COUNTY FACES

"Another thing: when The Dalles-California highway is completed, it automatically becomes a state road, and as such is maintained by the state.

"Sherman county has voted money and is going to have a road. This is Wasco county's big opportunity. Get busy."

Commissioner Barratt spoke briefly, telling of his experiences as a new member of the state highway commission. He said that he had a vision, as he was riding in the automobile which brought him over the Columbia River highway from Portland to The Dalles, of the greater eastern and central Oregon of the future.

Herbert Nunn, state highway engineer, told of the difficulties incurred in the construction of highways which would "stand up," and yet not cost more than the people could afford to pay.

County Judge J. T. Adkisson started the audience by declaring that the county people would really be getting $1.50 worth of road for 50 cents, if the bond issue is carried.

It was announced at the banquet that a special election will be called for some time during the next few weeks, the entire cost of the election to be borne by The Dalles-Wasco county chamber of commerce.

made by N. G. Hedin, P. J. Stadelman, H. C. Rooper and F. B. Ingels. About 100 persons were present at the banquet.

THE BEST BIG SISTER FORMER EMPRESS

The constant warfare between the crown prince and the emperor caused her much worry and she spent much time in attempting to reconcile their many differences.

During the war she was thrown into the background by her husband. She was said to grieve genuinely over the suffering caused by the war and did a great deal to comfort those who lost relatives.

Even in the latter service her personality was against her and her well intentioned visits to the hospital wards were not a great success.

When the final disaster came she immediately followed the kaiser into exile, continued her role as the faithful hausfrau.

Their troubles had wrecked her health, however, and shortly after the flight to Amerongen she was seized with the first attack of heart trouble which threatened her life.

The suicide of her youngest son, Prince Joachim, was a severe blow and it was feared she would not rally from the illness which followed.

Several times later the entire family was called to her bedside. The crown prince came from his asylum at Wieringen and their other sons and the Princess Victoria Louise came from their scattered homes in Germany.

BERLIN, April 11—Former Kaiser Wilhelm and the crown prince will not be permitted to attend the funeral of the former kaiserin at Potsdam, it was announced today.

STUDENTS AT U. OF O. DISAGREE WITH WEBSTER

EUGENE, Or., April 11.—Violent disagreements with the late Mr. Webster, he of dictionary fame, developed at the University of Oregon as regularly as vocabulary tests are called in the freshman classes in English composition.

Following are some of the more startling revisions of the English language accomplished in the last examination:

- "Barnacle"—An eye piece affected by Englishmen. "Trite"—A kind of fish. "Lining"—A cow's stomach. "Altruist"—1. A mountain climber. 2. One who does not believe in future life. "Larynx"—A precious stone. "Lave"—Gaelic for "leave." "Asterik"—1. A beautiful flower. 2. An insect. "Chairovovant"—A lawyer.

MONTGOMERY ACQUITTED; DISAGREEMENT ON VEST

SPOKANE, April 11.—William C. Vest, dry officer, charged with James C. Montgomery with the slaying of Ernest Emley, war hero, at Keller, Wash., last May, was in Tacoma today, at liberty on a $1000 bond on a manslaughter charge.

Vest will be re-tried at the next federal court term, according to present plans.

TOOTLE HORN TRUMPET MELODIOUSLY; HI, HI!

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Warning to prospective Oriental tourists to be prepared to "tootle the horn trumpet melodiously" was issued today by Purser H. E. Palmer of the China mail steamship China.

Palmer exhibited as a basis for his warning the following translation of Japanese police instructions to motorists:

"When a passenger of foot hove in sight, tootle the horn trumpet to him melodiously at first. If he still obstacles your passage, tootle him with vigor and express by word of mouth the warning 'Hi, Hi!'

"Beware of the wandering horse that he do not take fright as you pass him by. Do not explode the exhaust box at him. Go soothingly by or stop by the roadside 'till he pass away."

"Give big space to the festive dog making sport in the roadway. Avoid entanglement of dog with your wheel spokes.

"Go soothingly on the grease mud as there lurks the skid demon.

"Press brake of the foot as you roll around the corners to save the collapse and tie up."

LORD MAYOR OF CORK CANNOT STAY IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Donal O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who arrived in Newport News in January as a stowaway and without a passport, must leave the country.

Secretary of Labor Davis made this clear today in a formal statement. He announced that Secretary of State Hughes had denied the plea of O'Callaghan to be allowed political asylum in the United States.

O'Callaghan's status is that of an alien seaman. Davis showed who was allowed to land only temporarily while searching for a berth to re-ship.

