suffering severely from the effects of poison oak. A local druggist says that if they will use several applications of glyco-thymoline and peroxide, in equal proportions, their troubles will vanish.

Local Girl, Y. W. C. A. Secretary—Looking at a picture of a class of Japanese Sunday school children, taken in Japan, friends yesterday were surprised to see the picture of Miss Martha Wheelon, formerly of The Dalles, included in the group. Miss Wheelon is with the Y. W. C. A. as a foreign secretary, being at the present time stationed in India. At the time of the taking of the picture, she was with the Y. W. C. A. in Japan.

FIERY, ITCHY ECZEMA HEALED RIGHT UP BY APPLYING SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even to fiery, itchy eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

Real Estate--Markets--Financial

With only one deal of any size consummated by local real estate men during the last week, all join in agreeing the week to be one of the duller on record so far this year. The one deal was reported by The Dalles Realty company. It involved the sale of a modern six-room house in Fourth street from Ray Harper to Alexander McNabb, a Sherman county rancher who plans to move to The Dalles soon. Approximately $4,200 was paid for the property.

County transactions, recorded in warranty deeds at the court house, continue in unabated numbers, however. The majority of these deals are put over without the aid of real estate dealers.

A number of persons who are building homes in the city at the present time are violating the law in doing so. City Recorder D. L. Cates said this morning. City ordinances require that all persons take out building permits before constructing any kind of a building inside of the city limits. These city laws are not being lived up to, according to Cates, who enumerated several persons within his personal knowledge who are building homes without having first secured permits.

Cates declared that he had taken the matter up with Chief of Police Frank Heater and that arrests may be made unless immediate action is forthcoming. A building permit was issued to C. Haydon yesterday, calling for the construction of a small house, the cost of which is not to exceed $500.

Practically all of the county agents in eastern Oregon have adopted work along the following lines: (1) adoption of Grimm alfalfa, (2) application of sulphur to alfalfa, (3) silos, (4) pest control, (5) better livestock.

Many other plans were adopted in different counties. These are common, however to most counties and are of fundamental importance from an economic standpoint.

For instance, there are more than 50,000 acres of alfalfa land the production of which may be increased from 20 to 50 percent by the use of Grimm alfalfa.

There are 100,000 acres of alfalfa which will return a ton per acre for every dollar expended for sulphur or land plaster.

The cost of beef, wool and dairy production can be reduced from 20 to 50 percent by feeding ensilage, figuring the cost of ensilage production and feeding value in comparison with hay crops.

In some districts in certain counties, pests, chiefly rabbits and ground squirrels, are destroying more range and crops than the livestock. The Klamath County Farm bureau handled 10½ tons of poison last year for its members at a great reduction in cost. In some counties farm bureau members instead of purchasing livestock indiscriminately at public sales and from speculators, pool their orders and have members of the organization select stock desired.

With difficult financial situations facing the farmers these efficiency factors become more important than ever.

David F. Houston, commenting today on the second survey of national conditions, just completed by the Fidelity and Deposit Company, said: "The survey indicates that the business world is still feeling its way, but with increasing confidence and with the conviction that the worst has passed. The country has successfully borne the strain caused by most notable drop in prices, particularly of a vast volume of raw materials, and has weathered a trying period of liquidation."

"The demand for finished products has not developed to the point where our factories feel justified in taking the requisite quantity of our surplus raw materials to furnish the necessary relief to their producers, but there are indications of a change in this direction. Business men realize that forced action, based on artificial optimism, may lead to unwise action and produce further embarrassment. The foreign situation has not shown the expected improvement, and continued difficulties are experienced in discovering an effective European market for our commodities."

"This survey does point to certain favorable domestic conditions. The cost of living has appreciably diminished. Building operations in a number of districts tend to increase. There have recently been no strikes of consequence. Greater productivity of labor per man is reported from all districts."