RAILROADER SHOT IN CHEST BY DETECTIVE

PORTLAND, April 11—George E. Wagner, Vancouver railroader, is in the police emergency hospital with a bullet in his chest and Captain J. G. McClelland, special agent of the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railroad is a fugitive from justice, following a shooting scrape last night at a downtown intersection.

The police say that the shooting followed an all-night drinking session. Wagner is expected to recover. Detectives are today hunting for McClelland.

FIVE RAILS WOULD BUILD UNION FREIGHT DEPOT

PORTLAND, April 11—The application of five railroads to construct immediately the first unit of a $2,000,000 union freight terminal, will be considered by the city council at a special session to be called immediately, Mayor George L. Baker announced today.

If approved by the council, the matter will go to the people at an election on June 7, the mayor said, inasmuch as the railroads request relinquishment to them of public properties, consisting of parts of 30 city streets.

The railroads behind the project are the Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Great Northern and Spokane, Portland and Seattle.

CONGRESS MEETS

Here is how the program lines up in advance of Harding's message, which, it is expected, will limit the legislative agenda to the most important domestic subjects, plus ratification of the Colombian treaty.

Enactment of a temporary or "emergency" tariff, for the benefit of American agricultural interests.

Revision of the tax laws, with particular attention to the so-called war taxes, including elimination, if possible, of the excess profits tax, and substitution for it of one or more forms of taxation; revision of the income tax schedules.

Enactment of a new permanent tariff in place of the Underwood-Simmons law, with schedules as high or higher than those of the Payne-Aldrich and Dingley laws.

Enactment of a soldier bonus law, providing for a number of kinds of adjusted compensation to ex-service men, including cash payments, insurance, land grants, home ownership, etc. This will require enactment of revenue legislation to provide the money, although the plan is to defer operation of the law for some time.

Passage of laws reorganizing certain government activities, among which may be the combination of various departments and reduction of personnel.

Consideration of the transportation problem, with probable amendment of the transportation act of 1920.

These are the outstanding features of the program, though Harding may decide to include a number of others, among them enactment of anti-profiteering laws to replace those sections declared unconstitutional this spring by the supreme court; measures desired by the farmers to enable them to obtain credit more easily, etc.

While the house is putting in motion the machinery necessary to pass the emergency tariff and anti-dumping bills, the senate is to consider the Colombian treaty, under an agreement to vote on the eighth day after the session begins. There may be a lively tilt over this pact, particularly over efforts of Senator Lodge to have it considered in secret.

The senate also will have a large number of nominations to consider, among them that of former Representative John J. Esch of Wisconsin, who failed of confirmation as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission at the extra session of the senate in March. The shipping board and other important posts are also to be filled.

Indicating their intention of putting the Harding program through as quickly as possible, senate leaders have determined to impose the closure rule, limiting debate, with respect to the emergency tariff bill. This may cause a long wrangle, with the democrats stoutly opposing it.

Development of Harding's foreign policy may engage the senate's attention before the session ends, though the present desire is to dispose first of domestic questions. The question of a separate peace with Germany, through adoption of the Knox resolution or some substitute repealing the declaration of war, will come to the front soon after the session convenes, no matter what Harding's position on the question is. There is strong sentiment for adoption of such a resolution, and its discussion will doubtless revive in a measure at least the league of nations debate.

WASHINGTON, April 11—Several hundred bills were today introduced in the house. An emergency tariff bill was introduced by Representative Young of North Dakota. It carries protective rates on wheat, wool, meat and agricultural products.

Representative Good of Iowa, chairman of the house appropriations committee, presented a budget bill, a reform favored by the administration.

Other bills of importance introduced or ready for introduction are: An immigration bill, in the form vetoed by former President Wilson, a soldier's bonus bill, introduced by Representative Fordney, chairman of the house ways and means committee, tee, a consolidation of soldier relief agencies bill, recommended by the Dawes' commission, army and navy appropriation bills.

CITY DIRECTORS

(Continued From Page 1.) the position in The Dalles. He charged that the only reason his campaign for a budget fund of $11,000 and a membership of 500 members had failed was because local business men had failed to cooperate with him in putting over the drive.

Only three members of the old board of directors did any work in the campaign, he declared, but without much help the campaign had resulted in a budget fund of nearly $8,000 and a membership of approximately 450 persons.

Upon motion by T. H. West, it was finally decided to employ Van Schoick for another two months. It at the end of that time he has not shown results sufficient to justify the directors to change their minds, he will be given 30 days in which to find another position.

The following officers were elected to head the county-city chamber during the remainder of the year:

H. S. Rice, president; R. D. Chatfield, Mosler, first vice-president; N. G. Hedin, Wap'nita, second vice-president; N. A. Bonn, treasurer.
